

A R T I C L E VII.

The King of Great Britain shall restore to France the Island of St. Lucia, and shall cede and guaranty to her that of Tobago.

A R T I C L E VIII.

The Most Christian King shall restore to Great Britain the Islands of Grenada and the Grenadines, St. Vincent's, Dominica, St. Christopher's, Nevis, and Montserrat; and the fortresses of those islands, conquered by the arms of Great Britain and by those of France, shall be restored in the same condition in which they were when the conquest of them was made; provided that the term of eighteen months, to be computed from the time of the ratification of the definitive treaty, shall be granted to the respective subjects of the Crowns of Great Britain and France who may have settled in the said islands, and in other places which shall be restored by the definitive treaty, to sell their estates, recover their debts, and to transport their effects, and retire, without being restrained on account of their religion, or any other pretence whatever, except in cases of debt, or of criminal prosecutions.