Butter and Eggs

There is no prospect that more than 35-40 cents (the prevailing price) will be paid by retail merchants for new laid eggs again this spring. The price will probably remain at this figure for a week or possibly two weeks and will then drop again. The supply of new laid eggs is growing, but is still not equal to the demand. Choice dairy butter is still bringing 27-30 cents per pound.

Alberta Hay

In Car Lots at Shipping Point (Special despatch from Calgary Grain and Supply Co.)

Quotations for No. 1 upland hay range from $7 to $8 per ton at common points throughout Alberta. No. 1 Timothy brings $12 to $14. Deliveries are much slower on account of the cold snap with a slightly stronger undertone. With continued cold there will probably be an advance in prices.
