

THE BALL PLAYER

OWE SUCCESS TO MACK—
BUILT UP GREAT MACHINE

New York, May 14.—The public in admiration and awe of Connie Mack's world's champion Athletics. The team which humbled the Giants in the world's series, the fall is universally conceded to be one of the very best aggregations produced in the history of the National pastime. Yet, in its veneration of the capability of that wonderful machine, the public is prone to overlook the genius of the man who fashioned it.

Connie Mack did not fall heir to any such collection of stars. He had to dig up each and every one of them. His ultimate success is but a tribute to the foresight and rare judgment. For in his own unassuming, quiet way Mack has changed the business policy of the great organized profession.

Mack Developed Youngsters.

The leader of the Athletics was a pioneer in his way. He foresaw ten years ago the great development to which this sport would attain in a decade. He realized that each year it would become more difficult to secure desired talent through purchase and trade. Before the rival managers ever dreamed of paying serious attention to the scouting end of the business, Connie Mack had raked the minor organizations and colleges with a fine-tooth comb.

No club in organized baseball has such a perfect scouting system as that of Connie Mack. He himself is the great chief of the sleuthing department and his is the final judgment. He is the one to whom the "green" players have to come for their first call.

Until Connie Mack entered the major league field, managers looked little further ahead than the tips of their noses. They were content to dwell upon the present, and as a result were concerned. Mack studied the future. He planned fully five years ahead. He looked the situation squarely in the face. He saw in a star not his present capacity, but the day when he must begin to pale and fade. He figured to have by that day some new comer to step into the declining veteran's shoes; and he always planned on having in his substitute a man far more capable in every department of the game.

Connie Mack was caught napping just once. That was in 1906. He was fooled by his champion aggregation of 1905, the bunch that was so badly shown up by McGraw's Giants during the last pennant race. The world's series of that year gave McGraw no warning. A disastrous campaign followed the next season. The New York leader immediately began the weeding out process, which eventually resulted in the wonderful team now at home in Brush Stadium.

The 1912 Giants appear to outclass the National league as far as the 1911 Athletics outclassed the American league. Eliminating unusual misfortune each should have a strange hold on its pennant long before fall. In many respects the rival aggregations are very similar. McGraw specializes on speed; Mack on hitting ability. Each, of course, attempts to combine all possible of the one with the other. Both are solidly established in the matter of youth. Yet each is fortified with unusually brilliant substitutes. McGraw maintains that as a chain is no stronger than its weakest link, a team is no stronger than its substitutes.

Of the two teams, the Athletics appear the stronger. Whether they would prove so at the end of a strenuous campaign may remain for the next world's series to show. Mack's players have the advantage of longer experience together. It is a more seasoned array in every way, even though the players may be every bit as young in years as New York.

Mack has far more seasoned pitchers than has McGraw. Mathewson is New York's sole veteran, steadily while Bender, Coombs, Blank and Morgan have shown year in and year out for seasons that there are few better so long as they can cheat Old Father Time. Mack also has a lot of promising young tossers who may deliver when the opportunity arises. None have shown the promise of "Rube" Marquard.

McGraw has the greatest catcher of the age in Chief Meyers. Wilson is as fine a second string man as could be found anywhere. But the world's champions are not weak behind the bat. Thomas and Lapp are of the best in the league perhaps almost the equal of McGraw's Indian in plain backstopping and throwing, though not of course so deadly with the ash.

Mack's Men Heavy Hitters.

McGraw's team is the faster; Mack's the much more powerful in hitting. A club that hits close to the 200 notch collectively can do fairly well in any league behind even mediocre tossing. Give it one of the finest battery departments in the game, such as the Athletics boast, and it will prove right invincible.

In the opinion of most experts, Connie Mack has the greatest infield ever known. This goes doubly strong if little "Stuffy" McInnis can deliver such goods at first as he showed last season. Baker, Barry, Collins and

NEW BOXING
LAW IN WEST

Omaha, May 14.—Nebraska is to have a boxing law copied after the Fawcett act, but they are wise enough there to make the commission large enough to cover the ground, and will have six members. Then, too, the new law will call for 10, 12 or 15 rounds, which is demanded in the West, where they like the longer bouts. It is very doubtful, however, whether they will cater to clean breaks, as they prefer the rougher fighting. Boxing enthusiasts all over the country are coming into their own even at this late day. In Syracuse every fair-minded man who has seen glove fights conducted under the restrictions made by the Fawcett law can but enjoy and approve of the sport. As for those who have never attended—their opinions are of very little consequence.

McInnis form the most perfect fielding quartet imaginable. McInnis last season was every bit as sensational as McGraw's team. He is a more seasoned array in every way, even though the players may be every bit as young in years as New York.

After the final game of the world's series in Philadelphia last fall, Manager McGraw of the Giants, paid a fitting tribute to Connie Mack's infield. "It is the greatest infield I ever saw," he said. "Not even the old Baltimore bunch could show it in the thick of baseball fame. Connie and Barry are the greatest pair that ever graced the keystone. Why, not once in the whole series were we able to foot those two kids. It made no difference through which side we attempt the hit and run, the right man always held his station to break it up. If we hit at Barry's division Collins always covered. I actually believe this pair is so fast that it can wait until the ball is hit to figure out the proper defense. We were beaten by one of the greatest teams of all history and by a team whose infield is one of its main towers of strength."

Connie Mack's club has always been a great trouble maker for other teams in the American league. He never before had such a wonderful club as that which he now commands. For the next three or four years his youngsters are bound to improve and the Athletics are going to be right in the thick of baseball fame. When Collins, Barry, Baker and McInnis begin to go Connie Mack will undoubtedly produce competent successors to them. He has dozens upon dozens of athletes "planted" in the minor leagues for development. Any one of them he can call upon at short notice. This is the leader of the world's champions absolutely fortified against the future.

LAWYER NOW ON DIAMOND

Philadelphia, May 13.—William "Duke" Brinker, who has been coveting at third for the Phils in the absence of Hans Lohr, is a Vancouver lawyer, or barrister, as they are called in British Columbia. Brinker has had a variegated career. First, a lawyer, then a pitcher of ability, and later an outfielder. Now he has been converted into an infielder.

Brinker does considerable law practice in the off season, and it is said he is a brilliant orator before the court of justice. He plays baseball for the pure love of the sport, and incidentally, the coin of the realm that goes with it. Although Brinker can make a much better living at the law game than he does at the baseball, he considers in the pleasure and beautiful exercise he derives from the national pastime of more compensation than the revenue derived from the steady grind of the law.

SOFT ARM FOR 19 YEARS.

Nineteen years of baseball—this will be the twentieth—with hardly a day's freedom from a sore arm—that is what Joe Sugden has been through, and the most remarkable part of it is that Joe was considered a great catcher in his time and still loves the game.

According to the veteran's story, the only times in his life when his wing didn't pain him every time he threw a ball were on the first days of the practice season. He really enjoys these first days, but after that it means a sharp twinge whenever he cuts one loose.

BIG TEAMS SUFFER BY INJURIES

Bring on the listless, plaster casts and other medicals that heal.

Twenty-nine major league players have been out of the game and the season is just two weeks old. Broken legs, cracked wrists, strained backs, torn ligaments and other ills have played havoc with the season. The list is growing each day, too.

Many of the cities in each league have one or more of their most valuable assets on the shelf, but Charlie Doolin's Phillies have been hit the worst with injuries and ills. Nine of the best players representing Philadelphia in the National League have been laid up at various times and many are on the shelf right today. Greater New York teams have not escaped—the Yankees are minus the services of four, while the Dodgers have had two men out of game, too.

The star hard luck team of the country phrase can be applied to the Phillies. All last season a hoodoo followed Doolin's team, and it is back on the job this year. The Phillies started suffering even before the season began, and it is back on the job this year. The Phillies started suffering even before the season began, and it is back on the job this year. OLD FOOTBALL
STARS IN MANY OCCUPATIONS

What becomes of the football stars after they leave college?

A famous football expert answers these questions in an interesting article in one of Princeton's publications. This expert has ascertained the present occupation of the 721 varsity football men who have played the game at any of the "Big Three" colleges.

There are 137 lawyers, 91 financiers, 89 merchants, 45 manufacturers, 54 physicians, 35 engineers, 27 preachers, 14 missionaries, 15 college professors, 32 school teachers, 11 mine operators, 14 publishers, 12 farmers, 8 ranchers and a dozen occupations have received the honors.

The statistics add, to such a great diversity of occupation there must be quite a great variety of places of occupation. He states that there is not a state in the union nor a single colony over the sea to be found in which one or more of these men are not employed.

The favorite occupation of the football stars of Harvard has been that of financier, that of the Yale men manufacturing and the bar and that of the sons of Princeton of mercantile pursuits and the bar. A curious variant in the Yale table is twenty-four men engaged in the transportation business.

FLEMING AFTER BROWN.

Lewiston, May 14.—Since Kid Fleming of Oldtown laid away Joe Brown of Boston in such short order Maine fans are anxious to see him in action again.

As for Fleming, he is ambitious and the best are none too good for him. He wants a crack at Knockout Brown of New York, and we may see this pair in action at City Hall.

Fleming has a wellop that can lay away cold the best of them. If it lands, and he fought no lemon in Joe Brown. Brown is a clever boy that is getting enough of the bad breaks. Nine players unable to perform and the season only two weeks old.

TEAMS MAKE PITCHERS.

Any battle among slammers to lead the league is fairly well arranged in advance. Barring sensational work, such as Russ Ford furnished in 1910 only a pitcher with a winning club has any show of topping the circuit. Bender led the American league in the box last season, and his club won the pennant.

Harquard led the national—and his club won the pennant. And there you are.

Here are a few detailed figures—if you are interested enough in the polite discussion to hear us out.

Bender led the American league—and yet rival clubs tapped the great Indian for an average of 252 at bat.

Yan Greig finished second—and yet Greig held rival batters to an average of 204.

Jack Coombs finished fourth—1287 batters rasped his delivery for 860 hits—an average of 280.

INTERSCOLASTIC SPORTS.

Considerable interest is being taken this year in the St. John's school in the coming interscholastic sports, to be held in June. The boys are hoping to make up for defeats suffered during the past year, in football and hockey. Much of the better material of last year's team is still in the school and some new material is turning out. There is much rejoicing in the school from the fact that Bridges is coming out.

Among those turning out for the different positions are: Hundred and 220, Bridges, McNeil, Foley, quarter; Nugent, Foley, Townsend, Muehlen, McQuade, hurdles; Bridges, McNeil, half and broad; Sinclair, Bridges, Townsend, McNeil, Foley, mile; Muehlen, Nugent, Marham.

GREEKS' PLAYERS
ARRIVE

Sheldon Cook, Jr., a pitcher arrived in the city yesterday afternoon on the Eastern Line steamer from Boston and is the first importation of the season to arrive here to play on the Marathon lineup. Cook is a big husky young player, who looks good to the management and he will start in at once getting into shape for the opening games of the league.

The Marathon management received a wire yesterday from Larry Connolly, who is in Providence, and who was the star catcher for the Marathon last season. Connolly has decided to come to St. John and will once more don the Greeks uniform. Lucky Larry will be welcomed here by his many admirers.

JACOBS WITH CANADIANS.

Montreal, May 14.—Paul C. Jacobs, the celebrated Indian college athlete of Carleton and the star player of who will be tried out with George Kennedy for the Irish-Canadians, has been practicing with the Nationals this spring, although it is very likely he will be played with the Irish-Canadians.

Jacobs has been sought for the last two weeks by Mr. O'Neill of Cornwall, but with no avail, as he did not wish to sacrifice his amateurism at that time. Some time ago Mr. Fleming of Toronto was also seeking for his services, but he decided to stay in Montreal, near his home.

While well known as a lacrosse player, he is also a great hockey player, having played in both the Montreal City and Manufacturers' Leagues, in which he showed splendid form.

EPOCH IN AMERICAN GOLF.

New York, May 14.—Jack McDermott, the National open champion, sailed for England today on the Victoria Louise to take part in the open championship of Great Britain at St. Andrews on June 21.

McDermott's trip marks an epoch in the history of American golf, for never before has a home-bred champion had the opportunity to try for international fame. Until last year the American open titles had always been won by Scotch or English professionals. McDermott won the title last year.

WASTED TIME AND MONEY

Before They Found Gin Pills

Galeta, Ont.

"My husband used Gin Pills for Backache and Kidney Disease. The pain in his back was dreadful and the kidneys failed to do their work properly. As he became worse, we found it necessary to begin treatment and unfortunately wasted time and money on remedies that were little or no good. After taking one dose of GIN PILLS, he found them to be exactly what he needed, and after taking two boxes of GIN PILLS, was completely cured. We heartily recommend GIN PILLS at every opportunity to our friends and relatives."
