

When a son of Britania departs from her shore
And the home of his kindred is hid from his sight,
Gentle ripples on memory's tide shall restore
The lov'd haunts of his childhood with softened delight.