

IN SYMPATHY WITH SCHEME.

Aldermen Approve of Idea of Hospital For Children.

Mayor Stewart Suggested Appointing a Permanent Auditor.

Would Remove Appointing of Poll Clerks From Aldermen.

The members of the Finance Committee at its final session of the year last evening had unfolded to them the scheme by which Miss Jeanette Lewis hopes to raise sufficient funds to build a hospital for sick children similar to the John Ross Robertson institution in Toronto. What Miss Lewis asked for from the committee was that it should sanction the proposed new institution being built on the City Hospital grounds. Miss Lewis does not appear to be at all disturbed with the stupendous task she has undertaken, and there was no suggestion of compromise in her manner as she related her plans to the aldermen last night. It just had to be built, she told them.

Miss Lewis said she had arranged with her brother-in-law, C. E. Kohl, of Kohl & Castle, who control the western vaudeville circuit, to do the booking for Bennett's Theatre for five weeks, beginning January 27th to March 10th. It was proposed to give a better class of attractions than had been given there, and it was optional continuing the arrangements for two weeks longer. She proposes selling 48,000 tickets on a percentage basis, fifty per cent. of the proceeds going to the hospital. Miss Lewis expects to realize $18,000, of which $12,000 will go to building the hospital and the other $6,000 to the charities of the city. The proposed building will accommodate twenty-six patients and will have all modern conveniences.

Of course, the city will be expected to maintain the institution. Asked about equipping the institution, Miss Lewis said her brother-in-law had such a scheme in effect in what he called "a jay town like Hamilton." The result was a little wagger whereby Mr. Kohl is to equip the building if Miss Lewis is able to raise the funds to build it.

The aldermen expressed themselves greatly in sympathy with the move, and after thanking Miss Lewis for her courageous way in which she had undertaken such a task, approved of the scheme, providing subject to the approval of the Corporation Governors.

When the committee came to deal with the by-law appointing poll clerks, Mayor Stewart suggested that they recommended to next year's Council that hereafter the appointing of the poll clerks be removed entirely from aldermanic control and be placed entirely in the hands of the City Clerk. Without any comment the aldermen turned a deaf ear to the Mayor's request.

The committee adopted the recommendation of the City Auditors, who advised that the carrying out of the extensions be more carefully looked after in the future. The auditors, who now receive $500 a year each, asked for an increase. Mayor Stewart said that if the committee should consider the advisability of appointing a permanent Auditor, some of the aldermen thought this objectionable, however, as a permanent man would be in danger of becoming friendly with every one around the City Hall, and not attending to business as strictly as he otherwise would. They also took it for granted that a permanent Auditor would command a princely salary. The present auditors were reappointed, with no mention made as to a salary increase.

City Clerk Kent said he would require another clerk in his office after the first of the year as a result of the flood of papers that would pour in from the assessment department about local improvements. Ald. Kennedy was rather dubious about such appointments. He said he understood that if a clerk was appointed in the City Hall he had to be killed or carried out before he left.

"It is only newspaper talk," said Mr. Kent, whereat everybody grinned.

Mr. Kent was authorized to employ a clerk for three months at a salary not to exceed $10 a week.

The city agreed, in addition to the $1,000 grant made to the Queen Victoria memorial fund, to give another $500 in case the ladies were unable to collect $10,000. It was announced that they had collected within $300 of the required amount. Mayor Stewart urged the committee to pay the money over. The aldermen agreed to pay over the $1,000 now, but some of them thought they had no business dealing with something that should be left over for next year's council, and decided not to pay the other $300 until the statue is completed.

The Finance Committee will recommend that the council appeal to the Legislature for permission for Hamilton to elect a Board of Control, similar to Toronto, if it seems fit. The Legislature was appealed to last year on this question, but at such a late date that it refused to deal with the matter.

The committee recommended next year's council to appeal to the Government, and see if an arrangement could be made for the present registrar to act as master of titles if the Torrens system of land transfer were adopted here. If this can be done without any expense to the city the aldermen favored the system.

BOY HELD HIS SLEIGH,
And Was Dragged to His Death Beneath Train.

Kingston, Dec. 19.—A sad accident occurred at the point where the Bay of Quinte Railway crosses Montreal street. As the 4 o'clock train going north approached this crossing, Kenneth Hughes, aged seven, with two little girls, were crossing the track, the lad pulling a small sleigh.

