Helping Out the Vicar.

me years ago, in a very rural district mer had a cow for sale. Now, as there weekly paper to advertise in, it was to me to his congregation on Sundays a farmer thought he would go to the and get him to advertise the cow in

"says the vicar, "but you don't to my church," they struck the bargain that the ald advertise the cow, and the airm should go to church. Now, the the man was very deaf, and make the banns of marriage be and so and Sarah So and masual incident, for they self a wedding—the farmer took in that the vicar was giving out his cow and shouted out:

as well say, while you are she is a most gentle creature, from vice and a great eater.

Those Nice Large Buttons.

as a nice little story conducive to a seed popularity of hooks and eyes seed to it the Chicago packers great sample. Said a resident of that waste anything as a centralis—everything is made the squeal. They can't catch is wasted. Funny thing what the blood. It is all caught in and after it clots is carted offing house, where powerful manasy stamping it into buttons, sof blood are a novelty. It is been stamp of the big dies, and a fact of that they wear remarkably has are distinguished by their pear red color."—New York Sun.
