ROMAN CATHOLIC

ROME, Dec. 8.—The Vatican has been informed that a contingent of British bluejackets from the flagship Duncan will arrive in Rome shortly...

An exchange has the following on certain phases of social life: If Long-fellow yet lived, instead of telling us that he "believed in the bridge at midnight," he might have said...

"The Catholic position in the United States," says a recent writer, "seems an ideal one for missionary work."

Mrs. Gertrude Halle Lanman, widow of the late William C. Lanman, has joined the Catholic church.

THE ANGLICAN

The Christian World, London, acknowledges the receipt from a Newfoundland correspondent of a New Year's message...

The dean of Norwich, England is one of the many Anglican clergymen in the world who have given their lives to the service of the poor...

THE PRESBYTERIAN

Among recent missionary news we have read an account of a mission full of promise and rapid growing strength in the district of country...

Speaking of the comparative growth of the various churches in the United States, Rev. Dr. Carson of Brooklyn says: "Four and one-tenth per cent. increase in the Unitarian Church while the increase in the Presbyterian churches as a whole was 44.8 per cent."

The Presbyterian Standard gives good advice to the preacher. The pulpit is no place for speculation or a gospel of doubt.

BAPTISTS

The Baptist Union of Scotland, which has just had its annual meeting, reports that in membership there was a decrease of 30,516, but that last year's increase was 13,783.

Japanese Baptists were much blessed in their work last year. Four hundred and two converts were baptized.

ST. JOHN CELEBRATES CHRISTMAS DAY, IDEAL WEATHER, SPIRIT OF GOOD WILL IS UNIVERSAL

Enjoyable Functions at Public Institutions—Many Presentations of Public Interest—Special Christmas Services in the Churches—Good Behaviour of the Crowds—Lack of Snow the Only Drawback

Christmas Day, 1909, was celebrated by the people of St. John in the usual, but happy manner. The weather was all that could be desired, the day being one of the finest and brightest of the early winter. The lack of snow was a drawback to a certain degree, but enabled those who have their meals here to return on board the steamer till late in the evening.

The religious side of the celebration of the day was observed by special Christmas services in the majority of the city churches. The Presbyterian congregations of the city held a united service in St. Stephen's church in the morning. The Baptist churches held their Christmas services yesterday.

At the hotels the guests and those residents of the city who took their Christmas dinner there were favored with special Christmas menus. In all cases the food was elaborately decorated and formed valuable souvenirs of the occasion.

At the public institutions of the city, Christmas dinners were served and the magnificent weather of Christmas day qualified practically every person in St. John to go out and enjoy the places of public amusement.

At the Opera House with two performances, the Mikado, the Holburn Opera Company opened its engagement at the Opera House with two performances. The Mikado was the evening. The Show Girls was played in the afternoon.

At the Grand Union Hotel, the employees of the Grand Union Hotel were each presented with a turkey, and the unmarried each received a present of gold.

MANY PRESENTATIONS OF PUBLIC INTEREST

The numerous presentations which were made throughout the city took place at various times. Some were made on Christmas Eve, others on Christmas Day, and many on the morning of the 31st.

At the Royal Hotel Messrs. Raymond and Doherty were pleasantly surprised when the employees presented them with handsome candelabra. The presentations were made by Thomas B. Reynolds in a few fitting remarks.

At the Hotel Dufferin the employees presented them with a handsome memorandum book, bound in red Morocco. The Clifton House also had a handsome menu card which was decorated with a sprig of mistletoe.

AGED MONTREAL WOMAN THE VICTIM OF A BRAWL

Body Thrown On—Montreal Police Investigate—Two Arrested Following

MONTREAL, Dec. 28.—Apparently as the result of a drunken family quarrel Mrs. Lascelles, a woman of about seventy years of age, was found lying in front of the place where she resided at a late hour Saturday night by a passerby.

At St. Mary's church, venerable Archbishop Raymond last evening preached on "Lessons on the Christmas season." In the morning he was held at St. Luke's. On Christmas day there were two services, one at 9 a.m. and one at 11 a.m.

At St. John's Presbyterian Church, Rev. J. A. H. Anderson preached at both services yesterday. The morning service was on the text, "Unto us a Child is born, unto us a Son is given."

CHRISTMAS DINNERS ENJOYED BY THE POOR

Salvation Army Feeds Many—The Day in Other Institutions

Christmas Day was most fittingly observed in several of the public institutions in the city, and festivities of all kinds were greatly enjoyed by the inmates. Christmas dinners were prepared in fine style, and music and social-intercourse also formed part of the enjoyment.

