Disillusioning Maude.

RUTH CAMERON.

which she would doubtless have called righteous indignation.

"You mean that she does things that Maude wouldn't approve of?"

"Oh, not exactly, but she's such a selfish thing and so hazy, and Maude seems to think she is perfect."

More "righteous indignation" in both eyes and voice.

If all the feelings that we justify to ourselves as righteous indignation could be analyzed, I wonder what elements would be found in them?

The Joy Of Relieving One's Mind.

Envy, I suspect, would be one; spite, another; intolerance, another; and the enjoyment of relieving one's mind, another.

The girl whose conversation I have chronicled fancied that her desire to disillusion Maude as to her younger sister's perfections came from a wish to do Maude a good turn because she liked her. I am afraid it came from nothing at all except the desire to do the younger sister an evil turn because she disliked her.

The older sister enjoys idealizing the younger girl. She finds exercise in that love for the idealism that it is good for the soul to keep alive.

What good would there be in snatching ing it away (supposing that could be done)? None at all.

Anyone who feels a desire to open someone's eyes or give someone a piece of his mind had better inspect his motives before yielding to the impulse.

Most people who keep giving others pieces of their mind are unduly prodigal. They could better keep all they have for themselves.

That "Snake In The Grass."

The anonymous letter, that "snake in the grass," is another manifestation of a spiteful spirit and should be treated with the contempt it deserves.

When people really want to help us by setting us on our guard, or by warning us of the foibles of those whom we love, they don't write anonymous letters, and they don't say disagreeable things.

Instead, they are diffident and timid. It is the tools (and the knives), you know, who rush in and the angels who fear to tread.

What Are You Doing for that Eczema?

"Nothing; I've about given up trying to cure it."

"That is not wise. Do as I did and you will probably be cured in a short time. I used Zylex and Zylex Soap with it and my Eczema began to improve at once. A couple of boxes cured. You can get Zylex at your druggists."

Zylex, 50c. a box; Zylex Soap, 25c. a cake.

Fishing.

By GEORGE FITCH.

Author of "At Good Old St. John's."

Fishing is one of man's most fascinating methods of letting time go on as it dam pleases.

"A man who fishes is a man who has two hours or two weeks which he doesn't need. So he throws them in the river."

The object in fishing is to catch something. This is not hard to do. The man who cannot catch malaria while fishing or thunder after returning home is no fisherman at all.

However, the most satisfactory thing to catch while fishing is fish. This is because a fish is the most difficult thing to catch. Only a man with great patience can catch a fish. He must wait until the fish gets ready to be caught, like a merchant who doesn't advertise.

An impatient man would dam a river, pump out the water, and catch his fish by the tail. But this is not considered good ethics in fishing.

Impatient men have no business fishing, but should stick to business. Some people regard fishing as an exercise. These people take $37 worth of implements and travel 400 miles north, where they spend ten days wading streams and trying to drop an artificial fly into the mouth of a trout at forty rods with a patent rod.

Others regard fishing as a rest. Men of this kind take a day off, hire a boat and sit in it all day long under the shade of a straw hat, soaking angle-worms in the river and soaking themselves in preservatives until the mosquitoes fly sideways as they leave them with a full cargo.

Still others regard fishing as an excuse. It is useless to offer a fisherman of this sort a job because he is already as busy as he wants to be.

Fishing develops patience and encourages the fisher to think grand and solemn thoughts when the mosquitoes are not bothering him. However, it is not wise to fish much before the age of forty. Men who begin to fish early develop too much patience. Some of them are still waiting, at eighty, for good luck to come along and haul them to prosperity by one leg.

Catching fish is largely a matter of luck. But telling about them is a matter of imagination. The best fisher can hardly make a living at it, but a man who is skilful at explaining why he didn't land a seven-foot musk-alonge is laying the foundation of a successful career as a press agent.

Stafford's Phoratox Cough Cure is a good preparation for all kinds of Coughs and Colds.

Diocesan Synod.

JULY 10th, 1916.
The Lord Bishop took the chair at 3.30 p.m. After prayers the rolls were called when 31 clergy and 21 lay delegates answered to their names.

The minutes of the previous session were read, passed and signed by the Bishop.

Mr. Luke Pittman gave notice of a motion re work of the Women's Association in the Diocese.

Upon motion Canon Smart was granted leave to withdraw his resolution regarding the Diocesan funds. In introducing his resolution in connection with a Diocesan Mission, the Rev. Rural Dean Richards spoke earnestly and feelingly, and made a powerful appeal for an extension of the spiritual life of the church, especially at this crisis in the history of our Empire, and advocated a mission in Newfoundland along similar lines as that to be carried out in the Mother Country.

The Rev. W. J. R. Higgit seconded the resolution, and it was evident from the opinions expressed by the various speakers that Mr. Richards had the sympathy of all the members. As there was a difference of opinion as to the most effective way of carrying it into operation, a committee was appointed by the Bishop to consider the matter and report to the Synod.

Mr. Blackall (upon permission of the chair) gave notice of motion re educational matters.

The Rev. W. J. R. Higgit also gave notice of motion re educational matters.

The House rose at 4.35. EVENING SESSION.
The House resumed at 7.30, the Lord Bishop presiding. After prayers 47 clergy and 33 lay delegates answered their names at roll call.

Rev. H. Farce gave notice of question in connection with Bishop Spencer Lodge.

The Head Master of Bishop, Field College, Mr. Wood, explained the reasons why the college is in the state shown to be by Mr. Dunfield in the Church of England Colleges was introduced by Mr. Brian Dunfield in a lengthy and logical address, in which he clearly pointed out the present condition of the Colleges and laid before the Synod facts and figures backing up his statements.

The Head Master of Bishop, Field College, Mr. Wood, explained the reasons why the college is in the state shown to be by Mr. Dunfield in the Church of England Colleges was introduced by Mr. Brian Dunfield in a lengthy and logical address, in which he clearly pointed out the present condition of the Colleges and laid before the Synod facts and figures backing up his statements.

Canon Bolt and Mr. Blackall expressed their opinions upon Spencer College and eulogized the Principal, Miss Stirling, on the faithful and painstaking way in which the work was performed. Revs. Bayly and Canon Smart also made some comments on the condition of the colleges, the latter gentleman asking what had become of the Field-Spencer Association. The motion being put by the Bishop was carried.

Mr. Dunfield subsequently put his resolutions of which he had already given notice, which were also carried. The Bishop gave several notices one of which was from His Excellency the Governor, intimating that the Recruiting Committee had invited Rev. Mr. Hollands to visit Bonne Bay in the interest of recruiting. No better man could be selected for this work for Mr. Hollands labored in Bonne Bay for nearly a quarter of a century and knows every inch of ground in the parish.

The Bishop then reminded the clerical and lay members of the Synod that an opportunity would be afforded them to have their photos taken tomorrow (Tuesday) afternoon by Mr. Parsons, who would be at the West end of the Cathedral at 3 sharp.

After the Benediction by the Bishop, the session adjourned with the singing of the National Anthem.
