Anyone having more than six tons of coal is guilty under the regulations of hoarding and is liable to a fine of $500. It is not likely that anyone will get what they ask for as the allotted supply will not be enough to go around. The greatest care will have to be used in the distribution.

If there is one course above another, that the Great War Veterans' Association should remove it is the postcard manufacturers and lithographers who exploit returned cripples in order to get rid of their cheap wares on a sympathetic public. It is not only an outrage on the heroes, but on the people as well.
