

THE EVENING TIMES-STAR, ST. JOHN, N. B., THURSDAY, OCTOBER 16, 1924

NO CAPITAL, BUT HE MADE SUCCESS

Story of Canadian Opportunities in High Commissioner's Office Budget.

The Canadian High Commissioner's Office in London announces the following, under date of Oct. 2:

The Canadian Office has received a remarkable story of a shoemaker called John Pierce, who left Menal Bridge, Anglesey, in 1910 and without any previous knowledge of agriculture but with the assets of pluck and determination has become a successful Canadian farmer.

The Canadian Government agent at Bangor had advised him to precede his wife and their three small children. By June 1918 Mr. Pierce took up a homestead in the Battle River district, where he remained for 12 months working on his own homestead as well as for neighboring farmers in his spare time. After earning sufficient money to build a small house he sent to his wife and family, for his wife and children, he sent for his wife and children. In 1919 Mr. Pierce took up a homestead in the Battle River district, where he remained for 12 months working on his own homestead as well as for neighboring farmers in his spare time. After earning sufficient money to build a small house he sent to his wife and family, for his wife and children, he sent for his wife and children.

Three years ago a Canadian Government agent at Bangor visited Mr. Pierce and his family at Bangor, where he found that he and his son owned between them 600 acres of splendid farm land and buildings, 10 horses, eight milking cows, a good number of store cattle, about 20 hogs, a great number of turkeys, in which Mrs. Pierce specialized and every year sent a number to Messrs. Eaton, Winnipeg, for the Christmas markets, also a good number of poultry. Mrs. Pierce sent her cream and butter away, and with the proceeds they were able to run the farm, leaving the proceeds from the crops of wheat and oats as profit. All this was accomplished by a man with no previous farming experience and no capital, who arrived in Canada 10 years ago with two shillings and sixpence.

During the week ended October 1, 218 visitors called at the office, of whom 158 obtained interviews and 94 registered.

Steps are being taken by the High Commissioner for Canada to dispose of Canada's share of the seal skins taken on Robben Island, Japan, during the year 1923, which has now reached London. These seal skins are allotted to Canada under the provision of the Fur Seal Treaty of 1911, the number apportioned to Canada being 61 ordinary ones and 21 large old seals.

Canada, the United States and Russia received equal allotments, while the Japanese Government took 610 ordinary seal skins and 216 skins of large old seals.

The London University authorities have notified the High Commissioner that G. O. Britton, who sat at the matriculation examination of the university held in Toronto last June, had passed in the second division.

The High Commissioner has been making inquiries of a Canadian correspondent as to the possibility of electric power for industrial purposes being transmitted without the use of wires. British authorities state that the press reports on the subject are without foundation, the investigation is being continued.

A Liverpool importer is in the market for 100 cases of frozen salmon and would like to hear from Canadian shipper.

A Glasgow firm asks regarding a source for Canadian honey.

A firm in Ireland seeks a connection with Canadian shippers of fresh apples. A London company asks to be placed in direct correspondence with Canadian mining companies producing cobalt and cobalt ores and also with smelters producing the spelter or residues, who are able to make offers for export.

A Canadian fruit trade commissioner reports the opening of the season for sales of Canadian fruit in the United Kingdom with the arrival at Liverpool of the S. S. Montcalm, carrying apples from Quebec, and the arrival of the S. S. Sachem, with 4,000 barrels of apples from Nova Scotia.

The Quebec apples brought—Duchess No. 1, 24s. 6d. to 26s. 6d.; Duchess No. 2, 21s. to 23s. 6d.; Alexanders, No. 1, 22s.; Alexanders, No. 2, 21s.

The S. S. Montcalm also carried peaches for the fruit display at Wembley.

It has been stated that deaths by auto accidents in the U. S. last year averaged one every 35 minutes.

"YOU'VE GOT ALL AFTERNOON"

"Wait your turn" is the order for bus riders on bright Saturday afternoons in New York. The bus is a combination trolley, motor car and sun parlor for thousands, and after the noontime office closing crowds gather quietly at Washington Square for the long ride up Fifth Avenue and beyond.

