Mr. Hamilton, seconded by Alderman Bell, in amendment, receive the Episcopal Charge. The following, 79 in number, answered to their names, the roll being called by his Lordship's Chaplain, the Rev. H. J. Grasett, follows: Yeas, 10; Nays, 9. Carried in the affirmative by a A.M.:—

The Bishop, seated in his episcopal chair, and surrounded by the Archdeacons and other clergy of the diocese, proceeded to deliver his charge, which occupied about three hours and a half, and was attended to with the most intense interest, by both clergy and laity. The several important topics which the address embraced were explained and illustrated with a clearness and precision, and in many places with an emphasis well calculated to make the impression intended to be produced. The several interests of the diocese—its extent, revenue, number of clergy, and future prospects, were all lucidly and circumstantially dwelt upon. The present state of religious feeling both in and out of the Church, at home and abroad, was adverted to with singular prudence, discrimination and ability; but at the same time we are persuaded that no part of his Lordship's charge was listened to with more deference and respect, than his truly paternal, kind, and affectionate address to his clergy, towards the close; we are persuaded that these passages made a deep impression upon all present, and when the charge is published will be read with feelings of reverence and love by every member of the Church.

Addresses from the Bishop and his clergy will be forwarded to his Excellency the Governor General, and the two venerable Societies for the Promotion of Christian Knowledge, and the Propagation of the Gospel in Foreign parts.

The Rev. G. R. F. Grout who, we grieve to say, was seized with a severe fainting fit in St. James's Church, during the Visitation Sermon yesterday, has not suffered, we are glad to hear, any permanently in Jurious effects from the sudden attack.

This Clerk read the minutes of the 27th instant. A communication from His Worship the Mayor withdrawing his verbal tender of his resignation was read.

Toronto, May 28th, 1847.

Sir, In reference to the verbal tender of my resignation of the council, made me under an equally strong and painful sense of duty, I beg state that several of my friends have objected to the propriety of the course taken by me, in consequence of the resolution which was adopted containing in itself no breach of the settled rules or Course taken by me, in consequence of the resolution rules or Constitution of the Council.

Although I consider myself perfectly justified in my course from the fact that a standing order of the Council was violated, and from the avowed determination of the originator of the resolution to follow it up, by calling for the immediate action of the Council in the matter in question, independent of and with-Council in the matter in question, independent of and with-reference to the Finance Committee, I am constrained to yield to the strong opinion of so many of my friends, that the tender of my resignation should have been deferred to the next stage of the contemplated proceedings, had anything further been attempted; wholly actuated by a sincere desire to uphold the credit and character of the Corporation, especially in their Financial operation. Financial operations, and to prevent the unseemly spectacle of a departure from settled constitutional rules, in a matter connected with the appropriation of money, I freely avow that any practical violation of our rules, such as I reasonably conceived was content. contemplated, should never be sanctioned by the Council long as I had the honour to preside over its deliberations. The strong expression of the feeling of my friends in and out the Council, as to the premature nature of the course puraled by me, coupled with my own sincere desire to prevent anecessary trouble or embarrassment, convince me that my compared to the course, on the present occasion, is to withdraw the restation which I tendered last evening.

AWFUL CONFLAGRATION. Destruction of the Scotch Free Church and ten or twelve Dwelling Houses and Shops — Detected Attempt at Incendiarism.

If any doubts existed in our mind as to the existence of incendiarism, and the disgraceful condition of our Fire Department so totally paralyzing the energy of the members of the several Fire Companies, they would have been entirely removed by the circumstances attending the terrible visitation of Fire which occurred on Sunday night, resulting in a vast destruction of property. About a quarter before twelve o'clock on Sunday night, a fire broke out in the rear of the buildings forming the north-west corner of Richmond Street and Yonge street. It seems to have been perceived much about the same moment by Mr. Carter and Dt. Burnside, in Richmond street, and by some persons in Mr. Mulholland's in Yonge street. In a very few minutes it caught Wiley's and Carter's frame houses, and the minutes it caught whey's and Carter's frame noises, and the numerous wooden crections at the back of Mulholland's.—With amazing rapidity it extended westward to the Scotch Free Church, and northward towards Mr. Leask's, involving in its progress every house on Yonge street as far as Leask's.—Harris's two houses, Leonard's, Wilkinson's, and others whose names we do not just now remember, were utterly consumed. Mr. Leask owed the safety of his premises to the building being well built of brick and having a tinned roof, while the back shed was saved by the unceasing use of a small hand-engine in his yard, supplied with water by buckets from the other side of Queen street.

