HER IDEA OF DISCIPLINE.

One day recently, just after the opening of the Baltimore schools, the teacher of a primary class had occasion right at the start to enforce discipline.

"Here, young man!" she exclaimed, indicating a pupil whose name she did not yet know. "I saw you laughing just now. That won't do. No laughing in this school!"

"I was only thinking about something, ma'am," said the youngster, sheepishly.

"Well, don't let that happen in school again," said the teacher sternly.

"PERHAPS HE HAD."

Among the pupils just enrolled in a certain public school in Washington is a little chap whose parents have been carting him about from city to city ever since he can remember.

It was natural enough, therefore, that, when the youngster was asked by his teacher: "Have you ever been thru algebra?" that the boy should have replied:

"I don't know, ma'am; but if I did it must have been at night, and so I don't remember much about it."
