CANADIAN SOLDIERS' DASHING
DEEDS.

Corp R. B. Eaton's brave act under fire—"mentioned in despatches."

Lieut. Col. Evans commanding the Canadian Mounted Rifles, sends a report to the Department of Militia at Ottawa, in reference to the fight at Belfast on Nov. 2nd, in which Lieut Chalmers was killed.

It was a very hot time indeed for our men and their deeds were those of brave men throughout the whole action. It will be noted that Colchester has had a valiant and brave son, that she may well be proud of, in the person of Corp. R. B. Eaton, of Salmon River, (one of that fighting family of Eatons that we know so well) who did one of the most daring feats of the day.

Lieut. Col. Evans says of this battle at Belfast: the advance guard, consisting of sixty of the Canadian Rifles under the command of Major Sanders The advance party was commanded by Lieut. Chalmers and was accompanied by a guide who had given them the wrong direction.

When the advance party came into touch with the enemy the main column had branched off to the right and was nearly two miles away.
Lieut. Chalmers' troops engaged the enemy from a spur projecting from the main ridge. The advance guard, although largely outnumbered and in a most dangerous position, held its place under severe rifle fire.

An order came from the G. O. C. to retire. The retirement of the advance party to support was conducted by Lieut. Chalmers in a most skillful manner under a severe fire. During further retirement carried out steady-ly by successive groups Corporal Schell's horse was killed and fell upon him injuring his ankle.

Sgt. Tryon gave him his horse and Major Sanders noticing Sgt. Tryon dismounted rode back to him, and took him on his horse. The saddle turned and threw both to the ground, the horse bolting, Major Sanders was slightly wounded in the left side and partially stunned by the fall.
Lieut. Chalmers went to Mr. Sander's assistance, and endeavored to bring him back with him, but could not.
Chalmers then joined the firing line and sent Pte J. G. Smith back with a spare horse for Mr. Sanders, but the latter could not mount.

Lieut. Chalmers would not retire any further until he brought Sanders with him, and while taking steps to secure men for a support to enable him to carry out his intention he was shot through the body and died a few minutes later. About this time a shell was dropped in the ranks of the enemy and made them retire.

Killed—Lieut. Chalmers Wounded—Mr. Sanders, Pte. R. J. Northway (slightly); Pte. F. E. Pratt (severely).
Lieut. Col. Evans refers to the courage displayed by Chalmers and the skillful way he handled the advance guard.
When Chalmers was shot he had left cover to warn an orderly to dismount, as he was in a dangerous spot.
Gen. Smith-Dorrien attended the funeral.

Lieut. Col. Evans brings to the attention of the Adjutant-General the conduct of Major Sanders, Sergt. Tryon, and Pte. Hutchinson in their plucky endeavor to bring Corp. Schell back; Corp. R. B. Eaton, who secured Major Sanders' horse and brought it back to him under fire;

Corp. S. Herchmer, who carried an order from the support to the advanced party under heavy fire and who went to Lieut. Chalmers' assistance when he was shot;

Pte. J. G. Smith who was sent back with a horse for Sanders, and who during the action acted as a mounted orderly with great pluck under a continuous fire.

These brave men are all on the ocean, aboard the Rosslyn Castle, due here probably Jan'y 7th. We in Colchester, will give Corp. Eaton a hearty "welcome home" and certainly all the more hearty because he gained the true Soldier's ambition and was mentioned in the despatches.

It is stated that beginning with the first of 1901, the Halifax Business College will be run under new management.

trict, and the school children, who so admirably performed their part.
Dialogues, Readings, etc., with music interspersed, made a very interesting programme, and caused all to feel at the close that they had spent a very pleasant evening. The amount realized was about $8.00.

CAPES AND JACKETS.

The tendency this winter is towards jackets of Bulgarian, Continental and Garibaldi effects in the sleeves. Several illustrations of these styles, together with full advice about making are contained in the January Del neator, the well-known Fashion magazine. A new feature of this magazine is that Mrs. Aria, the well-known dress authority of London contributes a monthly letter on the fashions of London. Mrs. John Van Vorst of Paris does the same for that famous center of style.

W. H. Snook & Co. have our thanks for two pretty calendars. One is in colors and the other is a very neat lithograph, with a frontispiece entitled "The tug of war." The little sons and daughters of the hardy fishermen, have secured a rope from some near by lobster smack, and on the sands of the sea shore are engaged in a life and death "tug of war," that causes lots of merriment. The figures of this calendar are particularly clear.

POINTS OF EXCELLENCE

A Few Reasons Which are Rapidly Making a New Catarrh Cure Famous.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, the Catarrh Cure has the following advantages over other catarrh remedies.

First—These Tablets contain no cocaine, morphine, or any other injurious drug, and are as safe and beneficial for children as for adults; this is an important point when it is recalled that many catarrh remedies do contain these very objectionable ingredients.

Next—Being in tablet form, this remedy does not deteriorate with age, or as an exposure to the air as liquid preparations invariably do.

Next—The tablet form not only preserves the medicinal properties, but it is so far more convenient to carry, and to use at any time, that it is only a question of time, when the tablet will entirely supersede liquid medicines, as it has already done in the medical department of the United States Army.

Next—No secret is made of the composition of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets; they contain the active principle of Eucalyptus bark, red gum, blood root and Hydrastin, all harmless antiseptics, which, however, are death to catarrhal germs whenever found, because they eliminate them from the blood.

Next—You cannot cure catarrh by local applications to the nose and throat, because these are simply local symptoms, and such treatment cannot possibly reach the real seat of the catarrhal disease, which is the blood; for this reason, inhalers, douches, sprays and powders never really cure catarrh, but simply give temporary relief, which a dose of plain salt and water will do just as well.

Catarrh must be driven out of the system, out of the blood, by an internal remedy, because an internal remedy is the only kind which can be assimilated into the blood.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets do this better than the old form of treatment, because they contain every safe specific known to modern science in the antiseptic treatment of the disease.

Next—The use of inhalers and spraying apparatuses, besides being ineffective, and disappointing, is expensive, while a complete treatment of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets can be had at any drug store in the United States and Canada, for 50 cents.
