Russia to Assist Germany Against France.

Stinnes Cancels Contracts -- 2200 Newfoundlanders Affected.

French Wants France's 100,000 Troops Augmented. Canadian Minister Dies Suddenly. Lloyd George's Return to Power Predicted.

NEW ISLAND SUFFERS

PARIS, Jan. 17. Düsseldorf correspondent of the agency telegraphs he has received from reliable sources that Stinnes, German industrialist, has cancelled his contracts for iron and steel plants at Bochum, which town was occupied by the German army on Monday in retaliation for the German Government's refusal to supply France or Belgium with coal or coke on any terms. Stinnes had signed with Canadian companies. His pretext, the correspondent states, is that France has cancelled contracts with Stinnes. It is said 2200 workers in Newfoundland will likely be out of work. It is pointed out that French operations in Ruhr are not in any way affected by the cancellation of the French contracts. The reason cited for cancellations is merely a pretext.

RUHR TROUBLES BEGINNING.

LONDON, Jan. 17. The Ruhr stage of the French campaign has reached to-day the announcement that the French government has decided to prevent military operations in the Ruhr. France has put off one hundred thousand troops in the Ruhr Valley, taking her occupation to the extreme limit, if not beyond, of the territory authorized by the treaty, and she is now about to effect the force to compel German mine owners to produce coal for France and Belgium. All France has actually achieved so far has been the fall of the mark to the eighty thousand to the pound sterling, or a drop of nearly forty points within a week. The French intend to take possession of the Ruhr tomorrow and threaten to prevent the recalcitrant mining magnates. The general belief in London is that this will be but the beginning of French troubles and that the bayonet can do everything but pick coal.

RUSSIA WILL ASSIST GERMANY.

LONDON, Jan. 17. The Riga correspondent of the agency says he learns from reliable sources that the Russian Soviet has decided to mobilize five year conscripts with the view to assisting Germany should Germany decide to reach French action.

REACHED A DEADLOCK.

The Perfect Cavalier of Spain.

El Cid was the popular name of a Spanish national hero, born about 1040, he had a career as a "soldier of fortune," which, idealized by tradition, has made The Cid the perfect cavalier of Spain. He first appears in national history when Sancho, the oldest son of Ferdinand I, and King of Castile, was at war with his brother Alfonso. At this time The Cid was already known as the camped or (champion), a name which he won probably by vanquishing in single combat, the champion of Sancho of Navarre.

According to history, The Cid went to the city of Valencia in command of an expedition after King Alfonso, under whose protection the city had been, was defeated in battle by the Almoravides, a new Moslem sect from North Africa. The Cid's expedition proved successful, and he established himself in Valencian territory, and finally became master of Valencia itself. He successfully held the city until 1099, when the troops he had sent against the Almoravides were utterly routed. He, already enfeebled in health, died, it is said, of grief and shame.

POINCARÉ AND FOCH DIFFER.

BERLIN, Jan. 17. It is asserted here that the difficulties the French are encountering in Ruhr have led to the differences between Premier Poincaré and Marshal Foch, the Marshal having demanded more troops owing to the unexpected resistance by the industrial magnates, and that Foch is successful in his demand the French advance will be one of military conquest.

MUSSOLINI WATCHING EVENTS.

ROME, Jan. 17. Premier Mussolini, who had arranged to visit Sicily, Calabria and the Province of Potenza, the stronghold of former Premier Nitti, has postponed his journey owing to the gravity of the international situation which he considers requires his presence in the capital. The Premier is closely watching the development of events in Ruhr with the constant aim of preventing complications which might lead to a renewal of hostilities. Italy is also vitally interested in the collection of the reparations due her, which she needs as urgently as France.

WILL WORK GERMAN FORESTS.

PARIS, Jan. 17. The French, Belgian and Italian Governments to-day gave order to immediately commence working the State forests on the left bank of the Rhine as a penalty for Germany's default, of delivery of timber, as established by the decision of the Reparations Commission on Dec. 26th.

A WAY OUT.

