GRAIN MARKETS FIRMER.
Grain prices continue to hold very firm in the face of a growing crop, sufficient to imbue many with the idea that higher prices will be warranted later on. At Chicago the corn has advanced, but the wheat has declined. Wheat prices have displayed more firmness than in the past, principally on the ground that unfavorable weather has already worked irreparable damage to this season's crop. A shortage in winter wheat in the United States as compared with a year ago is now a foregone conclusion. The June government report suggested a crop of 17,000,000 bushels, with a maintenance of current conditions unless harvest. This estimate was below that of the April report by 5,000,000 bushels. Since the first of the month, however, serious damage through drought in Nebraska and floods in Texas has indicated that the reduction in the final crop must be increased. Last year the loss from June to harvest was 4,000,000 bushels, but this was accomplished by almost perfect weather for these months. The spring wheat crop which will be reported upon next month is expected to remedy the shortage in the winter wheat, but this, of course, is highly problematical. The visible supply of wheat in North America is larger than that of a year ago but these supplies are not easily forced on the market at prevailing cash prices. The world's supplies on June 1 were given at 151,119,000 bushels, or 15,000,000 bushels larger than a year ago. Crop prospects abroad are not such as to indicate that the yield will be larger than last year. Russia is uncertain and made more so by recent reports of damage. Australia will have 30,000,000 bushels for export, or 8,000,000 bushels more than in 1905. India can ship about 20,000,000 bushels and Argentina will have less to export. Canadian reports favor at least an average crop and reports from the Northwest confirm no disturbing feature. The strength in the United States markets has influenced Canadian grain prices and both wheat and other grains are held firmer at a higher range of quotations.

FEARING FOR THE HAY CROP.
The hay-making season is at hand and farmers all over the country will soon be busy with the "new mown" hay. While much of this hay will be made properly and make good feed for live stock, there is a great deal that will be ruined in the making. Improper methods of making hay are responsible for much of the loss one hears about. The first thing to consider is, when is the proper time to cut grass?

It is conceded by all chemists that the most nutritious is in the plant after the time of blossoming and before the seeds ripen. While blossoming the nutrients are in the stalk and leaves of the plant, but as the seed develops and ripens they are drawn out and stored in the seed, and consequently leave the stalks more or less woody. So the time to cut is just after the plant has blossomed. Of course, where there is to be a second crop, as in the case of clover, where the seed crop follows, it is necessary to cut the first crop a little early in order to give the second crop a better chance. The practice of having clover and timothy mixed makes it necessary to cut the crop before the timothy is fully ripe, as the clover ripens first and its value will be lost if allowed to stand until the timothy ripens. A good rule to go by and one generally followed by those who have the best success in making clover hay is to cut the crop when the heads just begin to brown. Some mow in the early morning, when the dew is on, and then turn until it is dry enough to take in the afternoon, but this takes good weather. It is when the rainy spells come during the hay-making season that the farmer must use good judgment to get in his crop without loss.

Another way to cut clover is to cut it in the morning, leave it in the field until noon, and then cut it in the afternoon and haul it in the evening. If the crop is put into the barn before it is cured it will heat, and this causes it to become dusty, and in some cases the heat is so great that there is spontaneous combustion. It all depends upon the amount of mow mown how damp the hay crop can be before it is put in. If it can be spread out in the mow, and have plenty of ventilation it can be put in damper than otherwise.

LIVE STOCK REVIEW.
On the Toronto market all choice to prime quality live stock in all the different classes is in excellent demand and selling at good prices. Prime quality shipping cattle are in demand at nearly every market. Prices for such range from $5.15 to $5.30, while medium sell at $4.80 to $5 per cwt. Export bulls are worth from $3.75 to $4.25 per cwt. There is, and has been a steadily increasing demand for prime quality beef, and the demand for this class of cattle was never greater than now. Prime steers and heifers sell readily (but there are few of them) at $4.85 to $5.00 per cwt; loads of good, $4.60 to $4.80; and mediums at $4.20 to $4.50. The best stall fed cows sell at $3.75 to $4.25, but grass cows are slow at $3 to $3.50 per cwt. Business in stockers and feeders is slow. Only a few farmers have been coming on the market lately, and they looked and acted as tho they were only prospecting. Few if any short kept cattle are being offered. Only those of good quality are being enquired after, as many feeders who loaded up with mongrels last fall have been taught a lesson they will not soon forget, in having to sell their cattle no matter how fat, for less money. Good quality steers, 900 to 1050 lbs., are worth $4 to $4.25; well bred steers, 800 to 900 lbs., $3.80 to $4; good stockers, are selling at $3.25 to $3.60; medium to common at $2.75 to $3.25 per cwt. In milkers and springers choice to prime cows range from $50 to $80, and if there happen to be a few Montreal buyers on the market, prices are even higher than these quotations for the best. Medium cows sell from $37.50 to $45 each, while common range from $28 to $35 each. The quality of veal calves has been generally better since the season for the dairy calves is past. Prices are good, especially for the best. Good to choice new milk fed veals are worth $7 per cwt. Medium to good sell from $5 to $6 per cwt. Common at $4 to $4.50. Deliveries of sheep and lambs have been light these two last markets, and in fact all season, and prices are high, especially for spring lambs. The total number of sheep in Canada is estimated at about one million and a half for seven millions of people and it is estimated that there are 50 millions of sheep for 80 millions of people. Prices are high, and it looks as tho they will continue that way. Spring lambs are worth all the way from $4 to $6.25 and $6.50 each; yearlings of good quality and not too big are worth $6 to $6.50 per cwt; export ewes, $4.50; bucks, $3.50 to $4 per cwt. Notwithstanding the fact that packers are trying to get the prices of hogs down it does not look as tho they were going to succeed, as drovers report paying the farmers $7.15 and in some places even more. Packers are wanting hogs, as is easily seen by their many actions, in struggling for a daily supply. And the demand all over the world is greater than the supply. The hogs in all the long list of live stock, is the farmers' best friend from a monetary point of view. Hogs may not continue at as high a price as $7.25 per cwt., but they can recede more than a dollar a hundred in price and then pay the farmer better than any other class of live stock.

