WELFARE BUREAU IS ARRANGING SYSTEM TO AID SOLDIERS' FAMILIES

The federation of societies interested in welfare work for the families of soldiers or returned men, accomplished last week, is meeting with a good deal of commendation. There appears to be no doubt in the minds of those who have made a study of welfare work that a step has been taken in the right direction, and that the result will be more efficient and satisfactory, with a minimum of effort.

more efficient and satisfactory, with a minimum of effort.

Ed. H. Lance, who was elected secretary of the organization at the last meeting, is establishing a central bureau. He hopes to have a system in operation in a few days whereby every case of need among soldiers' families will be reported to the bureau for attention, and in this way all overlapping will, it is hoped, be avoided. The present epidemic has visited the homes of khaki heroes with more than usual present epidemic has visited the homes of khaki heroes with more than usual force, leaving in its wake distress and need that have taxed the capacity of those organized to look after their welfare. The relief committee of the soldlers' Aid Commission, under the direction of Mrs. S. F. Lawrason, has done much to meet the immediate demand among the families of returned meh. High tribute was paid to her work by several representatives at the meeting on Friday. Mrs. Lawrason has recently

CALL TO 250 NEW RECRUITS CANCELLED

Influenza Gives Respite to 250 in District.

Deputy Registrar H. F. Beresford has received orders today to cancel the call to about 250 new recruits ordered to report for service on November 15, the cancellation being due to the influenza epidemic. These were men who have not yet been enrolled in the army, and the postponement of call is indefinite, in that no future date has been set for them to report.

WEDDING BELLS

GILMOUR-WOOLLEY.

A very pretty but quiet wedding was solemnized in the Church of St. John the Evangelist at 3:30 this afternoon, when Florence Marguerite, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Woolley of this city, was united in marriage to Clarence E. Gilmour, son of the late A. J. and Mrs. Gilmour, also of this city. Mr. Gilmour, who was for some time organist of St. John's Church, is now organist at St. Paul's Cathedral.

The ceremony took place in the presence of only the immediate relatives of the bride and groom, the Rev. Canon Craig officiating. The bride, who entered the church on the arm of her father to the strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin, played by Thomas Mitcheltree, president of the London Organists' Club, looked lovely in a tailored suit of navy serge, with black velvet hat trimmed with peacock blue, and ermine stole. She wore a corsage bouquet of sunset roses. There were no attendants.

After the ceremony the bridal couple left by motor for Goderich and other points. On their return they will reside at the old Gilmour home, 510 Adelaide street.