The wind was blowing in a direction which prevented the children hearing the on-coming train. The girls, however, got well across before the train arrived. The boy was over, too, but the engine caught his sled, which he held on to and was drawn under the wheels and mangled into an unrecognizable shape.

SAW CASTAWAYS.

WERE ON DESERT ISLAND—SHIP SAW THE SIGNAL FIRES.

British Vessel Arriving at Montevideo Reports That Men Are Inhabiting an Isle Off Cape Horn—Are Having a Hard Time.

New York, Dec. 19.—From advices received at the Maritime Exchange, it is believed that a shipwrecked crew is on one of the small islands off Cape Horn. The British ship Raphael, which arrived at Montevideo on Nov. 30th, en route from Callao for Liverpool, reported seeing fires burning on an island far to the southward of the eastern entrance to the Straits of Magellan.

The fires were evidently maintained as signals, as they were large and burned brightly while they could be seen from the Raphael. The machinery of the Raphael was defective at the time, and she kept on her course. However, when she arrived at Montevideo the information was telegraphed to Punta Arenas, and a steam tender has been sent to make a search of the islands. From the description it is believed that the fires were seen on Straggler's Island, which is to the southward of Smyth's Channel.

Shipping men are of the opinion that the castaways may be the crew of part of the crew of the American four-masted barque Arthur Sewall, long overdue at Seattle from Philadelphia. The Sewall, one of the largest American sailing vessels, sailed on April 3rd last, and since that nothing has been heard of her. About two months ago a sealing steamer arrived at Punta Arenas and reported having sighted the upper masts of a large sailing ship sunk to the southward of the Horn. The Sewall carried a crew of thirty-two men.

There are two other vessels now posted as missing at Lloyd's. These are the American barque Adolf Obrig, which sailed from this port for San Francisco on April 10th, and the British barque Silberman, which sailed from Newcastle, N. S. W., for Pisagua, Chile, on March 24th. The Obrig had a crew of twenty-seven persons aboard.

A party cast away on one of the islands off the Horn would have a very hard time. They are merely fragments of time. They are merely fragments of time, without vegetation, and the only food to be obtained is the shellfish on the rocky shores.

KNOX VS COOKE.

Debate in Toronto Next Month—Essay Contest Winners.

Knox Church Young Men's Union held its weekly meeting last night, and considerable business was transacted. It was announced that the debate with Cooke Church, Toronto, would be held in Toronto on Jan. 23, and Messrs. S. H. Lees, W. E. Knappan and H. Truscott were appointed to uphold the interests of Knox. The speaker of the evening was Mr. G. T. Schouler, of the Canadian Westinghouse Co. He gave a very interesting talk on electrical transformers.

He handled the subject in a very thorough manner, and explained the mechanical details in such an intelligible way that the members were able to follow him closely. He fully explained the uses of transformers and the importance of the transmission of electric power. He was extended a hearty vote of thanks. Afterwards the members adjourned to the basement, where refreshments were served and a very pleasant time was spent. T. M. Wright brought in the decision of the judges for the essay contest held last week. The prizes were awarded as follows: First, A. Groves, subject, "A Financial Dissertation"; second, J. Slemmon, "Patriotism"; third, J. McBride, "Is a Monarchy or a Republic Preferable?" He stated that there had been great difficulty in selecting the winners, and congratulated those who had taken part for the excellent way they had written their essays. The next meeting will be held on Jan. 2. The Executive is arranging for another popular series of programmes for the new year.

LIVE STOCK MEN.

National Association Meets in Ottawa in February.

The convention of the National Live Stock Association to be held in Ottawa on February 5th, 6th and 7th, 1908, promises to be a most important meeting. The programme being prepared provides for the consideration of such national topics as the export, import, and interprovincial trade in breeding and commercial live stock. The relationship of transportation companies to the live stock industry will be discussed with the representatives of the health of Canadian live stock, proposed amendments of customs regulations, and the Scottish premium system of hiring stables will all be considered with a view to improving present conditions in Canada in regard to these matters.

Already an attendance of representative stock men from each of the several provinces is assured. Most of the Record and Provincial Live Stock Associations have fulfilled the requirements of affiliation. It is the privilege of Agricultural Societies and exhibition associations which paid in prizes for live stock in 1907 a sum of $500 or upwards to affiliate with the National Association by sending to the Live Stock Commissioner, Ottawa, a list of its members. Societies affiliated in this way are entitled to representation at the convention by its president or secretary.

MEDIUM FAILED

To Confuse the Sa Heras at Bennett's Theatre.