B. H. BULL & SON'S
Important Importations for Brampton Jersey Herd.

Messrs. B. H. Bull & Son, have just made some very valuable additions to their famous Brampton herd of Jerseys, and those interested in pedigree stock generally through Canada, and especially those interested in family and dairy cattle, will be pleased to note that the Brampton herd, which is the largest registered Jersey herd in Canada, is pursuing the policy of importing new and high-class animals from time to time. During the past five years, the Brampton Jerseys have taken more honors at the leading Canadian exhibitions at Winnipeg, London, Ottawa and Toronto, than all of their competitors combined, and Mr. Bull assured The World yesterday that this year their exhibit here would be stronger than ever.

The highest-priced and best animal sold at the recent sale at Mount Clinton, a recent valuable addition to the Brampton herd, and the only Jersey cow owned in Canada to-day who records as a butter-producer is testified by a special certificate of merit issued on the Island of Jersey. It is owned by Messrs. Bull & Son, and will be exhibited by them at the Toronto Exhibition next year.

Messrs. Bull & Son have made recent shipments of family cows and pedigree stock to various parts of the Dominion and Newfoundland, and Mr. Arthur Beedham of Brampton, who has assisted in the exhibit of the Brampton Jerseys for a number of years, is at present in Cuba assisting in making arrangements for the branch of the Brampton Jerseys to be established on the Island of Jersey. It is owned by Messrs. Bull & Son, and will be exhibited by them at the Toronto Exhibition next year.

Poultry Pickings.
Every poultry keeper should have trap nets, as they will help him pick out the hens that are laying.

To prevent colds and roup put eight or ten drops of tincture of acetic acid to each gallon of drinking water twice a week. A good feed for chickens is made by mixing cornmeal and bran, equal parts into a mush with milk. They eat much more than chicks. One of the reasons and probably the main reason hens steal their nests out is because the nests in the poultry house are not kept clean and comfortable. Before placing eggs in the nest it is a good thing to sprinkle insect powder, sulphur or tobacco dust in it, as this will keep away the lice and the young chicks will be free to start on.

TORONTO HORSE MARKET

Offerings Lighter Than Earlier in the Year, But Clearances Are Thoro at Good Prices.

There has been quite a rally in the horse market during the past week, and while the sales have not been on an extensive scale, several supplementary orders from contractors and from the Northwest have been received, that have given quite an air of briskness to the principal market. Prices also have been firmer. Altogether it can safely be said that the market of affairs is most satisfactory, and for the season of the year exceptionally good. Carriage horses continue scarce, but saddle horses are in demand. While no private sales of importance have taken place, several shipments have occurred of carriage horses from Toronto to distant parts of Canada and to the States. One chestnut mare of quality was sold to a gentleman in Montreal for $1,200. Another bay gelding, a quotation that $200 was put on an especially handsome high-stepping dapple-grey mare, undoubtedly one of the best in the country. The price was $1,200. The horse was sold to a gentleman in the Dominion City show. The latter, who will be one of the most prominent competitors at the coming open-air horse show, did not hesitate to say that if he felt his circumstances warranted the investment he would gladly pay the price asked. Good delivery quiet animals that did not appear to substance, are eagerly snapped up, and it looks as if there will be some fall and noteworthy dealings at the Dominion City show. Draft horses are hardly so much sought after as they were earlier in the year, but at that, sound, fresh young blacks are in demand. The difficulty in finding purchasers at reasonable values. Ponies are being widely enquired for with increasing frequency. People seem to be objecting to pay over a hundred dollars for the little fellows, but there are positively none to be had of any account at anything less. Drivers, under 15, are sharing in the pony popularity, any offering of conformation or being taken at prices that cannot be otherwise than considered good.

Auctioneer and Manager C. A. Burns, in speaking of his experience at the regular Tuesday sale at The Repository, Simcoe-street, said: "This was a great sale; things had been a little quiet before, and I did not expect to have quite such a sale to-day. We had a large number of horses to offer, and they were all sold, as they came out. The best of the year in the stable after the sale was over nearly every horse being taken out for immediate use. The horses were sold at prices that were very satisfactory. The Repository and they were taken up to as high as $200. Light deliveries were a bit, but they were hardly of as good a class as the heavy ones. While the attendance was mainly from the city there were a number of buyers from the outside, who satisfied their wants, as they did not expect to have quite such a sale to-day. Light deliveries were a bit, but they were hardly of as good a class as the heavy ones. While the attendance was mainly from the city there were a number of buyers from the outside, who satisfied their wants, as they did not expect to have quite such a sale to-day. We had a large number of horses to offer, and they were all sold, as they came out. The best of the year in the stable after the sale was over nearly every horse being taken out for immediate use. The horses were sold at prices that were very satisfactory. The Repository and they were taken up to as high as $200.
