

He said, " These things have I spoken unto you, being yet present with you ; but the Comforter, the Holy Spirit, whom the Father will send in my name, He shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance whatsoever I have said unto you" (John xiv. 25 and 26 v.).

This promise, and those words of Jesus spoken from the plane of Spirit-life— "Lo, I am with you all the days until the consummation of the age"—conduct to a conclusion which appears to us an incontrovertible one.

It is this—that when the Evangelists sat down to write the story of what the Christ of God had spoken as He moved across the stage of Time on His mission to bless man for eternity, He from the domain of enhanced being flashed upon the minds of those earnest, Christ-loving men a mighty influence from His own Mind ; an influence which for the time being mentally abstracted them from the present, and transported them to the past, so that in thought they were listening again to the words of One Who spake as never man had before spoken ; an influence which quickened their memory, unravelled the entanglements of their ideas, made clear to them the significance of what He had said, and limned upon