HORSES AT REPOSITORY BRING FAIR PRICES.

There was a fairly good sale at the Repository of Burns & Sheppard yesterday. About two-thirds of the offering were sold. The people did not seem as hungry for horses as at previous sales. Still, there was some good individual sales. There were some good individual sales. Chas. Williams bought an exceptionally good pony, a prize-winner in many rings. He was a regular horse all over, and looked and acted the part. He brought $250. A small price for such a good individual. He was a grand brood mare in Bees of five years old, and one that can act high and step down the road very fast, was bought by Wm. Currie of Newmarket. Price, $25. C. Laurin of Montreal bought a splendid, big, black gelding, weighing about 1700 pounds, for $245. H. Byrie of Oakville bought a good pair of bay geldings, well mated, and a really good pair; price, $450. John Broad of Uxbridge bought a grand brood mare in Bees of Hartley. This mare is registered, and will be an acquisition to any farm. E. Summons bought a nice bay gelding, six years old, a good all-round fellow, either for a wagon or buggy. He showed well in the ring, and was considered a bargain at the price paid, $145. A. J. Crover bought a nice brown mare, six years old, broken to all harness, a real good type of delivery kind, was sold to Wm. Lally for $125. T. Holland bought a number of work horses at prices to turn over again. A good number of city workers were sold, and prices were much about the same as usual for this class. The prevailing prices are: For heavy-draught, $125 to $200; expressors, from $140 to $180; delivery horses, from $110 to $170; drivers, from $110 up.

Harness Horse Notes.

Dr. Frank Kent of Madison avenue has the green trotter Delmas, that he is using for his road driving. This fellow has been miles in 2:20. Mr. Kent has driven him miles along in 2:21. He is a big, up-standing bay gelding, a fearless driver, afraid of nothing, perfectly city-broken. His owner takes a good deal of pleasure out of him, and has had many a brush on the road.
Al Proctor, now of Port Perry, he having purchased the hotel lately owned by A. Wales, was in town last week, and predicts a great ice meeting on Lake Scugog this winter. He says the committee in charge propose putting on a two days' meet for class races, and says they would make a day's racing for matinee horses, if so desired.
Al has the chestnut horse Sir John, by Bob Fitzsimmons (2:07 1/4), dam Golden Breeze, by Gold (2:30). This fellow is a pure-bred trotter, as Al says he does not know anything else but trot, and he will be worked this winter. He also has Lady May (2:45), owned by Burns & Sheppard. This mare will get her work, as well, and no doubt will be seen in the free-for-all this winter.

SEVEN OUT IN THE COLD

Wouldn't Agree to Abide by Residence Rules.

All but seven of the Varsity students of the north residence, who have been designated by the dictum of President Falconer, have been reinstated and will not have to vacate their sumptuous apartments, but the unfortunate seven, whose passive attitude has placed them under the ban of the faculty, will have to seek accommodation on the outside. All but the seven felt able to subscribe to the president's ultimatum to abide by the rules in future.
Following the example set by the other residences, a new house committee of six has been appointed, instead of three as heretofore, and in matters not essential these will have control, but the faculty retains control of such matters as might involve any independent action on the part of the students, and thus carry the principle of autonomy too far to meet the convenience of the board of governors.
