CATHEDRAL HIGH TEA.
The cathedral high tea being held at the York Theatre is proving a great success. A large number was present last evening, as may be judged from the fact that about 500 suppers were served. The City Cornet band was present, and this evening a musical programme will entertain those at supper. The booths also enjoyed a rushing business last night. One feature of interest was the voting contest for the favorite priest of the congregation, the vote standing at present: Father McLean, 141; Father Coughlin, 146; Father Holland, 127; Father Carleton, 121.

When court resumed this morning it was announced by L. P. D. Tilley, on behalf of the plaintiff, that the trial would not be gone on with, as a satisfactory settlement of the claim had been arrived at. An amount to meet the expenses to which the plaintiff had been put was all that was sought in the suit and the company had agreed to pay. The terms of the settlement are said to be $75 and the cost of the suit to be paid by the company to the plaintiff.

Before adjourning the court Judge Haughton alluded to the absence of the defendant, James F. Robertson. For this unexcused absence he said he would not fine them, but would dock their allowance. Court then adjourned sine die.

PELL FROM TRAIN.

Mysterious Disappearance of Passenger from Pacific Express.

When the Pacific Express arrived here yesterday afternoon Conductor James Daley reported to I. C. R. terminal superintendent L. R. Ross, that a passenger had reported to him that a man had fallen from the train between Model Farm and Quispamsis. The conductor says that a young Italian, who could speak very little English, said that he was passing from one car to another when he saw the man fall off. The conductor looked over his passengers and missed a man who came from P. E. Island and was under the influence of liquor. At the time the man fell the train was on an up-grade and was going very slowly.

At the next stop Conductor Daley notified the authorities and a search was made, but no sign of the man was found. It is thought that the man rolled down the bank and after getting over his drunk has gone to another station and boarded a train for the city, saying nothing of his accident.

COUNTY COURT.

The case of The McLaughlin Carriage Co. v. F. H. Ling, was heard this morning in the county court. The case, which is an action on a promissory note, has not yet come down to trial, as the defendant demurred to the declaration of the plaintiff company on the ground that it did not set out the mode by which the company was incorporated. Argument was heard this morning on the demurrer, the defendant's lawyer, E. R. Chapman, taking the stand that the company before it could sue must be in accordance with the general practice, set out in the mode of incorporation. M. G. Teed argued contra. Judge Forbes reserved his decision.

CHARGES AGAINST FIREMEN WON'T BE PRESSED.

Reported That No Further Investigation Will Be Held—Chief's Power May Be Increased

It has now leaked out that there is to be no more investigating of the charges of drunkenness against the North End firemen. The Safety Board, it is said, arrived at this conclusion at the termination of the meeting on Monday night after the firemen had been dismissed. If this be true the whole outcome of the charges preferred by Alderman Christie, in which he was backed up largely by public opinion, will be that the Safety Board will make certain recommendations to the common council, which recommendations will doubtless be acted upon. The substance of these recommendations will be that the chief of the fire department or some one else, be given power to discharge firemen who are intoxicated while on duty, giving a more thorough supervisory power over the actions of firemen.

The meeting on Monday night was, it would seem, a little interesting and a few facts were unexpectedly brought out, which a regularly conducted tribunal of inquiry could not more effectively have elicited. For instance, one man, it is said, charged Alderman Christie with having treated firemen to intoxicating liquor while they were on duty at a fire. Another fireman, when asked if he took liquor at a fire, replied: "Yes, I have, but those at the head are just as guilty. If you attempt to strike us you will strike them as well."

It is said that signs were heard at this somewhat unexpected utterance. One fireman declared that he was prepared to tell the whole truth, but he said there would be many sorry individuals after it was told.

The majority of the firemen were in favor of a duly conducted inquiry.

ST. RAILWAY PAYS DAMAGES

Case Brought By Mrs. James Steel Settled Out of Court for $75 and Costs.

The evidence for the plaintiff in the case of Mrs. James Steele vs. St. John Street Railway Company, was all taken yesterday afternoon.

Drs. Levin and Baxter described the case which Mrs. Steele sustained by falling from the street car. The injuries were of a serious nature, and consisted of a nasty dislocation of the shoulder accompanied by a shock to the nervous system.

The plaintiff, Mrs. Jas. Steele, deposes that she was in the street car on Aug. 2nd, near Meadow street, while plaintiff was in the act of alighting. In the car with her was her sister-in-law, Mrs. Dunham. The conductor was signalled to stop, and Mrs. Steele rose to leave while the car was moving. The conductor opened the door to allow her to pass. Mrs. Steele stepped to the ground, but the momentum of the moving car unbalanced her, precipitating her to the ground. Mrs. Dunham corroborated the plaintiff's statement.

Thos. E. Dyer, who was also in the car at the time, gave corroboration of the plaintiff's statement. James Steele, husband of the plaintiff, was the last witness. He said that the day after the accident he reported it to Manager Earle of the street railway and talked to him subsequently about it. This accident had involved him to some extent. The doctor's bill was $11. He had to pay a house-keeper $5 a week. He spent $10.50 for medicine and $12 for nourishment; $2.50 for car fare, $2.50 for hire. The manager had said they would pay the costs apart from any claim he might have on them. He expected to keep the housekeeper all winter.

BURGLARY UP RIVER

Two Stores at Belyea's Cove Broken Into and $50 Worth of Goods Stolen.

Belyea's Cove, a thriving village, about ten miles below Capetown, was invaded last night by burglars, who broke into stores conducted by Ellsworth and Nathaniel Belyea and got away with about fifty dollars worth of articles.

The burglary is believed to have been carefully planned and suspicion points to two foreign looking individuals who have been camping in the vicinity for the past week or so. The theory is that these men purposely camped in the vicinity to study their ground. Unfortunately the plaintiff, was the last witness. He said that the day after the accident he reported it to Manager Earle of the street railway and talked to him subsequently about it. This accident had involved him to some extent.
