

The Poet's Corner.

Two Miners.

There was a man, it said, one time,
Who went astray in his youthful prime,
Can the brain keep cool and the heart keep quiet
When the blood is a river that's running riot?
And boys will be boys, the old folks say,
And a man is better who's had his day.
The sinner reformed and the preacher told Of the prodigal son who came back to the fold, And Christian people threw open the door With a warmer welcome than ever before.
Wealth and honor were his to command,
And a spotless woman gave him her hand, And the world strewed their pathway with flowers and bloom, Crying, "God bless lady and God bless groom."

There was a maiden who went astray In the golden dawn of her life's young day, She had more passion and heart than head And she followed blindly where fond love led,
And love unchecked is a dangerous guide To wander at will by a fair girl's side.
The woman repented and turned from sin: But no door opened to let her in, The preacher prayed that she might be forgiven,
But told her to look for mercy—in heaven.
For this is the law on earth, we know, That the woman is stoned while the man may go.

A brave man wedded her after all;
But the world said frowning, "We shall not call."

To the Rescue.

"When all other remedies fail," for Bowel Complaint, Colic, Cramps, Dysentery, &c., when Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry comes to the rescue.
Thus writes W. H. Crocker, Druggist, Watson, Ohio, adds that "its sales are large and increasing."

Household Hints.

Save your cold tea; it is excellent for cleaning grained wood.

CORN PUDDING.—Grate ears of green corn. Add to a quart of it a teaspoonful of cream or milk, a lump of butter the size of an egg, and a teaspoonful of salt. Mix all well together; put it in a pan and bake one hour. To be eaten as a vegetable.

TOMATO SOUP.—To one quart of boiling water add one quart of tomatoes; boil again and put in one teaspoonful of soda; as soon as it has ceased foaming, add one pint of milk, four rolled crackers, butter, pepper, and salt, and serve very hot.

A NUTRITIOUS BROTH.—A quart of a teaspoonful of beef extract, the yolk of an egg beaten up, a cup of boiling water, a little salt added, and served with a slice of hot toast, makes a palatable and nutritious luncheon, and an excellent repast for invalids.

SOFT GINGERBREAD.—Excellent soft gingerbread is made of one cup of sugar, one cup of butter, one cup of molasses, four cups of sifted flour, half a tablespoonful of soda dissolved in a little hot water, one tablespoonful of ginger, three well-beaten eggs, the rind grated of one lemon. Ratins may be added.

NEVER put a particle of soap about your silver if you would have it retain its original lustre. When it wants polishing take a piece of soft leather, and whitening and rub hard. The proprietor of one of the oldest silver establishments in the city of Philadelphia says that the housekeepers ruin their silver by washing it in soap and suds, as it makes it look like pewter.

A Great Awakening.
There is a great awakening of the sluggish organs of the human system whenever Burdock Blood Bitters are taken.
It arouses the torpid liver to action, regulates the bowels and the kidneys, purifies the blood, and restores a healthy tone to the system generally.

SPIED GRAPES.—Five pounds of grapes, three pounds of sugar, two tablespoonfuls each of cinnamon and allspice, one-half teaspoonful of cloves; pulp the grapes, boil the skins till tender, cook the pulp and strain through a sieve; add to the skins, with sugar, spices and vinegar to suit taste; boil all this together thoroughly; when done put in jar and cork tightly.

13 "HACKMETACK," a lasting and fragrant perfume. Price 25 and 50 cts.
For sale by J. Wilson, druggist.

BAKED EGGS.—Mince half a pound of lean boiled ham, add an equal quantity of cracker crumbs. Moisten and spread the mixture over a platter; scoop out four round holes as large as an egg, and drop an egg from the shell into each hole; season with salt, cayenne and butter; put the dish in the oven, and serve them when the eggs are cooked.
The crumbs should be moist enough to take almost a crust when baked.

A Complete Breakdown.
"For ten years," says Jennie M. Har-rett of Wallaceburg, Ont.: "I did not see a well day—was all broken down with dyspepsia, liver complaint, catarrh and debility. Three doctors abandoned hope for me, when Burdock Blood Bitters came to my rescue. It is the best medicine I have ever taken. I say this for the benefit of all suffering as I was."

