

LECTURES.

The Committee on Lectures and Entertainments arranged for the following, all of which were very largely attended :

1. Mr. Joseph Gould organized and directed a most successful Musical Evening, February 16th.

2. Professor S. H. Capper lectured, March 12th, on the attractive topic "The Egypt of the Pharaohs."

3. Mr. William Brymner, R.C.A., delivered a carefully prepared and instructive Lecture, April 13th, on "Impressionism."

Each lecture was fully illustrated by a series of lantern slides.

Our cordial thanks are due to these gentlemen for their valuable contributions to the life of the Association in the past year.

In the last report reference was made to the increased interest in our Lectures and Entertainments, and to the growing disproportion, in consequence, between the seating capacity of the Gallery and the membership of the Association. With the gratifying increase of the membership for 1898, it will be necessary to consider whether the time has not come to meet the convenience of the members by the securing of a larger and more commodious lecture-room for the next season.

ARCHITECTURAL LECTURES.

An interesting course of lectures under the auspices of the Province of Quebec Association of Architects was given during last winter in the old Gallery, to which the members of the Association were invited, and the large attendance throughout was particularly gratifying.