Her Grace the Duchess of Atholl, M. P., who intends to visit Canada, has been asked by the Canadian Women's Club of Ottawa to deliver an address during her stay in the capital. She has expressed her appreciation of this invitation and has accepted, if the political situation in this country allows her to make the trip.

Senator Gustave Boyer, who was one of the Canadian delegates of the Empire Parliamentary Association Party, who recently visited South Africa, has returned to London. He will leave in a few days to visit France and Italy before returning to Canada at the beginning of November.

The attention of the High Commissioner has been called to a project for an Arctic dam at Fury and Hecla Strait. It is claimed that this would result in the Gulf of St. Lawrence and Hudson Bay being opened during the entire year, by eliminating the icebergs and fog from the North Atlantic Ocean, and would also favorably influence the climate of the northeastern coast of North America.

A party of 28 men among whom were electricians, plumbers and fitters sailed per the S. S. Arabic from Southampton en route to Deer Lake, Newfoundland, in connection with the Armstrong Whitworth Development work.

During the last week the following enquiries for Canadian goods have been received by the Canadian Trade Commissioners in Great Britain:—A London mineral importer requires samples of white (Muscovite) mica accompanied by lowest price list.

A firm in Ireland seeks a connection with Canadian shippers of fresh apples. A London company asks to be placed in direct correspondence with Canadian mining companies producing cobalt and cobalt ores and also with smelters producing the spelter or residues, who are able to make offers for export.

A Glasgow firm asks regarding a source for Canadian honey.

A firm in Ireland seeks a connection with Canadian shippers of fresh apples. A London company asks to be placed in direct correspondence with Canadian mining companies producing cobalt and cobalt ores and also with smelters producing the spelter or residues, who are able to make offers for export.

A Canadian fruit trade commissioner reports the opening of the season for sales of Canadian fruit in the United Kingdom with the arrival at Liverpool of the S. S. Montcalm, carrying apples from Quebec, and the arrival of the S. S. Sachem, with 4,000 barrels of apples from Nova Scotia.

The Quebec apples brought—Duchess No. 1, 24s. 6d. to 26s. 6d.; Duchess No. 2, 21s. to 23s. 6d.; Alexanders, No. 1, 22s.; Alexanders, No. 2, 21s.

The S. S. Montcalm also carried peaches for the fruit display at Wembley.

It has been stated that deaths by auto accidents in the U. S. last year averaged one every 35 minutes.

It has been stated that deaths by auto accidents in the U. S. last year averaged one every 35 minutes.

It has been stated that deaths by auto accidents in the U. S. last year averaged one every 35 minutes.

It has been stated that deaths by auto accidents in the U. S. last year averaged one every 35 minutes.

It has been stated that deaths by auto accidents in the U. S. last year averaged one every 35 minutes.

It has been stated that deaths by auto accidents in the U. S. last year averaged one every 35 minutes.

It has been stated that deaths by auto accidents in the U. S. last year averaged one every 35 minutes.

It has been stated that deaths by auto accidents in the U. S. last year averaged one every 35 minutes.

It has been stated that deaths by auto accidents in the U. S. last year averaged one every 35 minutes.

