The Bruce Mines and Algoma Railway Company has been strongly endorsed by Bruce Mines, Owen Sound, Meaford, Collingwood, Hamilton, Windsor, Berlin, Woodstock and London, and by many of the leading papers of Western Ontario.

The Company simply asks for a land grant of 7,400 acres per mile or a grant similar to what has already been given to five other railway enterprises in New Ontario, three of which have not constructed one mile of railway, although the subsidies have been granted over three years ago.
