

PRINCETON UNIVERSITY
PRINCETON NEW JERSEY

PRESIDENT'S ROOM

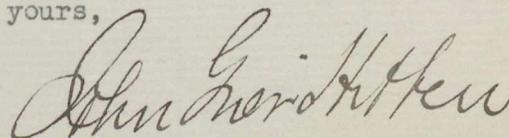

June 21, 1929.

My dear Principal:

I have been unusually disturbed by the prospect of Professor Hendel leaving Princeton but I do appreciate the fact of your situation at Montreal which must be met immediately, and your personal message delivered by Professor Henden is very gratifying to me. I yield as gracefully as possible to the logic of the situation. I shall be very sorry to have Professor Hendel leave Princeton but in talking over the whole matter with him I see clearly that it may be to his professional advantage. I have been greatly interested in his career from his undergraduate days. Before assuming the responsibilities of my present position I was Professor of Philosophy and had Hendel in my classes for three years of his college course and he stands out in my mind as the most promising of the undergraduates who came under my knowledge in Philosophy during a period of over twenty years of teaching. He has a brilliant mind and a very rich background of philosophical knowledge. He has been successful in his teaching and has also taken an active part in the general activities and affairs of the University. In his writings he has an excellent literary style which is of great advantage in giving his thought clarity and force.

With my warm regards to Lady Currie and yourself,
believe me,

Faithfully yours,

Sir Arthur Currie, Principal,
McGill University,
Montreal, Canada.