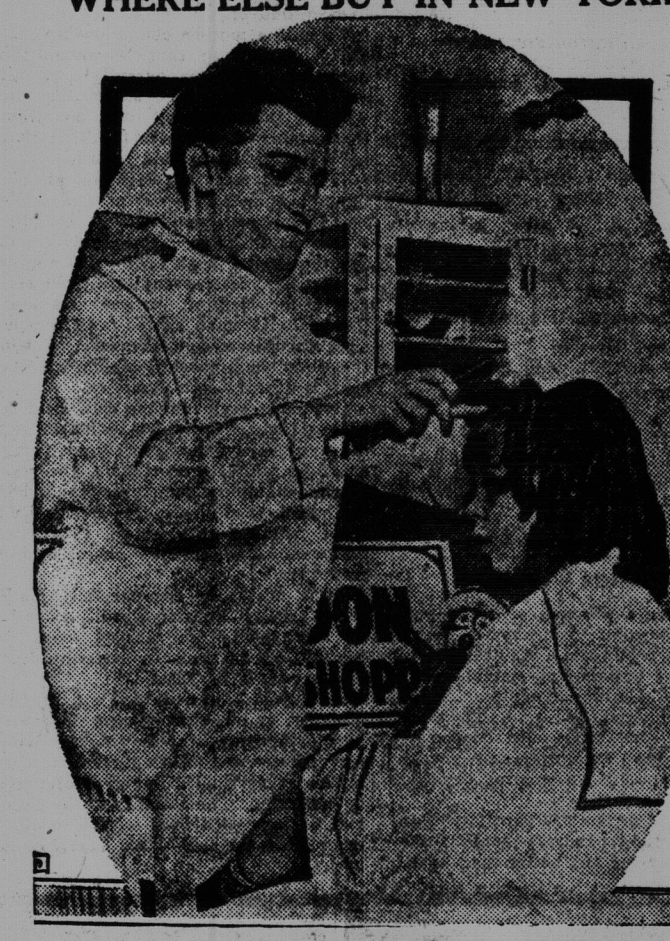

Now that pair you have just bought will give you a year's good service if you use only "NUGGET," and what's more they'll not only last well, but they'll look well too.

"NUGGET" Shoe Polish

Made in Black, Tan, Toney Red and Dark Brown. Also White Dressing (cake) and White Cleaner (liquid).

WHERE ELSE BUT IN NEW YORK

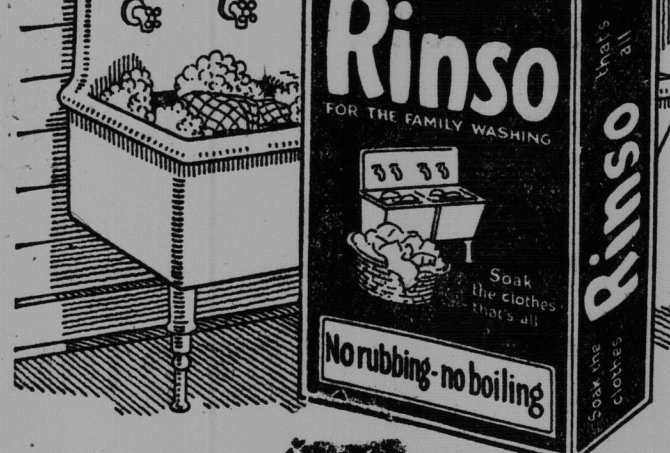

Ruth Hull, 5, is the youngest permanent wave subject on record. And doesn't this seem typical of New York—a child of five so concerned with such things?

the government loans to cross to they hope for more pay and a wider life than is possible within the four walls of the English basement kitchen. During the last decade this exodus of domestic servants has had much to do with the change of the mode of life in England. It is no longer possible for even well-to-do people to maintain the great Victorian town houses that line London's streets and surround her quiet squares.

Armies of servants were needed for such establishments, but servants are not to be had as in the old days, so the houses are being converted into apartments, and ladies who have rarely crossed the thresholds of their kitchens, are learning how to roast the fine beef of old England and boil the perennial potato.

For generations these thrifty Scotch lassies have been coming south to England to rule the kitchens and sculleries, as their Scottish menfolk are credited with ruling the British government at Westminster. But the domestic pay in England is small, often as low as 28s or 24s a year, with long hours and few holidays.

In Canada and the United States

Soaking takes the place of rubbing—

JUST by soaking the clothes in the suds of this new soap, dirt is gently loosened and dissolved.

Even the dirt that is ground in at neckbands and cuff-edges yields to a light rubbing with dry Rinso. Not a thread is weakened. The mild Rinso suds work thoroughly through and through the clothes without injury to a single fabric.

Rinso is made by the makers of Lux. For the family wash it is as wonderful as Lux is for fine things.

All grocers and department stores sell Rinso.

LEVER BROTHERS LIMITED, TORONTO

YEAR ONE OF BEST IN HISTORY OF Y. M. C. A.

Membership of Branches Reporting is 988,522—Endowments Increase.