Accepting the invitation that is given at every performance at Bennett's Theatre, by the Sa-Heras, yesterday afternoon a medium took the opportunity to display his occult power—with dire results to himself.

The entertainment given by these artists at the Bennett Theatre is daily announced as a scientific one, nothing supernatural or miraculous being claimed. The spiritualist evidently had overlooked this fact, and started out to confuse, and expose, the Sa-Heras, and incidentally boost his own particular views, with the result that when he made an ignominious exit from the stage, at the request of the manager, Mr. George Driscoll, the artists had the good-will of the audience and the investigator retired in confusion.

The Sa-Heras give a most pleasing performance of mind reading, and invite a committee from the audience at every performance to investigate their methods, claiming nothing but the ability to puzzle, amuse and entertain the audience. Their act is one known all over the world as the best of its kind, and has been seen in Hamilton before, when they made many friends by the high order of their work. They invite patrons of the theatre to act on the committee, thus doing away with any suggestion of collusion, either on the stage or in the audience, and if rumor is true the clairvoyant who was the victim of yesterday's fiasco will be consulting his lares and penates, with a view to appearing next Saturday evening to further confuse these performers.

A POPULAR PASTOR.

Presentation to Rev. and Mrs. Sycamore Wednesday Night.

At the prayer meeting held in James Street Baptist Church Wednesday night a pleasant surprise was given Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Sycamore. At the conclusion of the meeting, Mr. A. Lutes took the chair, and called on Mr. Henry New, who, on behalf of the congregation and the different branches of the church, asked Mr. Sycamore to accept a handsome mahogany Turkish chair and a purse of gold. Mrs. Sycamore was presented with a Limoges dinner and tea set. Mr. New spoke of the pleasant relations between the pastor and his wife, and the church. Mr. Sycamore replied in a few well chosen words, expressing his gratitude for such a magnificent token of the church's love and esteem. He also thanked the friends for the gift to his wife.

PRIEST ACTS.

Promises Solution of Trouble at Toheran and Quiet Reigns.

Teheran, Dec. 20.—Another quick change in the situation at the Persian capital has been brought about by the intervention of the priest, who, with the promise that a satisfactory solution of the crisis will be found have induced the opposing factions to disperse a second time. Consequently Artillery Square has been vacated, and the disorderly villagers have returned to their homes. The tents on Artillery Square, however, are left standing, so as to be ready for use in case of a sudden recall to arms.

The members and the supporters of Parliament have left the assembly building, and the intention is that the assembly meet again in ordinary session tomorrow.

STRANGE TO HIM.

CONVICT SEES NEW YORK AFTER 47 YEARS' EXILE.

Led Through Mazes of Great City Like Little Child by Warden of Sing Sing—Ward of Salvation Army.

New York, Dec. 19.—A little, old, gray-haired man alighted from a train at the Grand Central station this morning, bewildered and frightened. As the clamor of the street noises reached his ears he shrank close to Warden Jesso Frost of Sing Sing prison, and put his hand trustingly in that official's like a child.

The little, old man was Franz Hoffmann, aged 67, who went to Sing Sing 47 years ago to serve a life term for murder. He was paroled last Thursday, and today was brought to the office of Mrs. Ballington Booth, of the Volunteers of America.

On the other side of Frost walked another paroled prisoner. He was Thomas Shea, whom the pardon board freed after he had served 22 years. Like Hoffmann, the noise and bustle of the city frightened him. Both men were as nervous as little children. All they could say in reply to questions was: "It's very wonderful, very wonderful."

On the journey to Mrs. Booth's office the two men gazed in amazement at the elevated road, the subway, and the surface cars speeding along, as if it seemed to them, without any motive power. At the Booth home the two were left to return to Sing Sing. They were taken in charge immediately by Harold Booth, a son of Mrs. Ballington Booth, who started with them soon after noon for the Booths' home in Sparkhill, N. Y. There they will live until places can be found for them.

ATTACKED KING LEOPOLD.

Belgian Socialist Creates a Scene in the Senate.

Brussels, Dec. 19.—M. Elbers, Socialist, created a scene in the Belgian Senate to-day by endorsing the attack upon King Leopold, delivered recently before the Chamber of Deputies by M. Van der Smissen, the Socialist leader in the Chamber. M. Elbers declared that the country was tired of the perpetual scandal in connection with King Leopold. He characterized the King as a "Royal galant," who was always on his way to visit a new family in France. The speaker intimated that the King might make an attempt to change the Belgian succession to the throne.