The two brick bouses (belonging to Mr. Mulholland, we believe,) in Yonge street, and Mr. Wiley's brick house on Richmond street, had the roofs and upper stories completely burned, but the small frame building forming the corner house, was uninjured, being completely protected by the two brick buildings already mentioned, though they suffered severely.

The Free Kirk made a fearful blaze. Most fortunately the interest form the first elements was need a prompt use of, and by to be paid well, but compelled to attend. We most earnestly call on the Citizens to enquire into these disgraceful facts.—

The Council should be urged to take some mea-ures to ensure a supply of water. We have before suggested the necessity of the tank of the Waterworks being kept to a certain height and inspected daily or oftener. Five Hydrants were within a ver inspected daily or oftener. Five Hydrants were within a vershort distance, each of these ought to supply two Carts at once. The state of the Engines is at once within the power of the Council to ascertain and remedy. We do not hesitate to declare that if the Engines and their apparatus had been in proper order, and the supply of water had been what it ought to have been, and what it might be, not one fourth of the damage actually sustained could have accrued; the brick buildings with two been enginely seven devel the fraces beyond. night have been entirely saved, and the frame houses along Yonge Street would have escaped with only partial damage.

The most distressing part of our task yet remains, and that The most distressing part of our task yet remains, and that is, to state that there is the most convincing proof that this event was the effect of incendiarism. We are informed from what we consider excellent authority, that about 10 o'clock a small fire was observed under an outside staircase, near the same premises, which was at once extinguished. Dr. Burnside and others saw this commence, adjoining Wiley's carpenter shop, where no fire had been; and it burst up too wildly and too suddenly to leave any doubt of its not being accidental. Will it be believed that during the raging of this fire, a basket of shavings with matches was placed in a lone entrance near the back of the Scotch Secession Church, close to Mr. Soady's back fence, which was most providentially detected by Mrs. Soady!—but for this, another equally fearful conflagration must have taken place on the south side of Richmond street. It is said that an attempt was made about the same time to set fire to that an attempt was made about the same time to set fire to Mr. Platt's houses in Colborne street.

Mr. Platt's houses in Colborne street.

A considerable portion of the property destroyed was insured, principally in the "Mutual" and "Montreal"; but in no instance, as far as we know, will the insurance cover the damage. The flakes of fire and burning shingles were carried by the wind to a great distance: a considerable quantity fell near the Grange, and on the houses in that neighbourhood. The roof of Dr. Trenor's house took fire, and the roof of Dill's inn was on fire in two places: many other roofs were threatened, but owing to watchfulness they were promptly extinguished.

P.S.—We have heard that some of the Insurance Offices will take up city debentures to the amount of three or four

THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL.—It is with the greatest pleasure we learn, that her Majesty has been pleased to confer upon His Excellency the Governor General, one of the highest honorary distinctions within the gift of the Crown, and one most emphatically appurtenant to it, as "the fountain of honour."four wear the riband which ancient custom honoured, and which more doubtful tradition ascribes to "the Garter" of the paramour of the greatest of the Plantagenets. But, whatever be the origin, these high and heroic distinctions are consecrated in the minds and hearts of all men who love their "father-land." It is, therefore, with pleasure we learn that her Majesty has been pleased to confer upon His Excellency the Earl of Elgin such a mark of her highest favour. The recent death of His Grace the Duke of Argyle having left a vacancy in the list of the Knights of the Thistle, it will be filled up by the election of the Earl of Elgin and Kincardine,—an honour deserved by his Excellency's past and successful labours in another great colony, and an earnest of hope and confidence as respects his administration in this.—Montreal Gazette.

We wisdom is to be measured by years, we believe it will be found that there are some precious old fools in the world. If we are to believe Mr. D'Israeli, all the great exploits performed in the world have been done by very young men, and this not only in military, but also in civil and ecclesiastical affairs. Can the Herald point out from among the members on the Conservative of the House a better man, or one more enjoying the esteem of the party? That is the question.—Courier.

The Hon. Henry Sherwood has been long involution, and among us. By his determined opposition to the union of the two provinces, and his bold and consistent conservative principles on all occasions, he has acquired the confidence and steady support of the great mass of the conservatives of Upper Canada.

