Hurdle—McLachlin.

A very quiet wedding took place at St. Andrew's parsonage on Thursday evening, when Miss Edith McLachlin, of Glenora, was united in matrimony to Mr. Noble Hurdle, also of Glenora. Miss Annie Baitman, of London, and Mr. John Doble, of Glenora, supported the young couple. Mr. and Mrs. Hurdle left on Friday for Glenora, where they intend to reside.

Poll Tax "Settlers."

There is a regular stampede of poll tax "settlers" to Inspector McCallum's office these days. Several hundred notices have been sent out, and those entitled to pay are marching up with the one dollar bill quite regularly. "We are getting quite a lot of money," said the inspector. "We will get as much as last year, I expect, perhaps considerably more."

Mothers' Clubs.

The members of the Mothers' Clubs who are connected with the work of circulating the petitions to ask the board of health to take measures to improve the conditions of the back yards of the city, are requested to meet in the office of City Clerk Baker on Tuesday afternoon at 2:45, to present the petition to the board of health.

WONDERFUL CREATIONS ARE THE SPRING HATS

Some Marvellous Conceits in the Millinery Line Were on Exhibition Easter Sunday.

Yesterday was millinery day. The annual spring display took place in all the churches and occasionally on the streets.

It was not a decided success, although many hats were on exhibition. The weather man was no great favorite with the ladies yesterday.

He turned on all sorts of breezes, and only the brave had the temerity to show their beautiful "hats" to the astonished gaze of the admiring fair sex.

But those that were seen were really startling.

In shape there were marvellous. Invented some turbans, young umbrellas, merry widows, chiding dishes, with a sprig of leaves, old-fashioned butter dishes made of straw, and a million others, were shown.

A law in Switzerland or some other place, states that any hat over 31 inches in width must be classed as a wheel, and carried in the baggage cars of trams. There were some wheels on exhibition here all right.

The Trimming.

Of course the trimming was marvellous. Solomon and all his glory never had a grasp of so many colors as was exhibited. The variety made a crazy quilt as quiet and as sombre as a quaker meeting.

There were some new flowers and half a dozen new vegetables invented for the process.

But they are substantial hats. Some are built like a fifteen story skyscraper. A milliner could work on the ground floor and not disturb the young lady who is placing the flower garden in shape on the top story.

To place the trimming on some of them would make a Marathon contest look like a short jaunt. It would take some endurance to go round two of them.

A Success.

Still the new hat must be voted a success. A number were tried out yesterday in the untamed zephyrs and they stood the rough weather like regular storm breaks.

Occasionally a sweet young face smiled out from under one of them, showing that they were occupied.

There is only one objection to my hat," said a blushing young thing, who has a very tall hat. "They certainly were not made with the idea that a short girl could kiss her tall young man."

The churches were well filled with the new hats yesterday, and the average lady "enjoyed the services so much."

HEADLESS BODY.

St. Raphael, France, April 12.—A middle-aged, well-dressed American, Emile Amy by name, was killed on the railroad tracks here yesterday afternoon. His headless body was found near the station, but it has not been definitely established whether the man was accidentally killed or committed suicide. Among his belongings was a circular letter from the Crocker National Bank of San Francisco on the Union of London and Smith's Bank, Limited, No. 214, on which a sum had been obtained recently from the "Credit Lyonnais" of Mentone.

EASTER SERVICES WELL ATTENDED

Special Musical Programmes Appropriate to the Occasion Were Rendered.

THE CHOIR WORE GOWNS

For the First Time in the First Presbyterian Church—Services in Other Churches.

Notwithstanding the chilly winds that blew all day yesterday there was a very large attendance at all the church services, and a display of spring millinery, suggestive of a summer garden.

In most of the churches special musical services had been arranged for Easter, and the anthems and solos were very beautiful. Many of the churches were also decorated with lilacs, hyacinths and green foliage and the effects were very pretty.

Knox Church.

An event of much interest to the members of Knox Church, South London, was the special service which was held to celebrate the twenty-fourth anniversary of the pastorate of Professor Ballantyne, now of Knox College, and the anniversary of the induction of Rev. J. G. Stuart, as pastor of the church. Both anniversaries happened to fall on the same day.

In the morning Professor Ballantyne spoke on "Salvation," from the text, "If any man will come after me let him deny himself, and take up his cross and follow me." Professor Ballantyne pointed out that no Christian life can be lived without sacrifice. We must know Christ, and we must see that this is a necessity of life.

The speaker urged all his hearers to try and live in accord with the Master. To be a Christian, he said, is very simple, but to live out the Christian life is difficult.

He pointed out that no Christian life can be lived without sacrifice. We must know Christ, and we must see that this is a necessity of life.

During the services solos were rendered most acceptably by Miss Simcox and Miss McMillan.

St. Paul's Cathedral.

At St. Paul's Cathedral last evening Canon Dunn preached to a very large audience from the text, "And the angel said unto the women, fear not." He followed the crucified Christ, the sound of a trumpet. It tells us of a great victory that has been won for the Christian church, and it calls us to follow the crucified Christ, the sound of a trumpet. ST. JAMES' SUNDAY SCHOOL PRIZES PRESENTED

Diplomas Given for a Perfect Attendance—Names of Winners in South London Church.

Yesterday afternoon the prizes for members of the St. James' Sunday school, South London, were presented by the pastor, assisted by several teachers of the school.

The diplomas donated for a perfect attendance during the year were given by Rev. Dean Davis, who spoke strongly in commendation of the practice of making it an aim to be in unbroken attendance. Those who succeeded in gaining the diplomas were: Boys—Frank Campbell, Stewart Parsons, Wallace Roselle, George Roselle, Gordon Spence, Lawrence Skelly, Alfred Oram and Stanley Skelly.

Girls—Helen Pope, Gertrude Damarsesque, Irene Atkins, Muriel Damarsesque, Lorraine Fawcings, Nellie Waterman, Evelyn Atkins, Edith Allsop and Mary Spence.

Lenten Offering. The Lenten offering for missions, which was taken up in the Sunday school, proved conclusively the ever-growing interest and enthusiasm in this phase of the work of the school. The offering, which amounted to $35.42, being the largest offering of its kind in the history of the school.

The Prize Winners. Prizes were distributed yesterday in all but the Bible and Infant classes, the successful prize-winners being as follows:
