THE SEMI-CENTENNIAL OELEBRA-

Large Gathering of the U. E. Loyalists. The Display of Fireworks on the Bay Does Not Fill the Bill.—To-Day's Program.

rapidly petering out. On every hand is heard complaints that the celebration is spread out over too long a period, thus giving citizens and visitors too much rork for a shilling. To undertake to carry out six days of it, is expecting altogether too much from any committee, no matter how well their arrangements may appear to have been made.

Yesterday's features were the U. E. loyalists' gathering at Horticulturial gardens, the oratorio of The Redemption in the same place and the fireworks on the bay. The latter show seem's to have disgusted the thousands of people who gathered along the wharv'ss, filled hundreds of small boats and crowded the decks of the different pleasure steamers which ply on our bay.

The U. E. Loy altsts. In the morning the C. E. loyalists and their descendants from all parts of the province held an enthusiastic meeting in the pavilion. This gathering was in honor of the 100th anniversary of the settlement of Ontario toy the U. E. loyalists, and was held at time to swell the importance lunch at the exhibition dining hall at 7 of the civic fete. Dr. Canniff of this city or spied the chair and delivered an appro-minte opening address. Among those present were the venerable Bishop Fuller of Niagara, Salter J. Vankoughnet, C. B. LeRoy "Hooker's (Kingston) poem, "The United Empire Loyalists," with much spirit. The poem was received with rounds of hearty applause. Miss Foster of Guelph sang "A Loyalist Song" with pathos, and E. W. Schuch pleased the audience with his rendering of "The Maple Leaf for Ever."

The speakers of the meeting were Hon.
G. W. Alten, Lieut. Col. G. T. Denison,
Chief Green of the Bay of Quinte reserve. Rev. Mr. Hooker, the poem writer, also delivered a short address. All of the speakers dwelt with great fervor on the when it came to Col. Denison's turn

When it came to Col. Denison's turn that three hots shot and shell into the anexation and independence camps. He said the loyalists had secured to Canada a glorious country and glorious institutions. If there is, They should not give these advantages up to merge with the United States. He dwelt upon the evils of easy divorce and lax criminal laws as proving that Canadians should oppose annexation. The system of government under which The system of government under which Canadians lived was simpler and cheaper than that of the United States. It cost them forby million dollars every four years to elect their president, and then they secure only the chief of a faction. Republics never showed the same stability in their government as monarchies, and he predicted that in less than twenty years there would be another mighty civil war in the United States. He referred to the in the United States. He referred to the question of Canadian independence, saying that the people of Canada would put that movement down should itsever assumed proportions that would make it worthy of notice. The independence party was made up of a few hangers on on the newspaper press, wanderers, and Bohemians, men who had lived in various countries and had never been satisfied anywhere. He closed with a strong appeal to all Canadians, particularly to united empire loyalists' descendants, to preserve to their children the privileges which had been gained at such cost of suffering and heroism.

Music was furnished by the Grenadiers band.

At 3 p. m. Governer Robinson held a reception at Government house to the loyalists and their descendants. There was a large number of callers who were presented to his honer. Capt. Merritt, G.G.B.G., was the aide d'camp in waiting. Refreshments were served, and the Grenadiers band furnished music out on the lawn.
The guests then assembled in the elegant drawing-rooms and short addresses were made by Governor Robinson, Rev. Le Roy Hooker, William Kirby of Niagara, and Governor Aikins of Manitoba. The adcases were of the same temor as those deesses were of the same temor as those de-ered in the pavilion.

display of fireworks on the bay last t was witnessed by many thousands. ever before, except probably on the ecasion of one of Hanlan's races, has there ever been seen such a gathering of boats on the bay. The city front was dazzling with hundreds of Chinese lanterns. The Toronto Rowing club's boat house was by far the most attractive, and was admired bythe most attractive, and was admired by all who viewed it from a steamer's deck or a row boat. The procession of boats was a failure, and instead of forming in line, as proposed, the illuminated craft of all kinds were scattered all over the bay. They could not be got together, and that part of the program had to be abandoned. Prof. Hand's fireworks did not at all come up to expectations and great dissatisfaction was expressed everywhere. Fort McMurrich and Fort Centennial, which were anchored half way across to the latter, which is to occur to morrow at midnight the much talked of arch made its appearance. The illuminated boats were far more attractive than the fireworks, and indeed the scene they presented was a pretty one. The forts and arch were of the most ordinary description. However, it cannot be said that the com mittee having the fireworks in hand did not work hard enough. They spent a great deal of time over it, and did all in their power to make the spectators pleased. Probably Prof. Hand can explain why he did not give a better show. It was after I o'clock this morning before the crowds Chinese bill was passed without amend-dispersed, and up to that hour the streets ment by 43 to 12.

