AYER'S PILLS.
FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC.
There has long existed a public demand for an effective purgative pill which could be relied on as sure and perfectly safe in its operation. This has been prepared to meet that demand, and an extensive trial of its virtues has conclusively shown with what success it accomplishes the purpose designed. It is easy to make a physical pill, but not easy to make the best of all pills—one which should have none of the objections, but all the advantages, of every other. This has been attempted here, and with what success we would respectfully submit to the public to decide. It has been so constructed for the patient's safety that almost every purgative medicine is unnecessary and irritating to the bowels. This is not many of those pills so much gripping and violent in the system as to more than counterbalance the good to be derived from them. These pills produce no irritation or pain, unless it arise from previously existing obstruction or derangement in the bowels. Being purely vegetable, no harm can arise from their use in any quantity; but we believe that any medicine should be taken judiciously. Minute directions for their use are given on the box. Among the complaints which have been speedily cured by them, we may mention Liver Complaint, in its various forms of Indigestion, Jaundice, Languor and Loss of Appetite, Flatulency, Irritability, Bilious Headache, Bilious Fever, Fever and Ague, Pain in the Side and Loins, in truth, all those cases but the consequence of diseased action in the liver. As an aperient, they afford prompt and sure relief in Constipation, Piles, Catarrh, Hemorrhoids, Stricture, and Scoury, Colds with soreness of the Throat, Ulcers and impurities of the blood; in short, any and every case where a purgative is required. They have also produced some singularly successful results in Rheumatism, Gout, Dropsy, Gravel, Erysipelas, Prolapsus of the Rectum, Pains in the Back, Stomach, and Spleen. They should be freely taken in the spring of the year, to purify the blood and prepare the system for the change of seasons. An occasional dose stimulates the stomach; it bounds into healthy action, and restores the appetite and vigor. They purify the blood, and by their stimulant action on the circulatory system, renovate the strength of the body, and restore the wasted or diseased energies of the whole organism. Hence an occasional dose is advantageous, even though no serious derangement exists; but unnecessary dosing should never be resorted to, as every purgative medicine reduces the strength, when taken to excess. The thousand cases in which a physic is required cannot be enumerated here, but they suggest themselves to the reason of every body; and it is confidently believed that this pill will answer a better purpose than any other which has hitherto been available to mankind. When their virtues are once known, the public will no longer doubt what remedy to employ when in need of a cathartic medicine.

AYER'S PILLS.
FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC.
There has long existed a public demand for an effective purgative pill which could be relied on as sure and perfectly safe in its operation. This has been prepared to meet that demand, and an extensive trial of its virtues has conclusively shown with what success it accomplishes the purpose designed. It is easy to make a physical pill, but not easy to make the best of all pills—one which should have none of the objections, but all the advantages, of every other. This has been attempted here, and with what success we would respectfully submit to the public to decide. It has been so constructed for the patient's safety that almost every purgative medicine is unnecessary and irritating to the bowels. This is not many of those pills so much gripping and violent in the system as to more than counterbalance the good to be derived from them. These pills produce no irritation or pain, unless it arise from previously existing obstruction or derangement in the bowels. Being purely vegetable, no harm can arise from their use in any quantity; but we believe that any medicine should be taken judiciously. Minute directions for their use are given on the box. Among the complaints which have been speedily cured by them, we may mention Liver Complaint, in its various forms of Indigestion, Jaundice, Languor and Loss of Appetite, Flatulency, Irritability, Bilious Headache, Bilious Fever, Fever and Ague, Pain in the Side and Loins, in truth, all those cases but the consequence of diseased action in the liver. As an aperient, they afford prompt and sure relief in Constipation, Piles, Catarrh, Hemorrhoids, Stricture, and Scoury, Colds with soreness of the Throat, Ulcers and impurities of the blood; in short, any and every case where a purgative is required. They have also produced some singularly successful results in Rheumatism, Gout, Dropsy, Gravel, Erysipelas, Prolapsus of the Rectum, Pains in the Back, Stomach, and Spleen. They should be freely taken in the spring of the year, to purify the blood and prepare the system for the change of seasons. An occasional dose stimulates the stomach; it bounds into healthy action, and restores the appetite and vigor. They purify the blood, and by their stimulant action on the circulatory system, renovate the strength of the body, and restore the wasted or diseased energies of the whole organism. Hence an occasional dose is advantageous, even though no serious derangement exists; but unnecessary dosing should never be resorted to, as every purgative medicine reduces the strength, when taken to excess. The thousand cases in which a physic is required cannot be enumerated here, but they suggest themselves to the reason of every body; and it is confidently believed that this pill will answer a better purpose than any other which has hitherto been available to mankind. When their virtues are once known, the public will no longer doubt what remedy to employ when in need of a cathartic medicine.