At St. John's Presbyterian Church, Rev. J. A. H. Anderson preached at both services yesterday. The morning service was on the text, "Unto us a Child is born, unto us a Son is given."

AT THE CATHEDRAL

At the Cathedral on Christmas morning, Pontifical High Mass was celebrated, with His Lordship Bishop Casey as celebrant. Rev. W. M. Duke presided. In the afternoon Pontifical Vespers were sung. On Sunday, Rev. M. O'Brien preached in the morning.

GERMAIN STREET CHURCH

At Germain Street Baptist Church, Rev. Mr. Gregg preached at both services yesterday. Both sermons were appropriate to the season. In the afternoon the Sunday school held a special Christmas service. The music was furnished by the children of the school and was of a special nature.

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH

At St. Andrew's church Rev. David Lang preached at both services yesterday. The morning sermon was on "The men of the east and the Star of Bethlehem." In the evening Rev. Mr. Lang took the group which gathered about the Saviour's cradle at the time of His birth, and showed how the old, modern society as far as religion is concerned.

PORTLAND STREET CHURCH

Rev. Nell McLaughlan, of Portland Street Methodist Church, preaching his Christmas sermon to his congregation from Isaiah vi. 14, said in part—Jesus is not the outcome of human development, but of a miraculous conception, otherwise why was He not duplicated in the course of the last 1800 years?

TRINITY CHURCH

At Trinity Church the pastor, Rev. E. A. Armstrong, preached from the text—"Let us go into Bethlehem." The sermon was directed to the members of the congregation, and dealt with the relations which exist between a pastor and his people, his share in their pleasures and their sorrows.

At the Hotel Dufferin the employees presented them with a handsome memorandum book, bound in red Morocco. The Clifton House also had a handsome menu card which was decorated with a sprig of mistletoe.

BRUSSELS STREET CHURCH

In the Brussels Street United Baptist Church, the pastor, Rev. A. J. Coburn, set forth the fact that while it might be unprofitable for men to attempt to describe Jesus in terms of deity, it was essential to the full expression of the faith of Christians that an attempt should be made to conceive of deity in terms of Jesus. Men who believe that God was manifest in Him lost the fear and the enforced reverence for a powerful Being of lightness and positive righteousness had gained a sense of fellowship with a Being who was actively working, and a conformity with the eternal laws of life for the establishment of a kingdom of righteousness.

MAIN STREET BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. David Hutchison, of Main Street Baptist Church, spoke upon the time, manner, and purpose of Christ's advent. His text was taken from Isaiah iv. 4 and 5. Rev. Mr. Hutchison said in part—Aided by revelation we see the waiting shepherds sad and heard. Not less than they, we return from the little town of Bethlehem glorifying and praising God for the things which we have seen and heard. Christmas time means to us, as it meant to the shepherds of old, that Heaven has come down to earth, that we may be lifted up to heaven.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH

At St. John's Stone Church the pastor, Rev. G. A. Kurling, preached upon "Christ's Love," touching upon its height, strength, depth, and breadth. The sermon was directed to the members of the congregation, and dealt with the relations which exist between a pastor and his people, his share in their pleasures and their sorrows.

DOUGLAS AVENUE CHURCH

Rev. J. C. B. Appel, of Douglas Avenue Christian Church, put his Christmas message as follows:—But of Christ as seen by the shepherds, the fact that Christ was born in the lowly position He did was an indication that the world was in need of a savior who would not be content with the weak and insignificant. To the ignorant shepherds He gave a distinct message, and to the wise men simply a star which they must follow and a meaning which they must discover for themselves.

VICTORIA STREET CHURCH

In Victoria Street Baptist Church the morning service was conducted by the pastor, Rev. B. H. Nobles, and Rev. Benjamin F. Frazier. The text for the evening from Isaiah ix. 6—"His name shall be called wonderful." Rev. Mr. Nobles, awakened interest and hope, and his coming brought pardon and power. Frazier followed His coming of that time, and all His coming since. Those who received His blessings always received Him, and if He came in the time of the campaign His coming would bring enthusiasm to the despondent and renewed hope in the heart-sore and weary.

