

THEY WONT ENLIST.—The New York World, in an article upon the situation, and the necessity of new men and new measures to work the ship of state, says:—What, then, is the situation? The fact states us in the face that the people believe their blood and treasure to have been wasted. They believe that the mismanagement of the Treasury Department has cost the nation as much as the expenses of the war, and that it will cost us more. They believe that the feebleness of the Navy Department not only crippled our navy and our commerce, but, by leaving Charleston in the hands of the rebels, reinforced their armies with money and the munitions of war which have augmented their victories, and lightened their defeats, and sustained to this hour an otherwise almost hopeless cause. They believe that the blunders of the War Department have crippled our generals, botched their campaigns, and insured us disaster. They see to-day such danger of foreign intervention as has never before dared to menace us, and four that they may be asked to rally to arms against a foreign foe, powerful on sea and land—against perhaps a foreign alliance which might defy the world beside in arms, by the men who have been unable to conquer our feeble foe at home. In the face of these facts, in face of the need for men to reap the peaceful harvests of our fields, in face of the need for workmen to supply the places of those who have gone to wield in the battle-field the scythe of war, the country is asked for three hundred thousand more volunteers. The three hundred thousand may be called but they will not come. At least enlistments will not be sufficiently numerous or prompt to insure the nation's success or safety. The result thus far proves it. The result of the next ten days recruiting will make it so palpable that none can fail to see it. This fact must be looked at. It is of no use to blind our eyes. The people may consent to acquiesce in the decision of the President. They will not consent to shut their eyes to its results. It would be sheer folly not to foresee what is inevitable. Their determination that the rebellion shall be put down is as unalterable to-day as it was one year ago.—What, then, is to be done? Without reinforcing our armies promptly—without making a speedy conquest of the rebel capital (to say nothing of the prolongation of the war, its miseries and its expense), we shall, in all those objects which we hope to accomplish by the war, fail. The failure of our army to take Richmond must be retrieved by its prompt capture, or the danger of foreign intervention doubles daily. The failure to hold the seacoast which we have taken and occupied, the failure to possess and occupy the channel through which free communication and valuable supplies from abroad are still had by the rebels, the failure to occupy every southern seaport, will give to intervention its sharpest sting and its most disastrous practical effect. We can checkmate the plans of our enemies abroad and conquer the enemy at home only by an immediate and generous reinforcement of our armies. The call for volunteers under present circumstances will not accomplish this end. But the end must be reached—if not in one way then in another. There is no other way but to resort to drafting, and the sooner this is done the better. Let the government not hesitate a single week.

GREAT BRITAIN. A MARRYING MAN.—At Oxford, John Ashford, alias George Smith, John Hill, J. W. Scott, has been committed to the assizes for bigamy, four times repeated. He was about to marry two other young women. THE COMMERCIAL TREATY WITH FRANCE.—The Times says:—Two years' experience of the Commercial Treaty with France have dispelled many exaggerated hopes and apprehensions. The influx of wines, brandies, silks, gloves, bronzes, and jewelry has not been so sudden or excessive as we expected; and the exportation of British produce, greatly as it has been stimulated, has increased less under the heads of coals and iron, and more under those of other commodities, than Mr. Cobden himself could have foretold. France has become a sturdier customer than before, but her demands have been rather for our manufactures and colonial goods than for our metals and minerals, and have affected pretty equally every branch in our commerce. Such, at least, is the inference to be drawn from a compendious little return just published by order of the House of Commons.

ARCHBISHOP KENRICK'S THEOLOGY, Complete in 5 vols. 8vo. Reduced in Price from $16 to $10. Now Ready, in 2 Vols. 8o. Roan, $4; Half Calf, $1 THEOLOGIA MORALIS, quam concinnavit Franciscus Patricius Kenrick, Archiepiscopus Baltimorensis, Secundus Curis Auctoris. We are happy in being able to announce, that we are now ready to furnish the complete body MORAL THEOLOGY, prepared by our Most Rev. Archbishop. The second edition from the press Mr. H. Dessain, Malines, is comprised in two volumes. It contains the matter of the former edition, which was in three volumes, and is considerably improved and enlarged. Constant reference is made to the laws and usages of our country, which must necessarily direct and modify the application of moral principles laid down by European divines. The relations of master and servant, which are scarcely touched on in foreign treatises, are here developed and defined. The various contracts in use among us are explained, and the respective obligations of the parties are discussed. In many other matters of practice, direction is afforded to the Missionary and Confessor, which is particularly adapted to local circumstances, inasmuch as the general discipline of the Church is mitigated by special concessions, or prevailing custom. Recently published, Uniform with the above, 3 Vols. 8o. Roan, $6; Half Calf, $9.

THEOLOGIA DOGMATICA, quam concinnavit Franciscus Patricius Kenrick, Archiepiscopus Baltimorensis, Secundus Curis Auctoris. The first edition of the Theologia Dogmatica being exhausted, a revised edition has been published, in the famous establishment of Malines, (now Mr. Dessain,) at Malines, Belgium, in conjunction with Messrs. Murphy & Co. The whole work, formerly consisting of four volumes, is now reduced to three, although considerable additions have been made to it, including an Elaborate Defence of the Dogma of the Immaculate Conception, and a Catalogue of the Fathers, and Ecclesiastical Writers, with an accurate discrimination of their genuine works, from others that have passed under their names. This work appears under the especial sanction of the Cardinal Archbishop of Malines, who has been pleased to signify a very high estimate of its merits. It is issued in a very neat style, in three volumes, of about 500 pages double column, 8vo., at the very low price of $2 per volume. This edition, though much enlarged, is reduced to $6 instead of $10—a little more than half the price of the former edition, so as to place it within the reach of Theological Seminaries, Students, &c., to whom a liberal discount will be made when purchased in quantities. Early orders respectfully solicited. MURPHY & CO., Publishers, Baltimore.
