SPORTS AND PASTIMES. Northwestern Sportsmen Hold Their

First Day's Shooting Amid

Wind and Rain.

Large Attendance and Keen Competition—Ware Wins the Individual Championship.

A four-days' shooting tournament, being the ninth annual meeting of the Sportsmen's Association of the Northwest, opens here this morning under the most favorable auspices, the boats from the Sound and the Canadian Mainland and the train from Nanaimo having yesterday brought large delegations of the devotees of bird and trap shooting. Seattle, Tacoma, Portland, whatoom, Spokane all are represented by strong teams, so are the cities of the Province, and the well-known skill of the competitors entered ensures great sport. The shooting takes place at Macaulay point, where spectators will have an excellent opportunity of watching it without interfering with the contestants. The greatest public interest will centre in Thursday's shooting, which includes a match at live birds, for a splendid gold trophy, with dasmond setting, presented by the Tacoma Morning Globe. The event of greatest general interest is the club team contest fixed for Saturday, when teams of six men, each representing the various cities, will contest for two valuable prizes under similar conditions to those governing the exciting match between Victoria and Tacoma which took 'place here in connection with the Queen's birthday celebration, and in which the same teams will have another opportmnity of meeting. The shooting commences at 9 o'clock each morning. The programme for to-day is as follows:

1. Ten singles, five prizes. Whatcom, Spokane all are represented by

Ows:
1. Ten singles, five prizes.
2. Fifteen singles five prizes.
3. Individual championship, twenty singles, three prize; the first being Multnomah gold badge worth $250, to be held for one year. 4. Ten singles, five prizes, 5. Ten singles, for teams of two; three prizes,

Three special prizes are offered for the ighest average in events 1, 2 and 4. THE BUSINESS MEETING. e annual business meeting was last evening at the Driard, Association headquarters in this President T. A. Tringham, of ma, was in the chair, and there were nection with the two handsome score books he has prepared, in which to permanently preserve an intelligent record of the competitions of the association.

The Vancouver, Nanaimo and Ladner's Gun clubs, having made the application in the regular way, were admitted to membership; and applications of the Multnothe regular way, were admitted to membership; and applications of the Multnomah rod and gun club, of Portland, and the Willamette cub were made by their representatives at the meeting and granted.

The Selby Smelting and Lead Co., of San Francisco, having presented a medal to the association to be shot for by "amateurs," the conditions to govern this competition were discussed. It was sgreed that the intention of the donors being to bar the well-known experts, and to sucqurage the younger shots, that the competition should be restricted to those who having shot through the matches included in the Grand Average, have not averaged over seventy per cent. The match will be shown a same day at twenty five singles.

It was pointed out that the Individual Champion match for the gold trophy had been inadvertently omitted from the Grand Average, whereas the rules require it to be included, so far as the medal for first prize accorded. This correction was made included, so far as the medal for first prize is concerned. This correction was made, but for the subsequent prizes the match will be omitted, as in the printed programme.

The Portland club's representatives reported that, having been misled by the rule printed in the name of the American association, they had loaded with 1½ oz. shot, and asked to be permitted to use the shells they had brought, in place of being compelled to reload with 1½ oz. shot, in accordance with the regulation. The secretary stated that several persons had written to him to ask if 1½ oz. shot would be permitted, and he had answered that it would not. Under these circumstances the meeting decided to stick to the rules for the year, but adopted a resolution making 1½ oz. shot for 12 guage guns permissible for future meetings.

for the visitors. The shooting was conducted on the "rapid firing" system, five traps being used and the competitors fifing in squads of six. The large parition at the back of the firing point was surmounted at each end by an American flag and the Union Jack, while several smaller tents were also erected on the grounds for the use of the members. The pavilion was needed badly this morning for the protection of the valuable guns of the gentlemen present, which ranged in value from $50 to $450, totalling nearly $10,000 worth of firearms.

It was ten o'clock when the first event came off, in a blinding rain, and the steady downpour continued till nearly noon, when the sun came out and made things brighter. A heavy wind sprang up and continued blowing fierce gusts from the southwest for the remainder of the day, interfering greatly with the scoring.

EVENT NO. 1.

First prize, thirty per cent.; 2nd prize, twenty-five per cent.; 3rd prize, twenty per cent.; 4th prize, fifteen per cent.; 5th prize, ten per cent.

In this event, as in all the others, the distance was 16 yards for 12 bores and 18 yards for 10 bores, but it was noticed that very few fired with the latter, the 12 bores being the favorite. Though the rain was coming down steadily there was no wind, and consequently the scores were made under fairly favorable conditions, over a third of the men making an average of 80 per cent, while several made 90 per cent and over. Those who headed the list were: J. T. Warren, Spokane; Short, Victoria; W. A. Eberly, Tacoma; O. Weiler, Victoria, all four making the full score of 10 birds.

EVENT NO. 2.
Fifteen Singles, entrance $2.50, added $50.
First prize, 30 per cent.; 2nd prize, 25 per cent.; 4th prize, 15 per cent.; 5th prize, 10 per cent.

cent.; 5th prize, 10 per cent.

There were the same number of entries in this as in the preceding event. It started shortly before 1 o'clock, the rain having ceased and there being little wind. The match was remarkably well contested, the averages being especially good. Weiler, of Victoria, at the end of the event led in the average with the possible of 25 birds in the two events. Denham, of Tacoma, scored his 15 birds in this event. Minor missed his second to last shot by firing at a broken bird.

Individual championship, 20 singles, entrance $3.50.—First prize, gold badge, value $250, presented by the Multnomah Rod and Gun Olub, Portland.—(Cenditions—Winner holds it for one year.) Second prize, 15 per o-nt. Third prize, 10 per cent. The present holder of the badge receiving 75 per cent.

This excited the greatest interest of the day, there being 45 entries. T. B. Ware, of Tacoma, was the lucky winner, being the only one to make the full score—of 20 birds. It is, perhaps, only fair to say that those who shot after the first squad were through had to contend against a strong wind that rose almost immediately afterwards. The order of shooting in the live bird contests was considered, from the points of view of the time to be occupied and of the chance of escape to be offered the birds.

The rules were amended so that the whole five traps will be filled before each competitor commences, and he will fire the five in a string, the trap to be pulled not to be known by him, except, of course, in the case of the last one.

The rules of the team trophy contest were amended so that in future the number of "birds" will be 50 per man in place of 20.

To remove doubt on the subject it was resolved that all birds thrown at an elevation of less than six feet, unless accepted by the shooter, should be declared "no bird."

Mr. Williams, of Portland, gave notice that at the next annual meeting the Multnomah rod and gun club would move that resolutions involving a change in the constitution should be voted on by only one representative from each club, in place of by all the members present.

The president announced that in all the shoots to day the competitors would draw for position.

A committee consisting of B. H. John and J. C. Maclure, Victoria, and T. Ware, Spokane, were named by the president of the preside
