MY GARDEN GATE

By CHARLES MACKAY
Stand back, beseeching ladies, I've a name, a name for you.

Small back, my daughter of noble name,
I have a name, a name for you.

Small back, my daughter of noble name,
I have a name, a name for you.

I have no name for such as you,
My name is somewhat small.

Small back, my daughter of noble name,
I have a name, a name for you.

Small back, my daughter of noble name,
I have a name, a name for you.

Small back, my daughter of noble name,
I have a name, a name for you.

Small back, my daughter of noble name,
I have a name, a name for you.

Small back, my daughter of noble name,
I have a name, a name for you.

Small back, my daughter of noble name,
I have a name, a name for you.

Small back, my daughter of noble name,
I have a name, a name for you.

Small back, my daughter of noble name,
I have a name, a name for you.

Small back, my daughter of noble name,
I have a name, a name for you.

Small back, my daughter of noble name,
I have a name, a name for you.

Small back, my daughter of noble name,
I have a name, a name for you.

Small back, my daughter of noble name,
I have a name, a name for you.

Small back, my daughter of noble name,
I have a name, a name for you.

Small back, my daughter of noble name,

A YARLEY SUGGESTION.—It was stark cold and as the fog cleared up a little I saw I was lost in the fog. However, as they were swarming thick I just went to the door and asked the people of the ship if they knew that was good for the mashed I would have them lough from steam to steams. A big fat man they called the doctor told me to keep my patients warm, and to give them hot drinks. It was enough; they took care to come near the Peggy Jan that time.—Glasgow Advocate.

AN IRISH MILLIONAIRE.—Probable upon the will of the late Mr. Wm. Murphy, the extensive grazer, living in the year 1851, was valued at £245,000. No sum approaching to this has been left by any private individual in Ireland since the death of Nathaniel Horns, Esq., whose property was valued under £200,000.—Dublin Herald.

The Jews.—It is often alleged," says the Jewish Chronicle, "by persons writing geography, that the whole Jewish population of the globe is about the color of a hulk. But in truth the information it would appear that in Russia and Austria alone there are more than this number.

Some time ago a professor of logic in a German university, before an audience in an English college, which was principally composed of collectors. After astonishing the natives with various tricks,—metamorphosing wax into water, he asked the loan of a halpenny from one of his auditors. A collector, with a little hesitation, handed on the coin, which the professor speedily exhibited, as he said, transmuted into a guinea. "Ah," said that my halpenny?"
said the collector. "Unquestionably," said the professor, "the halpenny," said the collector.
"Unquestionably," said the professor, "the halpenny," said the collector. "Unquestionably," said the professor,
"the halpenny," said the collector. "Unquestionably," said the professor, "the halpenny," said the collector.

As we grow older life becomes dim in the distance; we cast our eyes over the grand panorama of past existence, and wonder whether or we ever trod those barren and barren ways as sunny paths, or if we were all throughout a gloom, and never have been otherwise than grey-headed old men and women.

It is one of the conditions of life that experience is not transmissible. No one can learn from the feelings of another, he must suffer himself; each must bear his own burdens.

Each of us bears within himself a world unknown to his fellow-beings, and each may relate of himself a history resembling that of every one, and yet like that of no one.

The study of literature nourishes youth, advances old age, adorns prosperity, softens adversity, is delightful at home and unobtrusive abroad.

Astonishing Efficacy
OF
HOLLOWAY'S PILLS
AND OINTMENT.

EXTRAORDINARY CURES BY Holloway's Ointment.

COPY of a LETTER FROM MR. JOSEPH GILLON, A Barber, East Wall, near Spalding, Lincolnshire, 24th April, 1846.

TO THE PROFESSOR HOLLOWAY.

Sir—I have the gratification to announce to you a most wonderful cure wrought upon myself, by the use of your Ointment and Pills. I had a severe attack of Glands in my right foot, which extended along my arteries, and was attended with swelling and inflammation to an alarming degree, inasmuch that I was unable to move without the use of crutches. I consulted a very eminent Physician, but after Medical treatment, but to no avail.

At last I tried your Ointment and Pills, when, strange to say, in less than two weeks the swelling and inflammation subsided to such a degree that I was enabled to pursue my daily avocations, to the utter surprise and amazement of those who were acquainted with my case, seeing that I was cured so quickly. I and my family are well, and I have since found the firm under the Rev. J. Spooner, Rectory, Four Parishes.

Amputation of Two Legs Prevented.
Extract of a Letter dated Roscommon, February 24th, 1847, from the highly respectable Proprietor of the Roscommon Journal.

To the Professor Holloway.

Sir—My wife, who was at one time proprietor of the Hotel near the pier, had two very bad Legs, one with eight ulcers on it, the other with three, and was in such a fearful state that the Medical men here were at a loss to know how to cure her.

For the last two years I was afflicted with a violent Scorbutic Eruption, which completely covered my chest, and other parts of my body, causing such painful itching, that I was obliged to wear a long sleeved coat to get sleep for more than a very short time together. I applied here to all the principal Medical men, as also to those in Birmingham, without getting the least relief. At last I was recommended by Mr. Thomas Simpson, Stationer, Market-place, to try your Pills and Ointment, which I did, and I am happy to say, that I can now state myself as thoroughly cured. I can now sleep at night tranquilly, and the water in my back and limbs has entirely left me.

And Digestion, with extreme Weakness and Debility.—An extraordinary Cure.

Mr. J. GIBSON, of No. 8, Brown Street, Great Oxford Street, had been in a very bad state of health for a long time, suffering much from a distended Stomach, very impaired digestion, with constant pains in his chest, was extremely nervous, and so greatly debilitated as to be scarcely able to walk one hundred yards during the long period of his declining he had the advice of four of the most eminent Physicians, but to no effect.
