Gossip From New Orleans.

After the race for Wednesday for the Crescent City Handicap there was a well-founded suspicion that in purchasing the Regatta, the keen Johnny McCafferty had bought a gold brick, says a special New Orleans despatch to the Chicago Inquirer. The horse cost him $800 at auction last fall, and since then he has won two races of moderate class. In the race last Wednesday he was assigned top weight, naturally enough, but he was not the best he was considered. He was in the rear division but galloped suddenly alone, going from back to worst, until all kinds of horses in the race were in the rear. The race was worth $3000, with four winners, of which the winner received $2000—a considerable addition to Brewer Scherer's already large winnings for 1897. Regatta seems to have lost its great turn of speed for which he has been famous, and although probably not just on edge at present, he will have to improve materially or lose his place among high-class horses.

could pick up a few more of sufficiently high class to warrant a campaign over his. His first race for me was not won as easily as expected, and in the next one I just did get up in time to win, and that was all. Then I concluded I had better bring him out to find out whether he would do to go away from home with a Regatta. The race of Wednesday must have been a surprise to McCafferty, who was wise in not going abroad with Regatta. Secretary McParland reports a list of entries for the spring months at Memphis far in excess of any previous year in regard to early nominations. The race for the 1 and will keep on coming in for a week later, but there were already enough in to warrant the belief that the stake entries will be greater in number than ever before, all of which can show the west-ern turf to be a healthy condition. Any man who can get away with a case of "ringing" in New Orleans is entitled to all he can make on the deal and a medal. The paddock is in charge of J. L. Hall, and the few horses personally unknown to him he requires to be identified. This rule is a rule by which to become inoperative. J. W. Schorr & Son had Presbyterian down here to run in a stake race, where he had to carry 118 pounds, by far the top weight and an impost that no other 2-year-old now racing is more capable of carrying than he. The colt was one that Colonel Hall had not seen before and he required him to be identified. The man with a halter on his arm has made his appearance in New Orleans, and he was a "raiser" last week and prospects of more to follow. When Glenmore won "Carrie" Brown raised him $100, not that he wanted to get the aged sprinter, but when Sedan won. He was "boosted" $200, and Jake Marklein not only let him go, but wanted to buy a drink for the man who took the horse. It is now certain that George Carruthers will not play with "T. A. C." Patey Gallagher and Harley Davidson have been matched to skate for $50 a day on Thursday night next. A meeting of the Old Orchard Tigers will be held this (Tuesday) night, at 8 o'clock. All members are requested to attend.

THE MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS.

The election of Mayor Shaw calls for little comment. His return under the conditions that prevailed was a foregone conclusion. Four thousand is indeed a big majority to have in one's favor, but in this case we do not know that the victor has much cause for congratulation. It would have been hard to select a more hopeless contestant than the one against whom Mayor Shaw found himself pitted.

Mayor Shaw will be the city's chief executive officer during another year. It is to be hoped he will make good his campaign pledges and start in at once to do something to advance the interests of Toronto. Several live questions await our immediate attention, including the proposed James Bay Railroad, Niagara Falls power, and last, but not least, the encouragement of manufacturing in this city. If Mayor Shaw intends to tackle these problems, as promised, he cannot begin any too soon.

The changes in the Council are comparatively few. The only members of the Council of 1898 who make their debut as aldermen are Messrs. Bowman in Ward Six, Denison in Five, Hamilton in Four and Richardson in One. All the rest either were in the Council last year or had been members of it previously. On the whole, the new Council is a satisfactory one as Councils go. It contains the names of a sufficient number of good and reliable men to ensure a fairly efficient and honest administration of the city's affairs.

The great majority polled in favor of the principle of the abolition of all exemptions is one of the surprises of the election. The electors of Toronto have expressed, in a way that cannot be mistaken, their desire to see the principle of justice and honesty incorporated in the Assessment act. The vote of yesterday is a protest against the indefensible inequalities that exist in our scheme of municipal taxation.

It is notice to our legislators to develop a system where the principle of fair play will dominate. Municipal taxation is one of the most important questions now engaging the attention of the people. Everyone seems to be interested in it. There is undoubtedly room for great improvement in the existing system, which could stand much more profitably without going to pieces altogether. A drastic revision of the system is called for, and it is to be hoped that the agitation in favor of this reform will be kept up until the people secure justice and fair play. So far the strongest opposition to reform in this direction has come from the clergy, who of all classes should not seek to profit by unjust legislation. Perhaps Premier Hardy will hereafter pay more attention to the demands of the people and less to the requests of the clergy.

CANADIANS AS NEWSERS OF WOOD.

The Ontario Cabinet is credited with being a well-awake business Government, but its negligence in allowing the best assets of the province to go to the hands of United States speculators is scandalous. The greatest water power in the world, a source of energy capable of developing half a million horse power every hour in the day and every day in the year and every year in the century, has passed from our control to that of foreigners. The Americans up to date have had free access to our timber limits. The saw mills of Michigan are kept busy making lumber from Ontario's logs, while the mills in our own province lie idle.

United States paper mills receive a large supply of their raw material from Canada. Canadian spruce is converted into paper by United States workmen and the latter is then sold in Europe. Our whole policy in alienating our assets is disgraceful.

The policy of the Ontario Government has tended to make us mere hewers of wood. That is the position we occupy in regard to the nickel industry to which The Globe made reference in a leading article yesterday. Some interesting facts in regard to this industry are given by the Director of Mines in his last report. It appears that the Canadian Copper Company, which has been operating for some years in the Sudbury district, has been furnishing employment to Canadian workmen and Canadian railways to the extent of $300,000 a year. This money is expended in the mining of the ore, converting it into nickel matte, and transporting the latter product over Canadian
