Funerals.

The funeral of Ralph Stanley Crawford took place on Saturday afternoon at 2:03 o'clock from his late residence, 26 Pitt street, to Trinity church where burial services were conducted. Interment took place in Fernhill.

The funeral of Dorothy C., infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Higgins, took place on Saturday afternoon from the residence of her parents, 149 Millidge avenue.

Weddings.

The marriage was solemnized at All Saints' Church, Loch Lomond, on Monday, Sept. 6th, when George Thomas Kerr of Silver Falls and Miss Jane Hulme of Lakewood, were united in marriage. Rev. C. W. Follett was the officiating clergyman. The bride was given away by her father and Mr. Lennox of St. John acted as best man. There was a large number of friends present at the church, which had been beautifully decorated by the ladies of Loch Lomond. After the ceremony the guests drove to Lakewood for the reception at Mr. Hulme's house.

PREPARE YOUR DONATION FOR THE AUCTION

Workers for Patriotic Auction will tour city and country districts in quest of donations—Will you do your share to help?

The big city and country canvass in the interests of the Patriotic Auction is just a week distant. One week from today committees from the Daughters of the Empire, Rotary Club, Knights of Columbus and Order of Elks will start upon their rounds of the city and country districts seeking donations in the movement to secure $50,000 for the patriotic fund. What ever you give, cash or saleable goods, will be thankfully received. All goods contributed will be sold at the auction during the week of October 4 to 9, several big sales being in progress at the same time in different quarters of St. Andrew's rink.

Every contribution will be acknowledged. A record of it will be kept through a splendid system of registration, announcement of each donation published in the daily press, and individual slips will be carried by every canvasser. Herewith is published one of the slips showing the space for the name of the contributor and the space for his donation:

PATRIOTIC AUCTION.

CLARION CALL ANSWERED BY THESE BOYS

Rev. Frank Baird tells of those who overcame difficulties to enlist.

The pulpit of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church was occupied yesterday by Rev. Frank Baird of Woodstock. Speaking in the evening on "The Onward Call of the Gospel," he said from the text: "Arise, let us go hence," he said the Gospel was a long-drawn call to men to move away from the lower to the higher levels of life.

"There is need," the speaker said, "for the clarion call today. The Gospel fits itself to the age in that every note it sounds is an upward and onward note. It tells men to be satisfied with their possessions, never with themselves."

"Excelior is its motto, onward is its watchword, arise is its key-note. Inaction is alien to its spirit; the idler in the market place it says let him be anathema."

The Spirit of Sacrifice.

"This spirit of sacrifice which is not always recognized as being of the essence of the Gospel. With the super-er and the revelation of Christ's plans for the future which the disciples would have sat on, and actually did remain ignoring the Lord's call to arise and go. To him the Supper had served its purpose—let it be pushed into the 'dark backward and abysm of time.' In the strength of the moment received let a new march be begun, a new obligation assumed, a new duty faced."

"Today we may well ask ourselves, on what level are we living? To many it is the snug and comfortable level of the Supper; we would indefinitely prolong the feast; we would let Gethsemane wait. We cannot do this and be Christians. We must respond to the call to advance."

"The change of a preconceived plan may be necessary in order to obey; the suppression of a selfish desire may be a duty."

Fell in Battle.

"An acquaintance had a son destined for foreign mission work. He went to the front in 1914 feeling the need, hearing the clarion call. He fell. Writing of it recently, his father says: 'I had hoped to see him a missionary. He had God and other sterner work for him to do.'"

A Noble Example.

"Excuses and difficulties there may be. Let them be overcome in the spirit manifested by a youth in a Sunday school class in Woodstock. When the war broke out he was a hotel bell boy. He presented himself to the recruiting officer, who, on measuring him reported the boy a half-inch too short and rejected him. But the lad would not let go. The clarion call rang in his ears. He sought a higher officer and pled to be enrolled. 'I want to go to the war,' he said, 'they tell me I'm half an inch short, but when I asked them about my chest measurement they said I was two inches to the good. Don't you think Major?' he pled, with tears in his eyes and almost on his knees, don't you think they might add what I have over in measurement about the chest to my height and let me go?"

"The Major was mightily moved. 'I think they ought,' the Major said. There must be some mistake. You go back to the recruiting officer and tell them to measure you over again.'"

"The boy went out and the Major called up the recruiting office. When the lad was measured the second time he was tall enough. He is at the front today and his photograph has a place on my study wall between Lord Roberts and Sir Edward Gray."

OBITUARY.

Jarvis A. Marks.

The death occurred at Curryville, yesterday morning, of James A. Marks, who had been suffering from cancer, which started in his foot some months ago resulting from an injury. Mr. Marks, who was nearly 90 years of age, is survived by a widow and one daughter, widow of the late Council Steves.

Miss Margaret E. Kelly.

To a host of friends the news of the death of Miss Margaret Elizabeth (Bessie) Kelly, of Fairville, which occurred on Saturday afternoon in the hospital, will come as a shock. The late Miss Kelly was a student nurse at the hospital. She was taken ill only a few weeks, and while her condition was regarded as serious her death was unexpected. Of a bright, cheerful disposition she had a large circle of friends who will extend their sympathy to the bereaved family. She was a daughter of Ellen and the late John D. Kelly of Fairville. Besides her mother she is survived by two sisters, Maud, teacher in Millford school, and Nellie. She leaves three brothers, Harry, of New York; Louis, of Seattle and Frank, who is with the First Canadian Field Ambulance Corps on active service.

The late Miss Kelly was a graduate of St. Vincent's High School and a member of St. Vincent's Alumnae, in the activities of which she took a prominent part. With her associates in the hospital she was very popular. The funeral will be held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from her mother's residence, corner Lancaster and Church streets, Fairville, to St. Rose's church.

FOR WOUNDED SOLDIERS

Miss Theodora McKell for the Wounded Soldiers' Fund acknowledges the receipt of $56.65, the proceeds of a social and dance held under the auspices of Clan MacKenzie No. 96, O. S. C. S., assisted by Ladies Auxiliary, St. John; also from Miss Florence Giles, New River Station, $30, and from Harold A. Allison, $6.

CANADIAN TURKEYS.

From information obtained from reliable sources, says last week's bulletin of the Department of Trade and Commerce, Ottawa, there is a particularly good number of turkeys being reared in England this year. As, however, there will be an entire absence of the supplies usually imported from Russia and France, the opportunity will occur for Canadian exporters to take advantage of the cessation of these supplies.

For the first time in recent years, Canadian-bred birds were sent to this market last year and it is to be hoped that the trade will also be continued this season.

Entire Family Stricken With Cholera.

YOUNGEST CHILD DIED.

Mrs. E. Slade, 376 Logan Ave., Toronto, Ont., writes: "When I first arrived in Canada, nearly four years ago, my entire family was stricken with cholera from which the youngest child died. Soon after a friend recommended Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, and acting on this advice I administered it to all who were suffering with the most gratifying results. Since that first attack my children have been subject to stomach troubles, but on the first symptoms I resort to 'Dr. Fowler's,' and it always brings relief. I have immense faith in this medicine and always keep a bottle on hand, also I never fail to recommend it to anyone who is similarly troubled."

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry has been on the market for the past 70 years, and has become so universally used, that many firms have gone so far as to try and produce a substitute for it, and even claiming similar names, and saying it is "The Same" or "Just As Good."

Do not accept their word for this as these no-name, no-reputation, worthless imitations may be dangerous to your health.

The genuine "Dr. Fowler's" is manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.