Several Ministers and one Republican Senator rebuked M. Elbers, declaring that the person of King Leopold should be respected.

A floating debt is a poor life preserver.

CANDIDATES HAD THEIR SAY.

Addressed North End Improvement Society Last Night.

Think That Section Has Been Well Looked After.

Mr. Williamson, New Candidate, Made Good Impression.

The North End Improvement Society held a mass meeting in Ferguson Avenue Baptist Church last night to receive verbal reports from its three representatives in the City Council and to introduce its new aldermanic candidate, Mr. J. A. Williamson, a young but successful business man. The society extended an invitation to all electors below the bridge to attend the meeting, but not many accepted. In fact the attendance of members was small, compared with meetings held earlier in the year when the Ferrie street bridge and the Emerald street bridge were live questions.

Mr. Edward Porter, President of the Society, occupied the chair, and with him on the platform were Ald. Kennedy, Ald. Jutten, Ald. A. J. Wright and Mr. J. A. Williamson. It was decided before the speaking commenced to limit the addresses to twenty minutes.

Ald. Jutten was the first representative to take the stump and when the time bell sounded he said he was not more than half through and asked for an extension of time. On motion, duly seconded, he was permitted to speak ten minutes longer. He read a list of resolutions which he had either moved or seconded during the year as a member of the Sewers Committee or the Board of Works. He and Ald. Kennedy kept the city officials and the Grand Trunk Railway officials on the jump until the Ferrie street bridge was built, and the shudge at the Ferguson avenue works was covered with earth.

According to figures given by him, over $11,000 was expended by the city below the bridge. Not including the two bridges, he said, that $1,900 more had been spent below the bridge this year than last, when the two Mayorality candidates were making a big play for the North Enders' votes and were doing what they possibly could for that section of the city. He took up some time in explaining his stand on the question of water charges. He said he opposed the abolition of the $2 charge for baths on principle. According to figures he received from the Waterworks Department over 1,000 people below the bridge paid water rates but only 130 of these had baths. If the bath rates were abolished it would benefit only 130 people. Instead of striking off the charges for baths, which in the entire city would amount to $12,000, he advocated a general reduction of water rates of ten or twelve per cent. This would benefit all who pay water rates and not the few who have baths.

Mr. Jutten announced that he would do all he could as a representative of the North End Improvement Society if re-elected. He said, however, that he will be on another ticket.

Ald. Kennedy made a short, practical address. He said he had been busy in preparing a detailed report of his actions as an alderman, but his record was no doubt known to all present, if not to most of the north side ratepayers. He agreed with Ald. Jutten that the G. T. R. was the fairest of the corporations that the city had to fight this year, but he did not get anything from corporations the aldermen have to keep after them all the time. Compared with the speeches of Ald. Jutten and Ald. Wright, Ald. Kennedy's was a modest one.

Ald. A. J. Wright defended the aldermen who have been referred to by one newspaper as "gubsters." He did not think that any harm was done in thoroughly discussing the various questions that came up in committee or in the Council. He also defended the City Hall employees. He thought most of them earned their salaries.

Mr. J. A. Williamson, who was strong in mind although weak in backbone, Ald. Wright said he voted to have the bath rate struck off and he believed he was right in doing so. Mr. Wright was given an extra ten minutes, by the society's Mr. J. A. Williamson, for his business being done on business lines and if elected he would endeavor to see that the city was not bled by any corporations or individuals. He said neither of a year there was some kind of a frame up to "steal" the city. This year it was the same old sucker. He referred to the third main by-law, and the House of Refuge scandal as "frame ups" of years gone by. He wanted to see the North End Park put in better condition. He pointed out that the worst end had the Dundurn and Victoria Parks, the south side had the mountain and the mountain drive and the east enders were well provided for. Mr. Williamson made a good impression.

Ex-Ald. Fearnside and others asked questions of Ald. Wright who answered some of them and then called on Ald. Farrar. The latter spoke briefly.

A vote of thanks was tendered Rev. James Bracken and the church officers for the use of the church.

Vitagraph on Saturday.

The big moving picture company is out with another very attractive programme of subjects for Saturday. Its pictures are so steady, and have none of the quivering so common to moving picture machines. One subject for Saturday, entitled "Bird Nesting," will be especially interesting to boys and policemen, as well as to school teachers. Another, "A Tale of the Sea," is as good as any drama to be seen on the modern stage. In fact, it is a whole two hours' play put before the audience in about fifteen minutes. The programme contains twenty-two subjects in all.
