The unparalleled success of the Chrysler Six its very first year can be attributed in brief, to the fact that it more than made good on its

The promise to deliver re-The promise to deliver results never before achieved. These results proved to be of the broadest nature, covering every phase of performance and ownership.

The public found in the Chrysler Six qualities which the American sense of the fitness of things admires and desires.

It brought a new alertness and aliveness to the motor car—a flashing acceleration that is a pure delight. As never before it joined roominess and conservation of space. As never before it space. As never before it gave to a car of the Chrysler weight and dimensions, rid-ing qualities and roadability retofore found only in two-ton cars.

It is hardly to be wondered at that in less than 12 months perior type of motoring, And when you have seen the Chrysler Six we venture to say that you will be equally eager to become a Chrysler
