

Parliament of Canada

Chambre des Communes du Canada

Bill C-82

Bill C-82

Canada Elections Act
Loi sur l'élection des députés
(Bill C-82)

Canada Elections Act
(Bill C-82)

1956, c. 29,
1955, c. 49,
1954, c. 23,
art. 45;
1952, c. 27,
art. 45, 46;
1951, c. 2,
art. 45, 46.

The purpose of this amendment is to provide for the publication of the results of the election of members of the House of Commons in the manner provided in the present Act.

The purpose of this amendment is to provide for the publication of the results of the election of members of the House of Commons in the manner provided in the present Act.

The purpose of this amendment is to provide for the publication of the results of the election of members of the House of Commons in the manner provided in the present Act.

The purpose of this amendment is to provide for the publication of the results of the election of members of the House of Commons in the manner provided in the present Act.

The purpose of this amendment is to provide for the publication of the results of the election of members of the House of Commons in the manner provided in the present Act.

The purpose of this amendment is to provide for the publication of the results of the election of members of the House of Commons in the manner provided in the present Act.

The purpose of this amendment is to provide for the publication of the results of the election of members of the House of Commons in the manner provided in the present Act.

The purpose of this amendment is to provide for the publication of the results of the election of members of the House of Commons in the manner provided in the present Act.

The purpose of this amendment is to provide for the publication of the results of the election of members of the House of Commons in the manner provided in the present Act.

The purpose of this amendment is to provide for the publication of the results of the election of members of the House of Commons in the manner provided in the present Act.

The purpose of this amendment is to provide for the publication of the results of the election of members of the House of Commons in the manner provided in the present Act.

The purpose of this amendment is to provide for the publication of the results of the election of members of the House of Commons in the manner provided in the present Act.

The purpose of this amendment is to provide for the publication of the results of the election of members of the House of Commons in the manner provided in the present Act.

The purpose of this amendment is to provide for the publication of the results of the election of members of the House of Commons in the manner provided in the present Act.