MR. DONOVAN'S POSITION

Editor The Brockville Times:

My Dear Sir.—My attention has been called to a letter published in The Daily Times of January 4th, headed, "A Veteran's Opinion," and in reading it I find it was written by my old esteemed friend, Joseph Cook, of Rockport, regarding the political situation in South Leeds, and refers to an article which appeared in The Times on the 14th of December last, purporting to be an interview with a South Leeds resident regarding my candidature. I save the account of this interview and read it, and before proceeding with my letter, wish to say most emphatically that I do not know who gave the interview, nor had I anything to do with it, directly or indirectly. As for the interview referred to in the Brockville Recorder, I did not see it, but read an editorial in the Recorder of the 15th of December last, referring to the Grenville convention also to Mr. Taylor and myself. I cannot be held responsible for any editorial matter that may appear in the Brockville Recorder but I am willing to admit that there are many facts stated which can be easily substantiated. One in particular I wish to dwell upon for a moment, that is where the Recorder says, "I would say that this kind of an objection is too patty and amall to find lodging in the breasts of South Leeds Councervatives, who are a fair minded Councervatives, who are a fair minded to convertives, who are a fair minded councervatives, who are a fair minded people.

Mr. Cook refers to the number of wealth or family relationship, and I am sure this is indeed a very good showing for a young man who came be headed for the first time without any organization or the preatige of wealth or family relationship, and I am indeed thankful to fir. Cook for having brought these figures again before the public. I remember so well at that time that Mr. Taylor, personal about the first time without any organization or the preatige of wealth or family relationship, and I in the Recorder of the 15th of December last, referring to the first time situation in the c fire of ambition and the sunshine of hope in our souls. If the party is going to allow one man to control all the honors and dectinies of the party, younger men will begin to feel that they are aliens in their own country. The spirit of our institutions demands an equal distribution of political honors and power. I can quite understand that if a representative possesses bushels of ability over and above all other competitors and aspirants, that he is in possession of a magnet that is bound to attract a large following, but I do not admit that this is the case in South Leeds. No one except a very narrow.

or rear having a representation this is only peanut politics. Select the strongest men you have, and as my triend, W. B. Carr oll, of Gananoque, left, I hope, for us to, either upon the maid at the time he came before the platform or through the press, yentil-

I have lived in the riding 43 years, and all my ancestry for the past 70 years, have ever been on the alert and worked industriously for the aucess of the Comervative party or the party from which the Conservative party took its origin. I never left the riding, and may say I was very grieved indeed, to be cut loose from my old friends, whom I know to have a wealth of political affection for my honest endeavors to climb up the ladder. The truth of the matter is the riding left me. Later on I will give you some little history in connection with it and I would say that this kind of an objection is too patty and small to find lodging in the breasts of South Leeds Conservatives, who are a fair minded people.

Mr. Cook refers to the number of an honorable and upright record beloted for, and was urged to do so by a very large and representative number of Conservatives, but some of the leading Conservatives, men of excellent standing and powerful influence in the Conservative party, who at the time were supporting Mr. Taylor, waited on me at the hetal in Delta, assuring me at the the same time they would give me their votes and influences at the next convention. I submitted to their request, at the same time offend ing many who came to the convention to heartily support me, and I know that I can trust these gentlemen should my name be balloted for at the coming convention. Their words and promites are as good as gold. Banks may fall, but the "Bank of Fair Play and Justice" will neyer fail. It was founded by a Carpanter nineteen hundred years ago, and has greater assets to day than it ever had.

Mr. Cook is quite within the truth when he writes that I did not withdraw from the convention with the assurance of the Conservative party that I would be the next nominee; but sir, I am strongly of the opinion to day that the Conservatives of South Leeds are ready and quite willing to bring about a change in their representative in the House of Commons. There are soores of men in South Leeds just as Leeds. No one except a very narrow-minded and inveterate partisan believes that all the capacity for governing lies in the brain of one individual. As for the political history of South Leeds I may say that I am quite familiar with it, at least for the past forty or fifty years, and have no objections to the dates of past elections, and the number of representatives as shown by my friend, Mr. Cook, in fact, quite agree with his a baervations bearing on this particular point. As to the front or rear having a representation this is tions are so impregnable. Only a few