LONDON, Jan. 17. A resolution advocating a moratorium for Germany for an agreed number of years, the immediate fixing of the Reparations at a sum which that country would pay within a reasonable period, and some form of international loan to her, was carried by the Association of the British Chamber of Commerce to-day.

NOVA SCOTIA MINERS MUST CHOOSE.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 17. Notice has been served on the coal miners of Nova Scotia by the International Executive Board of the United Mine Workers of America that they cannot affiliate with the Red International Labor Organization of Moscow and at the same time remain members of the United Mine Workers. It was announced here to-day. The United Mine Workers by this step it was declared, have put themselves directly on record against the radicals who are endeavoring, with Russian examples, "to destroy the American labor movement and substitute there for the principles of Bolshevism." In case the Canadian Local Union concerned attempts to proceed further with their affiliation efforts the Union's leadership has decided to revoke their present power of controlling their own local organization and set up a new one in the territory as was done in Kansas two years ago.

PREDICTS RETURN OF LLOYD GEORGE.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17. Sir Robert Horne, former Chancellor of the British Exchequer, arrived here on the Olympic on a private mission. Viscount Burrell, Proprietor of the London Daily Telegraph also arrived. He predicted the return to power of the Lloyd George group.

Guards Victorious Over St. Bon's.

FAIR EXHIBITION OF HOCKEY.

The opening hockey game of the Newfoundland Hockey Association was played at the Prince's Rink last night between the St. Bon's and Guards teams, before an attendance of twenty-two hundred fans, and resulted in a win for the Guards by the very close margin of 5 goals to 3.

The game, from a spectator's standpoint did not show up to expectations, the play would very likely have been very much at sea, and the brand of hockey cannot be considered good, and only at intervals were the old time flashes of snappy play noticeable. On the other hand, the condition of the ice must be taken into consideration; the surface was not conducive to good hockey by any means, and the players faults must be overlooked for the present. On good ice the play would very likely have been somewhat different, however the players did not keep their positions and the shooting was erratic. Referee Tobin had his hands full on numerous occasions, in checking the players, and the penalty box was well decorated with players of both teams, for infringements of the rules, though the offences committed were only of a minor nature.

THE GAME.

Referee Tobin called the players promptly together at 7.30. Both teams were greeted with a hearty reception as they appeared on the ice. The Guards players looked very neat in their new uniforms of blue and white, while the St. Bon's appeared in their regular uniforms as worn last season. The fans and supporters of the respective teams occupied places of advantage in the enclosure. The teams faced off at 7.40; after the game had been a few minutes under way, his Excellency the Governor and Suite arrived. The party were received by Mr. Angus Reid, President of the Rink, and P. E. Outerbridge, the Secy-Treasurer, and were escorted to the Director's Box in the gallery. The match was temporarily halted while the National Anthem was being played. The game was then resumed and saw the puck confined to the Guards territory; Callahan and Keegan made two unsuccessful attempts to score, Volsey cleared in the style. Robertson took control of the rubber, but was frustrated from scoring by the St. Bon's defence. Coultas recovered the disc and placed a well directed shot but Halley was unobtainable. Coultas was ordered to the bench a minute later for tripping. The honors for the first half of the period were equally divided, the forwards of both teams made several attacks on goal, but no scoring resulted. Phelan for St. Bon's and Robertson for the Guards made several individual rushes but nothing materialized. It was not until sixteen minutes of the first period had elapsed when Coultas by an individual effort from mid-ice broke away on his lonesome and by slipping inside of the St. Bon's defence, passed over to Wm. Clouston who scored the first goal for the season. The cheers had hardly died away when Gordon Halley took charge of the disc and by clever stick handling dashed through the Guards lines, made a perfect pass to Jack Higgins, who was now substituting Muir, Higgins scoring the equalizer. The play towards the end of the period was of a give and take nature; shot upon shot was rained at both goal-keepers but the shooting was very poor. Eddie Phelan who was playing a good game from the very outset made a pretty dash, but a good chance was lost when he passed the puck over to the left, and the puck was muffed. Just before the gong went Coultas made a good run down the ice and passed the disc to Clouston, who safely lodged it in the corner of the net, just as the gong sounded, the goal not counting. End of first period, Guards 1 goal, St. Bon's 0.

