

When the Doctor Prescribes

liquor of any kind he means it to be good liquor. If he prescribes Champagne or Brandy he means good Champagne or good Brandy.

And the same is true of Native Wine. Poor, cheap Brandy or Port Wine are of no more use to an invalid than poor, cheap drugs, and should be as carefully avoided.

We make a specialty of supplying pure liquor for invalid purposes.

Of all the business men situated near the St. Lawrence Market, none is better known to the farmers and business men of the County of York than that of Thomas Meredith, 156 King-street east.

Mr. Meredith has been engaged in the hardware business in the same place, for the long period of 30 years, 15 of which have been for himself. During that time he has made many friends, especially amongst the farmers, who patronize him year after year, knowing that they get good value for their money, and honorable treatment as well. He is a son of the late Thomas Meredith, who came from Ireland to Canada in 1829, and who was in partnership with Gooderham & Worts in the grain business for 10 years and was also well and favorably known by the farmers of those days, a few of whom are still living. The present Thomas Meredith was born and raised in the city of Toronto.

He is one of those business men that have been for himself, and who tends strictly to business and in business hours you will always find him at the post office, in small profits and quiet returns, at the scheme for the improvement of the St. Lawrence Market, and, having done business for so long a time in that vicinity, he is a very competent man to be given an opinion on that subject.
