Office of The Prime Minister
Province of Quebec

I sincerely wish to congratulate you on this very nice issue, which I have read with great interest. A publication of that kind is very much needed at the present time, and I have no hesitancy in saying that, if well managed, it will render great services to our municipalities also to every one who is interested in public affairs in our province.

I feel that you will render great services to those who are interested in the good administration of municipalities. You can give them the benefit of general experience regarding administration, accounting, finance and public works. I sincerely hope that your publication will be followed up very closely and that it will meet with all the success it deserves.