2ND PERIOD.

Upon resumption of play, the St. Bon's from the very start made a determined attack on the Guards defence, but were easily repulsed. E. Phelan captured the disc and by combined effort with Callahan, the latter sent Volsey a scorcher from outside, which was breasted of his chest pad to safety. The Guards forwards, with Ralph Herder and Errol Munn playing a prominent part in the attack, failed to enter the scoring column and E. Phelan, who was putting up a star game, managed to elude his opponents by clever stickhandling, but try as he would, his shots proved futile. Volsey stopped two shots in succession off his pads, and a hot one from Callahan was cleared out of danger a moment later. The efforts of the Guards were rewarded when Ralph Herder broke away by himself, and in pushing the puck past the St. Bon's defence, Raymond Halley made a feeble attempt to clear, Herder bounced on the rubber and landed it safely in the net, recording No. 2. From now on the St. Bon's were given a very busy period, much body checking was in evidence and players were beginning to fall everywhere. Robertson was sent to the penalty box, followed by Herder in quick succession, and while the Guards were minus these two players, E. Phelan made an end to end run, and equalized the score. The shot was a well directed one, from outside the defence and fooled Volsey, Clouston now replaced Munn. Phelan again took control and passing to Collins, the latter player skinned the post by inches. Muir was sent to the breather for two minutes. The rubber was now travelling up and down the rink at a fast clip. After many narrow escapes were made by determined attacks on both goalies, Robertson recovered the puck near his own goal and in eluding his opponents, by working the disc down the side of the boards, slipped the rubber over to Clouston in the centre who placed a well directed shot behind Halley, giving the Guards a two goal lead. Phelan and Gordon Halley, the St. Bon's defence, worked like trojans, and time after time by clever maneuvering attacked the Guards defence, without avail, as Robertson and Patterson could not be beaten. The St. Bon's appeared to be weakening. Robertson, Clouston and Herder formed the attack for the Guards, and scored two more goals in quick succession. Clouston and Robertson finding the net. The latter made a clean sweep of the rink and scored the prettiest goal for the evening. The St. Bon's resumed their efforts when Jack Higgins on a pass from Phelan beat Volsey with a low shot, but the goal was declared off-side. Rooney now replaced Coultas on the right wing. Period ended, Guards 5 goals; St. Bon's 2.

3RD PERIOD.

Scarcely had the game got underway when Muir captured the rubber near mid-ice and by fooling the defence, sailed right in on Volsey, and beat him with a difficult shot. The players found the ice at this stage of the game very soft. Rough play was now in evidence, and many bumps were exchanged. Keegan made a good run down the boards, but failed to beat Volsey. Clouston and Munn took control and by a combined effort carried the puck into St. Bon's territory, only to lose it to Gordon Halley, who in turn made a spectacular run up the rink, but by oversteering the puck lost a good chance of scoring. Robertson captured the disc and by an individual effort shot the rubber from outside of the St. Bon's defence high over the goal. The Blue and Gold aggregation made several attempts to score, Callahan sent a hot one to Volsey, which he cleared in the style, while Dr. Fox, who later replaced Callahan made several good attempts. Clouston was banished to the penalty box for tripping Higgins. Dr. Fox followed him. Phelan, meanwhile by clever stick-handling made another spectacular dash, but lost out in the mouth of the goal. Halley saved a hot shot from Herder. The puck was now gobbled up by the St. Bon's forwards and was confined to ing by the St. Bon's defence. Coultas recovered the disc and placed a well directed shot but Halley was unobtainable. Coultas was ordered to the bench a minute later for tripping. HOCKEY NOTES.

Both teams with a little more practice will make a much better showing on their next appearance. Eddie Phelan and Gordon Halley were the best for St. Bon's. Clouston turned in a good game for the Guards; while Robertson and Patterson, on the defence, played a hard game. The St. Bon's are handicapped for reserve players. Two extra men would strengthen the team considerably. The next game will be played between the old rivals Fiddians and Terra Novas on Friday night. Should good ice be available, snappy hockey will be seen.
