

ar ; the twelfth,
the fifteenth, in
they came safe
that the signal
ned them, in the
e, might pursue
n learnt, on his
fleet of consider-
of the Channel ;
osition, he found
nd had been all
s was this expe-
three years and
event, strongly
ough prudence,
ed, are not ex-
fortune ; yet in
ey usually rise
nd rarely fail of

arrow) is certainly
ne history of navi-
s it be that of Sir
o it, and in some rdinary. He left
llind, of 100 tons, 0, and a pinnacle
ft behind him, all
s on the western
k for a north-east
acific, proceeded
an absence of two
with only his own

a seaman named Kingston, at the day's illness since