Business Change

The General Film Company, which controls the moving picture producing companies, is reorganizing its distribution system and changes are being made in the three Canadian offices at St. John, Montreal and Vancouver. C. B. Price, from the head office in New York, has been in the city for the last week. J. Wales, of Montreal, well known to St. John picture men, will take charge of the local office today, succeeding H. H. McArthur who has resigned to accept a position with the Kinetograph Company, which will open a distributing agency in this city in a few days.

The use of oil to calm the sea in a hurricane probably saved the Johnson line steamship Vedamore from serious damage on the voyage from Liverpool to Baltimore.