An antidote for poison by dew, poison oak, ivy, etc., is to take a handful of quackquill, dissolve in water, let it stand half an hour, then paint the poisoned parts with it. Three or four applications will never fail to cure the most aggravated case. Poison from bees, hornets, spider bites, etc., is instantly arrested by the application of equal parts of common salt and bicarbonate of soda, well rubbed in on the place bitten or stung.

each bottle of Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy.
Price 50 cents. For sale by J. Wilson, druggist.

How a Dude Caught Cold.
A slim young man in the height of fashion was violently sneezing in a street car, when a companion remarked, "Aw, Charles, dear boy, how'd you catch that dreadful cold." "Aw, dear fellow, I left my cane in the lower hall to-day, and in sucking the ivory handle, so dreadful cold, it chilled me almost to death." "If Charles had used Dr. Harvey's Red Pine Gum his cold would not have been very much." For sale at J.
Wilson's prescription drug store. 11

LIGHT CAKES FROM STALE BREAD.— Light cakes are made in this way; pour hot milk over the broken pieces; when cold mash finely with a spoon or pass through a colander. Add enough of sweet milk to make a thin batter, then one full spoonful of sugar, two or three eggs beaten separately, two tablespoonfuls of good laking powder in the flour, which should be added till the batter is sufficient consistency for frying on a griddle. These cakes will be found delicious, and may be varied by using yellow corn meal instead of flour.

DURABLE WHITEWASH.—Put a half bushel quicklime in a barrel and add boiling water until it is covered nearly six inches deep; cover the barrel to keep the steam in, and when the violent ebullition is over add water enough to bring it to the consistency of cream, allowing four pounds of rice flour to each half bushel of lime, or the rice flour may be mixed with the water for slaking, mixing the flour carefully in cold water before putting it in the hot water. Stir constantly in the hot water until thoroughly set, then pour it all over the lime, as directed.

VEAL SALAD.—Mix one-half teaspoonful of mustard with half a cupful of vinegar. Beat the yolks of two of three eggs with a little salt, until they are quite thick and light; then, stirring briskly all the time, slowly add two or three tablespoonfuls of best salad oil, and four tablespoonfuls of rich, thick, sweet cream. Then add mustard, vinegar, salt and pepper to taste, and some very finely chopped parsley and tarragon.
Pour this sauce over a heaping plateful of cold roasted veal, cut into pieces about an inch long and a quarter-inch thick, cover tightly and let it stand in a cold place for an hour or two. Serve on a platter, and garnish with sprigs of crisp parsley and slices of a hard-boiled egg.

Why They Married.

Tid Bits: We lately sent out postal cards to the married men of a small town in Western New York with the inquiry:
"Why did you marry?" We give a few of the responses:

"That's what I have been trying for eleven years to find out."
"Married to get even with her mother."
"Because I was too lazy to work."
"Because Sarah told me that five other young men had proposed to her."
"The old man thought eight years' courtin' was almost long enough."
"I was lonesome and melancholy, and wanted some one to make me live." "She makes me very lively."
"I was tired of buying ice cream and candies and going to theaters and church, and wanted a rest. Have saved money."
"Please don't stir me up."
"Because I thought she was one among a thousand; now I sometimes think she is a thousand among one."
"I think it was because I was cross-eyed; now I am afflicted with two pairs of cross-eyes daily."
"Because I did not have the experience I have now."
"The governor was going to give me his foot, so I took his daughter's hand."

"I thought it would be cheaper than a breach-of-promise suit."
"That's the same fool question that my friends and neighbors ask me. C. H."
"Because I had more money than I knew what to do with. Now I have more to do than I have money with. B. D." "I wanted a companion of the opposite sex. P. S.—She is still opposite."
"Don't mention it."
"Had difficulty in unlocking the door at night and wanted somebody to let me in."
"I was embarrassed, and gave my wife the benefit of my name so that I could take the benefit of her name, signed to a check."
"Because it is just my luck. P. J."
"I didn't intend to go to do it. S." "I yearned for company. We now have it all the time."
"Have exhausted all the figures in the arithmetic to figure out an answer to your question; between multiplication and division in the family and distraction, in addition, the answer is hard to arrive at."
"I married to get the best wife in the world."
"Because I asked her if she'd have me.
She said she would. I think she's got me."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all restorative tonics. It is a "Goddess" but admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most potent Specific for those Chronic Weaknesses and Diseases peculiar to women. The treatment of many thousands of such cases at the Invalide Hotel and Surgical