CENTENARY CHURCH

The Christmas sermons at Centenary Church were preached by Dr. Chas. Flanders, the pastor. On Christmas Day Rev. George Potts preached. The morning service on Sunday was a children's service. The text from which Dr. Flanders preached to the children was—"For not for I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people." Special music was sung by a children's choir. The evening service was one of a series in which the character of Christ is being commended to the world. No nation can rise higher than its God. Rome and Greece developed and increased as long as they believed in their gods, as soon as they reached a certain standard their gods could help them no more. They were then, they were decayed. But the longer a nation has followed the teachings of Jesus Christ, the more they have prospered, and the more tenaciously have they held to their Christ. Christianity is a thing of the past ages, but is something for the present and the future.

CARLETON METHODIST CHURCH

In the Carleton Methodist Church, Rev. Mr. Heaney preached upon "The Uniqueness of Christ." The Christmas had many features, he said, which tended to distract the attention from the religious aspect of the festival. Jesus was unique in character. There had been many teachers, but only one Christ. He was unique in His methods. They were in contradiction to the preconceived ideas of the people of His time and also of the spirit of the world today. He proclaimed his spirit and truth into the lives of His disciples and they became the salt of the earth—the light of the world. He came to save the world—not a few out of it. The Christian was a follower of Christ and gave himself to the service of humanity. His preaching was unique. It was vital and positive. Christmas Day was observed, but its spirit should be observed through the year.

ST. STEPHEN'S CHURCH

At St. Stephen's Church last evening Rev. Gordon Dickie preached on the subject, "Universal Religion." His text was—"Behold, I bring you glad tidings of great joy." There were two facts that every Christian should accept, particularly at this season of the year. They were, "One God and One Religion." The prophets gave the idea of one God. To Jesus belonged the honor of preaching one religion. He taught that there was one God for all people. He came to break up the religious monopoly of the day. One religion did not mean one denomination. Jesus encouraged denominations. He laid stress on spirit, not on form.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH

At St. John's Presbyterian Church, Rev. J. A. H. Anderson preached at both services yesterday. The morning service was on the text, "Unto us a Child is born, unto us a Son is given."

ABLE AND INSPIRING SERMONS APPROPRIATE TO THE DAY DELIVERED

The services at the churches on Christmas day were well attended. The morning services yesterday were also well attended. The storm which began at about noon, however, seriously affected the attendance at the evening services. In many of the churches the Christmas sermons were not preached until yesterday, but all Sunday partook of the nature of the season. In several of the Sunday schools special services were held.

INTERNATIONAL CONGRESS

Max Nordan Delivered Which He Expected of Jewish Nation

HAMBURG, Dec. 25.—The International Zionist Congress, the first in Germany, opened here today with a large attendance. David Wolffsohn, Cologne, president of the executive committee, greeted the delegates.

He outlined the present status and outlook of Zionism, pointing out the particular reference to the fact that Palestine is now under a constitutional government. Max Nordan, of Paris, the former living Zionist, took the chair and delivered a speech, which was met with great enthusiasm. Zionists, he said, must not believe that it is their duty to follow the young Turks with out discrimination. They are a political party of the Osman empire.

Miss Mary O'Brien Municipal Controversy

BOSTON, Dec. 25.—Fighting to hold a position that has been shorn of compensation in an effort to remove the incumbent, Miss Mary O'Brien of Lowell, assistant superintendent of the Massachusetts State Department, is the centre of a peculiar political controversy.

For six months the Civil Service Commission has been endeavouring to remove young woman from office, but she has refused to resign. The commission then her pay was stopped, and finally the commissioners have, through the superior court, dismissed her. A conflict between the city ordinance and Civil Service rules is responsible.

THE BEAUTIFUL PRESENT

Three Inches of Snow More Than 100,000 Given Free Christmas

NEW YORK, N.Y., Dec. 25.—Christmas was brought to New York a snow storm, cheering all who delight in a wintry holiday, softening the rumble of what little traffic was abroad in the streets and especially gladdening the heart of the small boys with the new sled. The snowfall, which was the only one of the season with the exception of a light fall on Thanksgiving Eve, continued into the night covering the streets nearly three inches deep.

United After Twenty Years

Meet by Chance—Lawyer's Long Distance Call Comes at the Right Moment

NEWYER, Colo., Dec. 25.—Chas. H. and John W. Harrison, brothers who had not seen each other for twenty years, were strangely reunited here to-night through a telephone call. More than twenty years ago, Charles Harrison, then a young boy, had fled from home at Lawrence, Kas. He drifted to Colorado, and became a successful mining prospector. In the meantime John W. Harrison settled in Wyoming, and became one of the construction engineers in the Union Pacific service.

Today Charles Harrison went to the office of Attorney S. D. Krump on legal business, and while he was there the telephone rang.
