ing the market around the low point the day. We look for further decline.

Corn and Oats—Quite steady, not sharit in the weakness of wheat.

Frevisions—Firmer under the influence of good local buying.

C. W. Gillett to Melady & Co.;

Wheat—Liverpool cables were a disample of good local buying were wing to more favorable reports from India. Primary recipts, however, were very small and less than a year ago, while the world's visible supply increased only 296,000, as compare with an increase of over two millions las year. Minneapolis reported much better flour trade the last few days, with find demand for cush wheat. Private with houses were good buyers at the opening but the locals were against the market and support was after windrawn. More shown in the southwest and favorable crop reports were depressing. The last declinary was on small transactions and the market appears to be a drutting anair, but with some signs of accumulation of long lines of July. The long side offers to largest possibilities for a long puit, atthe prices have seen than hair as much as last year, beginned and less than hair as much as last year, and less than hair as much as last year, beginned and less than hair as much as last year, and cash corn in the southwest was 'year and research of the market will be in still worse condition. Farmers seem reactant to sell at present prices and if the rate of consumption indicated by the government report is maintained, supplies should be exhausted by 'Oct. I. Prices in the meantime look very low and May corn a purchase on breaks, Outs—The trade was very small and prices steady. Considering the weakness in wheat, oats acted firm.
