

The War Lords

over the world. And Greece is with him. It will be with him to-day more than ever, for there is no country, not even Bulgaria, not even Italy, in which the news of the fall of a Gladstone in battle will echo with more thrilling power or where it will carry more convincingly the assurance that the cause for which he has fallen is the cause of eternal justice and deathless liberty.

