THE ALERTS RETRIEVE THEM-SELVES.

The Alerts seem to be brilliant by streaks and crimson by jerks. After suffering annihilation Saturday, they gathered up the fragments yesterday, and trounced one of Michigan's best teams in one of the prettiest games ever seen on Tecumseh Park. Nearly 2.000 people who went expecting to see the locals keep up their losing gait, were surprised and pleased at the sport they made on the home stretch. It was a great finish, and gave the fans a chance to bellow themselves hoarse and the ladies deaf. The Alerts put up a slick game in the field, and every man, escept Hiscott and Thorpe, hit the ball safely. Sippi had washed his paws of Saturday's butter, and captured everything that went his way, making two or three brilliant running stops, winch probably saved the game for the Alerts. Snyder, too, had very little grease on his fingers, and did some great work at short and at the bat, sending in three runs by timely hitting. Hynd had both eyes on the ball from the very start. Out of five times at bat

For six innings Detroit could do nothing with Plummer. In the seventh they solved his shoots for four singles and a double, and were assisted by an infield error. In the eighth they obligingly let up, but commenced the fireworks in the ninth. They had four runs to make to tie Two triples, two singles the score. and a sacrifice brought in three of them, and as only one man was out. the crowd heaved a sigh. Dingwall, however, was run out at second, and Ducharme struck out, and the agony was over.

Hiscott got four bad balls, Strowger struck out, and then Hynd's triple scored Hiscott and the tie run. Snyder got first on an error at short, and Sippi's two-bagger brought Hynd and Snyder home. Plummer got first on short's error and started to steal second. Dingwall muffed the ball, and Sippi came in. So did Plummer on Powers' single.

These were followed by about 100 other wheel-men in the following order: St. Thomas, London Meteors, Petrolea Imperials, and other visiting clubs. The parade made a very imposing spectacle. At 1 o'clock the members of the Independent Order of Foresters, headed by the town band, marched to the Greenwood Driving Park, where the bicycle races were held, and occupied about an hour and a half in an excellent flow of oratory.
