

pro as you have heard and read the contra. I rely on your impartiality.

I have silenced all my patriotic feelings, and I have told myself that to acquaint other people with the truth, and to calm the conscience, is the noblest mission to which man can aspire.

I shall be happy if the reading of this pamphlet will accomplish the proposed aim. With this hope I remain,

Yours truly,

A. A. NOBILE,

Toronto, November, 1884.
