NOMINATION IN GASPE.

[Special to Advertiser per G. N. W.]

Perce, Que., Nov. 5.—Rodolph Lamioux, of Montreal, Liberal, and Auguste Beaudry, barrister, of Perce, Conservative, were duly nominated here at noon today for the county of Gaspe.

It is quite certain that no one now hears of a business project or contract which bears the condition "Void if the Laurier Government is again returned to power." Business men generally, as well as their employes, are voting "No change back to the days of 1896."

How to Mark Your Ballot

The following picture of the ballot shows it properly marked for Hyman—the middle name. If you mark your ballot as you see it now marked below your vote will count all right for Hyman, the people's candidate:

Mems of the Merry War.

Our contemporary pretends to boggle over the phrase "the full dinner pail." The phrase is used only as a symbol for plenty of work and good wages. In seventeen London establishments employment has increased 67 per cent since the Government of Sir Wilfrid Laurier came into power. Better keep the Prosperity Government in.

Be sure you poll your own vote, and see that your friendly neighbor polls it for the best Government Canada has ever had, on Wednesday.

Remember that you can only vote where you live on Wednesday next. This arrangement gives fair play to all, and leaves no man with an excuse, except illness, for staying away from the polls.

If you desire to "Hurrah" on the right side on Wednesday evening, citizens of London, vote for the people's candidate, Mr. C. S. Hyman.

Major Beattie's private residence has as its most conspicuous feature, a tall flagstaff on the lawn, from which on every joyful occasion the grand old Union Jack flutters in the breeze. There is no disloyalty about Major Beattie.—London Free Press.

That so? Then it's a dollar to a doughnut that the flag don't wave there on the 8th of November.

The Bradstreet Review, just received this morning, speaking of London, says: "The outlook for trade is bright." Better leave well enough alone, then, and vote to retain the Prosperity Government in power.

Do you really think that if Canada were Tupperized, the country would progress more satisfactorily than it has done in the last four years?

Parliament regulated the hours of labor in the time of the Plantagenets. Has parliamentary privilege been curtailed or extended since 400 or 500 years ago?—Free Press.

Our contemporary seems to forget that Canada has a federal constitution, under which the hours of labor are left to the Provincial Legislatures. Canada is living in the year 1900, not in the time of the Plantagenets.

Only a Question of Size.

It is only a question of majority. From east, center and west there is only one expectation, amounting to a certainty—the Government will be sustained by an increased vote. Not only in Quebec or in Ontario, in the west or by the sea, but in every part of the Dominion the feeling is the same—the Government will win. After noses are counted on Wednesday night, new meaning will be given to the Premier's historical declaration that "Our policy is national, not sectional," and there will be greater significance than ever in his glorious motto: "Union, Peace, Friendship, Fraternity." See that your man is well up in the procession.

Don't Let Up!

The supreme test is at hand — the test which will demonstrate beyond peradventure the value of the work which has been done in the weeks which have passed. Don't let all that solid labor go for naught for lack of staying power. You owe it to your candidate, who has placed his fortunes in your keeping, to secure him every available vote—and if every available vote is secured it may add greatly to victory; it often has in the past. Never mind how big the majority is in your favor on the canvass; you owe it to the Government, which has done so well for you in the past four years, to roll up the grand aggregate to the highest limit. The Imperial Government has only increased its actual following by half a dozen votes in the elections just closed, but its increase in strength in the country is tremendously greater than that, by reason of the stupendous majorities, rolled up by its candidates in every direction. Let our own Imperial Canadian Government have a like experience on Wednesday. It is the individual effect which can accomplish the task.

The Ontario Government's Recognition of Ontario's Young Heroes.

The announcement that the Ontario Government will grant, free from all taxes except school rates for ten years, 160 acres of land to every one of the soldiers from Ontario who went to the South African war, will be received with great satisfaction by the people of this Province.

The grants will be in Northern Ontario, a part of this Province destined in the near future to be the home of many thousands.

The people of the Province are proud of its young heroes. They have proved that Canadians are the equals of any soldiers in the world—equals of the "Men of England"—

"Men of England, who inherit
Rights that cost your sires their blood;
Men whose undegenerate spirit
Has been proved on field and flood."

The young heroes, who about a year ago left their homes to fight the cause of Great Britain, will be joyously welcomed back by the whole people. It will be no half-hearted welcome that will be given them. It will be a "Highland welcome," and doubtless to the boys themselves Canada will look fairer than ever. Their homes, where their chairs have been vacant, will be happier than ever, and their feeling will be never again—save at duty's call—to leave their homes and friends, the homes and friends they have seen in fancy so often during the past year.

But there are some who will not re-

If the Election Came Off Tomorrow

And the Best Baking Powder was being voted for, "Purity" would win by an overwhelming majority.

Every good cook, every prudent housewife, who uses "Purity" Baking Powder—and there are hundreds—would cast her ballot for this famous brand.

Many a man, too, remembering the delicious, inviting biscuits, pies, cakes, etc., that "Purity" makes, would vote for this pure and reliable powder.

Join the winning party—and use "Purity" always in your baking. It never fails. Only 20c pound.

turn. They have crossed the silent river. They have died for their country. They are numbered among Britain's heroes. We mourn their loss. Their bereaved friends will have the sympathy of all, but that sympathy is weak and a poor recompense for so great a sacrifice. All that can be done will be done, and it was to be expected that a man like Premier Ross would remember Canada's young heroes, dead and living, and in some such way as he proposes do his part.

With joy the country will welcome the living — with sorrow they will mourn the dead.

Beware of Roorbachs!

Beware of roorbachs. No more insidious election trick has yet been devised by Yankee ingenuity than the roorbach—the campaign lie held back until too late to investigate, and then sprung upon the electors upon the eve of polling day. Beware of roorbachs. Whatever the facts may be and however plausible the story may appear, it is safe betting, ninety-nine times out of every hundred, that it is a lie—or that half-truth, which is worse than a lie—or it would not have stayed untold until the last moment. The honest fighter seeks no mean advantage, the square fighter does not strike below the belt. Refuse to be weakly influenced by insinuations and unproved charges, recklessly bandied from mouth to mouth, by irresponsible slanderers. Beware of roorbachs.

The Returning Volunteers Will Keep Their Rifles.

Today's Globe says: "Timely and thoughtful is the resolution of the Dominion Government, announced by Mr. Sifton, to confirm each Canadian volunteeer in the possession of the rifle which he has carried with such credit to himself and honor to his country in South Africa. The idea is a singularly happy one. Such an enduring memento of a remarkable period in each man's life-history as well as in the history of the British Empire, will be proudly handed down from generation to generation as an heirloom fraught with particular meaning and value. We congratulate the troops on these commendable decisions of the Federal and Provincial Governments."

Mr. E. F. Clarke, Conservative candidate for West Toronto, put his foot in it at the nomination proceedings on Wednesday. He said his Liberal opponent "could not name a single industry in the city of Toronto that has been injuriously affected by the tariff of this government." It is an admission that is worth while."

CUT GLASS.

Our Glass is of good color, the cutting is of the very best, American designs. The price is lower than other makes of less merit.