Kingston, July 3.—This morning Engineer Burke, who went out to Mississippi Monday, returned to the city. He reports that since Monday night 200 men have been fighting the flames at McLaren's lumber yard. The fire engine and men could not save McLaren's lumber. A great many of the crowd went with the expectation of seeing fight, as the last time these cams played there was blood shed teams played there was blood shed, but in this they were disappointed, as it was a splendid game of scientific lacrosse, not even a scuffle occurring to mar the afternoon's pleasure. The Indians were in splendid form, and the way they "tobied" the ball to one another drew forth rounds of applause from the spectators. The Torentos had five of the second twelve on, and then only put out eleven to face the Indians.

One thing the Torontos ought to guard against and that is keeping their patrons waiting until 4 o'clock before a match starts. This was the case yesterday and a great many people left the grounds disgusted with waiting so long. The Indians were on the grounds sharp at 3 o'clock, and there is no reason in the world why the Torontos could not be on hand at the same time.

Fred Garvin and Daillebout faced the ball, the Indian sending it towards the Toronto goal, but it was as quickly captured by Jim Garvin, who sent it down the field. After several sorimmages Hubbel got the ball and made a splendid run, but the goal keeper of the Caughnawagas was on hand and managed to put the ball to the other end of the field. A game was claimed by the Indians but not allowed, and play was resumed. McHenry secured the ball, and put it through the goals by a swift underhand shot. The Torontos played a splendid game considering everything. Pluck Martin, who has taken Ross Mackenzie's place, played in his old form, and the new men Dixon and Robinson worked like Trojans. Jim Garvin, Hubbell, Fred Garvin and McHenry were in proper trim, and if that is said about them we know how hard they shall work to keep the champienship in Toronto.

The important part taken by our two musical societies in the semi-centennial celebration is deserving of special remark. It proves that along with the growth of industry and education in other branches, music is by no means flagging. The chancellor then began his address by congratulating the college on the substantial progress made during the past academical year, giving statistics of the advancement made. It pleased him to note the increasing interest shown among the members of the church, not merely in words but in a substantial manner by the many gifts added to the endowment fund. The provost and Rev. Mr. Starr had met with overwhelming success in England; a member of Oxford university had presented £5000 to complete the endowment of to complete the building. As to the question of university federation he would not at present commit himself as the time had not come when they were called upon to express their opinion. NEW YORK, July 3.—The corrected figures of tallures for the past six months in the dominion of Canada as reported by Dun, Wiman & Co.'s mercantile agency are in number 752 as against 687 for the same six months of 1885. The liabilities in the past six months are $10,742,600 as against $87 for the same six months of 1885. The liabilities in the past six months are $10,742,600 as against $8,249,060. This showing for the six months in the dominion of Canada is much more favorable than that in the berlinted States, where the failures in number for the figures of the forestix content of the Chinese army had obeyed orders that the Chinese army singers were held well under control by the conductor. The principal choruses, "Unfold ye portals everlasting" and the closing number, "The word is flesh," were given with much spirit and firmness, especially the "Unfold" chorus which was rapturously applauded.

The orchestra was almost the same that took part in the Creation on Wednesday night and they left little to be desired. The brass was faulty in places but on the whole played effectively, while the beautifully rich and full tone from the strings is worthy of special mention. In the descriptive passages the orchestration was good, notably in the portrayal of agony, the earthquake and the descent of the holy spirit.

In the solos there was little room for display. They are chiefly recitatives composed of monotone and chromatic passages which are most difficult and trying to the voice. The soloists were Miss Fanny Kellogg, Mr. W.H. Courtney, Mr. Ivan E. Morawski, who sang in the Creation on Wednesday, also Mrs. Petley and Mr. E. W. Schuch. Mrs. Petley and mr. E. W. Schuch. Mrs. Petley and in the capacity of narrator Mr. Schuch scored another success for his careful and artistic work. The other soloists were mentioned in yester.
