AWORKING LIBRARY

We are renewing the offer for another year, and if you are contemplating a move in this direction, it will pay you to investigate. It is unnecessary to dilate on the many advantages of this proposition. The number who have purchased during the past two years speaks volumes for its popularity.

We do not claim that this will give you a complete Law library, but we have no hesitation in saying that a judicious selection on your part will enable you to start out with a good working library, sufficient for the needs of a young practitioner. As your field widens, and your practice increases, have your library grow with you.

This library cannot be duplicated anywhere at the prices and terms we offer. The terms are easy, and you make your own selection.
