KITCHENER OVERAWED HER

The London Daily News in 1900 printed a remarkable article by its war correspondent on the spy system of Germany in South Africa, dealing particularly with a woman about thirty years of age who was especially active. The following paragraph tells of her encounter with Kitchener.

Couldn't Fool Kitchener.

If the Boers ever write the true history of the war they will stagger England with the revelations they make in regard to their secret service. Their spies were everywhere, active, intelligent, daring and well paid, and at the end of them moved the woman of hamster, "Madame," with her close-cut eyes, magnetic touch and clear, elated face. When Kitchener of Kharmer arrived in South Africa she met him, for she knew that if she did get inside his secrets she could not be caught.

She made it her business to come casually in contact with the tall, gaunt figure, the rugged face. She looked into the prominent, all-seeing eyes, and knew at once that she was face to face with a man who was the most dangerous man in Britain, she said. "I feel as if I were in the shadow of death when I am near him. He is a man for men to conquer. No woman can reach him to see; he would read me like an open book in an hour, and I believe he would not me as he would shut a Kaffir if he caught me."

How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Carried Her Safely Through Change of Life.

Cedar Rapids, Iowa.—"At the Change of Life the doctor said I would have to give up my work and take my bed for some time as there was no help for me but to lie still. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and kept up my work and now I am over the change and feel as if all is all right. It was better for me than all the doctor's medicines I tried. Many people have no faith in patent medicines but I know this is good."—Mrs. E. J. RICKETS, 304 8th Avenue, West, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

THE HISTORY OF H. P.

Every popular commodity has a history of paramount interest to somebody. Here is the history of H. P. Sauce—we think it will interest you.

At Birmingham, England, there is a very large malt vinegar brewery, in fact, the largest in the world, and at malt vinegar is the essential foundation of all high-class sauces, the proprietors of the vinegar brewery are constantly in touch with all kinds of sauces.

Now some time ago, it occurred to them that nearly all the sauces on the market were far too thin and pungent, and too imperfectly blended to be worthy of the name of restaurant quality. They decided to make a super-excellent fruity flavor, and thick, creamy consistence were produced, and placed on the market under the name of "The History of H. P. Sauce" and sent out to make its own way in the world.

H. P. does not separate in the bottle, there is no sediment and it therefore requires no shaking, if poured on the edge of a plate it can be taken with the most delicate mustard. It possesses a delicious flavor, quite distinctive to its own and adds a clean, fruity taste to the food, instead of the burning and stinging sensation left behind by old fashioned vinegars.

Dr. A. Bostock Hill, M.D., D.P., H.F. I. C. county analyst in analysing a bottle of H. P. Sauce reported:—"It is made from the best materials, is of pleasing and piquant flavor, and is in every respect thoroughly good. Sauce's of this exceptionally favorable circumstances, it is a small wonder that the history of H. P. is so well known and so highly qualified person."

BROWN TAIL MOTH HUNTING SEASON

Brown tail moth surveys, similar to those carried on during the last two years in New Brunswick, will be commenced on November 20, for the coming winter.

A crew of sixteen, including men appointed by both the Dominion and provincial departments of agriculture, have been selected and the preliminary arrangements for the starting of the surveys are now being made.

London, Oct. 27—Officials at the London office of American Life Insurance companies say that, in view of the policies held in Europe, it is probable that a good deal of money will have to be paid out as a result of the deaths of policyholders in the present conflict. Health and Beauty Hints
(By Mrs. Mac Martyn)

June: The "French complexion" you inquire about is probably the craze for liquid powders. They are thought to be more wholesome for the skin, as well as more beautifying and less likely to show, than ordinary powder. The following receipt is a clear, home-made preparation to be purchased from any druggist. Get 4 ounces sponges, two ounces vinegar. It is splendid in effect, looks very natural and clings as if it belonged to your skin.

Lilly: You will find shampooing with a teaspoonful of Almond (from my druggist's) in one half pint cold water adding two teaspoonfuls glycerine. This, by contracting the skin slowly, restores healthy firmness and keeps the surface circulation of the blood so good that a perfectly natural glow develops in the cheeks. I have used it ever since.

Madge: No, you need not have lots of money in order to get your hair and scalp perfect care. I often recommend many made-at-home items which are even better than high-priced patents. As a hair tonic I get an ounce of quinine at the druggist's, dissolve it in one half pint of alcohol and add one half pint of water. Rub a little at a time well into the scalp and your dandruff will disappear and you will keep your scalp healthy.

Felix: I brighten my eyes and red them when tired by putting a few drops of crysals solution into each and bathing the lids with the same. I make the tonic by getting an ounce of crysals from the drug store and dissolving it in a pint of clear water. It will not smart and is soothing and healing. It is the safest way of making the eyes sparkling and expressive.
