U. F. O. IDEAL TO INCREASE PRODUCTION

Repopulate Country by Making Agriculture Pay Better, Says Morrison.

ECONOMICS THE ISSUE

Lower Operating Costs, Cheaper Transportation, Is One Big Problem.

(By Staff Reporter.)

ST. THOMAS, March 31.—"Rural Depopulation and Its Remedy" was the subject on which J. J. Morrison, secretary of the U.F.O., addressed a largely-attended meeting of the Canadian Club tonight. In introducing Secretary Morrison, President E. R. Webb said that Mr. Morrison was a man with a purpose, and that he had accomplished great things.

"The current idea," said Mr. Morrison at the outset of his remarks, "is that I dominate a government; but I have an objection to that and a strong objection. What I stand for is the democratic form of government, and the struggle has only commenced. Democracy is at present only an ideal, but we wish to fill in the niche and accomplish the ideal of the people."

"The Farmer's Viewpoint." "I have come here to put before you the farmer's viewpoint, and he who does not stand true to his ideals is not a patriot. There are many things the U. F. O. has done, and there are many things it has not done. The U. F. O. is undoubtedly a class organization, but I make no apology for this, because every organization is a class organization. Every class has its organization; even the clergymen have their ministerial association. Then why should not the farmers have theirs too? I ask these here tonight to put their finger on any act of the U. F. O. that has not been for the benefit of the nation. Their motto is 'Equal opportunity to all and special privileges to none.' Our organization attends to social uplifting, the increase of educational facilities, industrial progress and political progress. "But there is a fundamental principle which has brought into conflict the views of the urban and rural people. The farmer's viewpoint is that when he wishes to better his conditions in life it is necessary to increase his production. On the other hand, there are certain people who try to increase their resources by lessening production."

"I am sorry to say anything against our Labor friends, but they are progressing along other lines. They have their reasons for lessening the hours of labor and seeking an increase of wages. Then the businessman seeks to improve matters by artificially making things dearer. He decreases production and increases the price. This is diametrically opposed to the farmer's ideal; this is where we disagree. "Once the Government established a binder twine factory at Kingston and said that they would put out this product to the farmers at cost, but owing to the opposition of the binder twine manufacturers this was stopped. Then there came along a man named J. W. Hanna. He had a new idea. He said that it was not good for men to be on the stone pile, and so he put them on the jail farm, and every cabbage grown on these jail farms makes one less for the farmer to sell."

Mr. Morrison went on to say that the same thing happened during the war, when the people were encouraged to grow cabbages in their backyards, but the farmers did not complain.

A National Tragedy. Dealing with the matter of rural depopulation, the speaker said that this had been a great curse in the land. "It is a national tragedy," he declared, "that the people are vanishing from the land." Taking for an example the population of Elgin County, Mr. Morrison said that it had decreased 5,754 in 30 years. In this period all the villages and towns in the county showed a loss except St. Thomas and Port Stanley. St. Thomas had gained 7,430 in its population in 30 years, and Port Stanley 120.

"I want to ask you businessmen," continued the speaker, "what are you going to do to stop this? We all agree that we must get the people on the land, but how is it going to be done? There are 100,000 less farmers in the Province of Ontario today than there were 30 years ago. Some say that this is owing to labor-saving machinery, but I cannot accept this. What about labor-saving machinery in the cities? Did this depopulate your cities? No; it did not."

"Is the county of Elgin producing half of what it once produced? I say no. This is an economic question, and you have to make agriculture so profitable that people will go to it. We want to make farming so remunerative that the back concessions will be tearing with life. When the population of the townships went down, that of the villages went down with them, because these villages were semi-agricultural."

Solution of Problem. "I would lessen the cost of production and lessen the cost of distribution. If you follow these principles you will solve the problem. I would decrease the cost of production by removing the obstacles that make it costly. I would go in for co-operation and squeeze out all the water of the stock of the transportation companies. If this were eliminated the cost of transportation would be lowered. You businessmen must lessen the cost of your overhead charges, and there is no use in saying 'Back to the land' unless you make it worth while." In conclusion, Mr. Morrison dealt with the system of two-party politics, which, he declared, was altogether obsolete and unsound, and said that he favored the group system because it afforded a much better opportunity for the people to bring forward their needs, but above all things he himself was a democrat.

On the motion of the chairman, Mr. Morrison was accorded a cordial vote of thanks.

SEEK TO RECOVER LANDS. Moraviantown, March 31.—Great efforts are being made by the people here to recover certain tracts of land in the State of Ohio formerly owned by them, but deserted when they came to Canada and settled on what is now called Moraviantown, which was considerably more than 130 years ago. Much money has been spent already and much more is being spent to get these lands back.