Mr. J. H. Cameron has given promise of ability of the highest order; and although young as a politician, one of his first steps has exhibited tact and discretion, if not self-denial, of a high description. We allude to his refusal of the Attorney-Generalship when proffered to him. We trust that as the University f King's College once found in him a powerful and convincing advocate, it will still possess in him a conscientious and unflinching friend, ready to meet the falsehoods and abuse which certain parties are in the habit of lavishing upon it, for their own selfish ends, with those overwhelming arguments which are based the influence of the widened current, and was precipitated over the falls before it was possible to render the slightest assistance, or to take any measures to avoid the catastrophe. To those on the falls before it was possible to render the slightest assistance, or to take any measures to avoid the catastrophe. To those of us of British birth, it must be peculiarly pleasing when we call to mind the bloody-minded philippics against our race, our institutions, our sovereign, our very name, of which this Mr. Turcotte used, in times past, to deliver himself. We can understand the thing when men commit a political crime, which is to be to their advantage, however much we may condemn their want of morality,—but we cannot fathom the wisdom or rather the stupidity which plunges men into a terrible degradation, not for nothing even, but for a positive injury to themselves. We write these sentences with pain and sorrow—we have once and again warned the government that honesty was their only course; the advice has been fruitless, and we are now compelled to record an instance of dishonesty, and political turpitude, that can never be forgiven. The present ministry has been guilty of many tortuous acts, but this is the worst of all.

THE RECEIVER GENERAL.—It was mentioned in our last, among other rumors, that John A. Macdonald, Esq., had received the appointment of Receiver General of the Province.—This turns out to be a fact. He will not be opposed in his reclection for Kingston, which is expected to take place the present week. Mr. Macdonald commenced the study of the law in this town under the late L. P. McPherson. He early gave indications of solid abilities, and that self-reliance, which have been the means of his rapid advancement in his profession.—And although it is an unusual change of fortune, for a poor and friendless boy of yesterday to be called to-day to fill one of the most responsible offices in the Province, yet we know of no one among the Conservative party in the house who is really more deserving of advancement, or who would be likely to fill the office more efficiently; and, we may add, one who would in all probability be more popular with the country. For, if not materially altered since he began his career, he is not of that bigoted and intolerant turn of mind which is too often the will take up city dehentures to the amount of three or four hundred pounds or more, on condition that the proceeds be applied to the purchase of new Engines and apparatus.—Patriot.

Fire.—The Grist Mill, with the Carding Machine, &c. at Weston, the property of Mr. Rowland Burr, was, on the afternoon of Saturday last, totally consumed by fire, together with their entire machinery; nothing now is left but the walls, which were of stone. The damage may be estimated at £4,000, no insurance. It is supposed to be the work of an incendiary, as no fire had been in the premises for three or four days previously.—Patriot.

Assizes.—Owing to the death of Mr. Justice Hagerman, Chief Justice, Sunat, West of England Broad Cloths, Cassimeres The Suscessives. The Associates were Wm. Sunat, Wm. Ketcheson, G. N. Ridley, and Henry Raldwin Esquires. The Grand Jury was addressed by the Chief Justice, in his usual clear manner. He congratulated them on the apparent absence of crime, as compared with the great increase in other districts. Expounded the law of arson, por which they would have to deliberate. He spoke of this assignment and on moderate terms.

Solicitor-General East is not yet made. Mr. Turcotte, it is not improved the world. The foreman of the Grand Jury is Francis M'Annany, Esq.

A true bill has been found against Parker Mills, for the affirm in the streets some three weeks since. The jury acquite the world. The foreman of the Grand Bar, of Canadian origin, was or was likely to be, in a condition to increase throughout the world. The foreman of the Canada Bar, of C themselves would be pretty well puzzled to defend the appoint has cost the lives of an estimable clergyman and two other valuable residents in the Township of Feuelon, viz., the Rev. form the carters kept it going about three-fourths of the supply from the carters kept it going about three-fourths of the communication between the Assistant and Engine, the Firemen had to hand the water from the Assistant to the Engine in buckets. The men felt deeply the loss of time thus incurred—they shewed they did not complain of work—but they ought not to be exposed to work for which there ought to have been no occasion. The "British Amorica" was pretty well aupplied by the carters.

We are firmly persuaded that a number of carters were not in attendance, and the Police ought to look to this. They ought to be paid well, but compelled to attend. We most earnestly make one disgusted forever with all politics and politicians, to the Falls before it was possible to render the slightest assistance,
