

“ Boat being had from your Vessel; was it tight? ” “ Did they know how to manage it? Or if they “ got to the Main-land, was there not the greatest “ Probability of their falling into the Hands of “ their most mortal Enemies the Eskimaux? ”

Ans. The Boat was a very indifferent one; but it was made as tight as the Carpenter could make it. They knew no more how to manage it, than what they had seen in going in the Boat in Wager River. The Eskimaux undoubtedly are very numerous there.

F I N I S.

of which
whether it
ought, to
lood Tide

rid, I can raits, than
were there
s no such low Beach
a narrow

l, that you
ken Lands,
. 63°. 20'.
did not ne-
in your Re-
The Rea-
ou was near
Main-land

Repulse Bay,
ent at; and
our Return
Opportuni-
l the Sail we ce; we were
n whether it

the Northern ashore? The “ Boat