EDITORIAL.

For several reasons it has been thought advisable, upon entering upon our second volume, to make a few changes in the make up of our paper, which will afford more room for reading matter.

Push does not appear to be regarded by the pupils attending the public schools as their paper. There is a tendency to believe "Push has nothing to do with me, it is the editor's paper." Now this is not right. The editors were selected by the mass of pupils to be their representatives and to act for them in all matters connected with the paper. We are not unreasonable; we do not expect the pupils to contribute articles, though it certainly would be to their own advantage if they could and would do so. We only ask them to help us as much as possible by selling the paper for us.

Miss Blanche McKenzie, Grade VIII, daughter of Councillor McKenzie, having had diphtheria, afterwards suffering from rheumatic fever, has not been at school since Feb. 15.
