Ottawa, July 7.—In the House this morning. Sir Robert Borden, speaking of the prohibition bill and the bill to continue the war purchasing commission, said they could not be passed during the present session. The war purchasing commission would, however, be maintained under the order-in-council creating it, which would remain in force for the time being. Suggestions made would be considered during the recess

In regard to prohibition, Sir Robert Borden said: "Under the circumstances the bill cannot becorcumstances the bill cannot be-come law during the present ses-sion, but another session will prob-ably be held before the order-in-council ceases to be in force."

The bill to create divorce courts also would not be proceeded with this season. During the recess sug-gestions of judges in the various Lrovinces would be obtained in re-gard to the measure.

75 MILLIONS FOR MATURING LOANS

Money Required To Meet Obligations Due On August 1.

Montreal. July 7.—Announcement was made in Ottawa last night of the details of the forthcoming loan flotation of the Dominion of Canada in the United States to provide for maturing obligations in that country on August 1 next. As already forecasted, the issue is to be $75,000,000, and will be offered through J. P. Morgan & Co. and associated bankers. It will consist partly of two-year 5½ per cent notes and partly of 10-year bonds, bearing the same rate of

NEW SESSION Sink or Break Up Remaining Hun Fighting Vessels, General Opinion of Powers Concerned

> Paris, July 7 .- Discussions with the Germans with regard to certain terms of the peace treaty regarding reparations were to have been begun early this week, but it developed today that the beginning of the oral exchanges had been postponed until Thursday, the German representatives having failed to arrive from Berlin.
> FATE OF THE SHIPS.

The commission of admirals appointed to consider the disposition of remaining German warships submitted their report to the council today. In effect the report stated that no recommendations on the question are possible until certain matters of policy have been decided by the powers. probability seems to be that the whole question will be finally referred to the governments of the various powers concerned. MAY BREAK THEM UP.

As the situation stands now, Japan and the United States are understood to favor breaking up or sinking the remaining warships. Great Britain approves the plan to break them up, while Italy agrees to their destruction conditionally, but if this plan is not carried out it insists upon having her share of the vessels, in case they are divided among the powers. France opposes the destruction of the vessels and desires their distribution. Some of the smaller powers, notably Poland, approve

The New Peril

London, July 7.—Robert Cecil Hitchin, reporting on the 5th July, states that the economic situation in Europe was as serious as it could possibly be. The people were unable to get sufficient food and there was a general breakdown of all transportation. The whole system of credit was seriously injured or absolutely destroyed. The most urgent problem of foreign affairs, he states, was to try to set right that economic position, "and for that purpose even in our own interest, we must be prepared if necessary to come to the assistance of Europe, and must in particular so frame our peace policy as not to hinder the economic recovers of Europe. as not to hinder the econ covery of Europe. If we did not we must not be surprised if revolutionary ideas developed which would ultimately engulf, if not ourselves, at any rate every other country in Europe."

Asserts He Secured Vote For Dominion in the League of Nations.

Ottawa, July 7 .- In the House today n answer to a question put recently by Mr. Ernest Lapointe, the prime minister gave to the House some details with regard to the labor provisions in the peace treaty. He explained that the original draft had met with opposition, upon which he was asked by the promise of Great Prices. upon which he was asked by the premier of Great Britain to meet with representatives from the allied nations, and try to arrive at a satisfactory agreement. After several conferences, an agreement was reached, and the final draft was placed by him to the conference and accepted, the seconder being Mr. von Der Velde of Belgium. Sir Robert read the speech he had made when presenting the draft, and also the speech made by the seconder. The Premier's Profits.

The prime minister told the House that originally there had been no intention of allowing representatives of the British dominion to be eligible to the league of nations. He had taken strong ground that Canada should be approach to the league of nations. represented both on the league of na-tions and the labor convention. Even-tually this contention was acceded to Rising to a question of privilege, Sir obert Borden made a statement egard to his investment in the Maniregard to his investment in the topa Cold Storage Company, to which attention was drawn by Major Thomas Vien recently. The prime minister stated that certain papers were depart-stated that tertain papers ing from the facts and making exaggerated statements on the matter. The organ of the Winnipeg Stock Commission had stated that his investment in the company was $950,000.

He had, he said, made a small investment in this concern some time ago.

The company neither bought nor sold, but was a storage company, pure and simple. He had never taken an active turns on his investment had averaged about 5 per cent, and at one time he, along with other shareholders, had been forced to advance more money in order to prevent the company going into li Thanks the Army. Sir Robert Borden, seconded by D. McKenzie, moved a resolution thanks to the Canadian army spienaid achievements overseas.

Sir Robert said:
"On many occasions in this hous the valour and the deeds of the Canadian military forces in this war hav been recognized in eloquent terms but hitherto there has been no resc three months the Canadian forces, with the splendid assistance sometimes of one and sometimes two British divisions, fought and, more than that, defeated 47 German divisions, nearly a fourth of the entire German army. Of these no less than fifteen divisions were so thoroughly defeated they were never reconstituted. During these hundred days the path of the Canadians was the path of victory."

The less spectacular but equally necessary and effective work of the railway and forestry corps were then renecessary and effective work of the railway and forestry corps were then referred to by Sir Robert. He also paid tribute to Canadians in all other branches of the service, especially those in the navy.

"Time would fail me to speak by name of thousands of Canadians whose ser-vice brought distinction and high recog-nition" said the prime minister. "Of vice brought distinction and high recog-nition," said the prime minister. "Of one, however, I should speak, the Cana-dian who during the latter years of the war took command of the Canadian army corps after it had been relin-quished by Sir Julian Byng. As Bylaw To Raise Fare Is Turned Down Through Urging of Hydro Chief-Bitter Attack On the Railway Board by the Minister of Power.

Windsor, July 7.-Following the decisive defeat on Saturday of a bylaw that would grant the Sandwich, Windsor and Amherstburg street railway permission to collect a straight 5-cent fare, that would net sufficient revenue to pay the employees a 25 per cent increase in wages, the carmen met at midnight Sunday and unanimously voted not to take the cars out Monday morning. As a result the citizens are walking, for the second time within two months.

BECK TAKES A HAND. The increased fare bylaw was the suggestion of the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board, which sat in Windsor on June 14, and undoubtedly would have carried but for a recent visit of Sir Adam Beck to Windsor. The hydro chief on Monday, June 30, waited on the company officials with a proposition for the taking over of the system by the border municipalities to be operated by the Hydro Commission. Nothing came of an all-day conference, and on Monday evening Sir Adam, addressing border municipal representatives delivered a bitter attack on the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board, and urged the defeat of the bylaw, which he claimed if passed would so enhance the value of the company's franchise that the municipalities would be unable to acquire the system for years to come. ATTACKS THE BOARD Sir Adam alleged that the railway board invariably leans toward the transportation corporations and assists them in obtaining increased fares. "It is my personal wish that the bylaw be defeated," he said, "and although I have enough fights on hand for the next twenty years, if you turn down this bylaw I will stage one in the border cities that will let local transportation and electric light corporation know what a real battle