New York, Oct. 16.—(Associated Press).—Data available on 1,993 Young Men's Christian Associations in the United States and Canada, reporting for the 1924 Year Book and Official Roster, just issued, show the last association year to have rank with, and in several important directions to exceed, the record year of 1921. George B. Hodge, who has directed the collection and classification of association information for many years, states that "the reported volume and quality of association work as a whole has been the largest and best in association history, and much larger than was anticipated."

The largest annual increase in membership yet recorded is shown in a gain of 9.5 per cent. The total membership of the reporting associations is 988,522, of which 244,829 are boys.

A gain of 11.6 per cent. to 134,977 in the number of men and boys in swimming and life saving classes, and a gain of 10.4 per cent. to 11,784 in the number of men under leadership instruction in physical educational classes, are the highlights of an expanding year in the physical work of the associations. There were 640,897 men and boys in gymnasium classes, a gain of 8.1 per cent.

Marked increase in the number of men and boys affiliated with Y. M. C. A. Bible classes is reported. A total of 262,948 for the year is a gain of 24,000 or 11.5 per cent. Aggregate attendance at Bible and religious meetings reached approximately 9,549,000, an increase of 11.8 per cent.

Endowment funds increased by 8.3 per cent. to $7,208,000, while the property debt increased by only 6.6 per cent. An increase of net association property to $189,221,000, 8.1 per cent. in the year, indicates the volume of property additions and is believed to mark the end of the deflation period of Building Projects.

In a foreword Dr. John R. Mott, general secretary of the International Committee, Y. M. C. A., states that at the present time the building bureau of the committee is retained on some 75 building projects, and points to the multiplication of branch buildings both in large and middle-sized cities and the evolving of building plans and projects for cities or isolated communities of under 10,000 inhabitants. The Financial Service Bureau of the Committee, he says further, reports campaigns for funds for new buildings and for clearing off building indebtedness aggregating over $14,000,000. "It is a striking fact," Dr. Mott adds, "that in spite of all criticism and other handicaps, the associations today are raising sums which before the war would have seemed absolutely impossible."

The latest "impossibility" is $3,000,000 subscribed by St. Louis citizens for a city-wide Y. M. C. A. development programme.

Most of the Y. M. C. A. work in many of the countries of Europe is an outgrowth of wartime activities. In some places the association work has been entirely transferred to national control, American secretaries acting largely in an advisory capacity. In foreign countries outside of Europe and the Near East, the 384 associations directly related to the American movement have a total membership of 125,000.

"The various local boards and national committees in many of these foreign

Westclox

The time in your pocket, $2.00

WITH careful treatment Pocket Ben should last you several years. But suppose you bought one every year. That is $2.00 a year to have the time in your pocket. Four cents a week at the most for timekeeping service. If it saved you eight hours a year it would pay for itself and you would have its service free in addition.

The man with a dependable watch in his pocket can use his time to the best advantage. He saves hurry, worry and waste time spent in waiting.

Pocket Ben wears the trade mark Westclox on its dial. That is the mark of a good timekeeper. And it costs but $2.00.

WESTERN CLOCK CO., Limited, PETERBOROUGH, ONT.

Big Ben $4.50, Baby Ben $2.50, America $3.00, Sleep-More $3.00, Jack's Lantern $2.00, Pocket Ben $2.00, Clip-Ben $1.00.

lands," says Dr. Mott, "have achieved such strength that it may be truthfully said that the early vision which commanded us when we entered upon the foreign work, that of developing autonomous, independent, self-supporting movements, is fast being realized."

WHAT'S IN ONE NAME. (Philadelphia Inquirer.)

The name Ulick, to be given the second son of Princess Mary and Viscount Lascelles, will appear strange to those unfamiliar with Celtic names and traditions, but it has been a rather favored Christian name in Ireland and parts of England for many years. There is nothing to indicate that it is a family name of the Lascelles, and certainly has not been borne by royalty for many centuries, and then the form would have been hardly recognizable.

Ulick is a strange combination of an old Saxon and Danish name which marks the invasion of the British Isles by those hardy races in ancient times. Some say also that it bears a relation to the heroic name Ulysses. It has been traced, however, to the Teutonic word for thought or mind, whence comes the name Hugh and its variations. And that name, by the way, is given a classic relation to the Latin name Augustus. Ulick is the combination of the Teutonic words for thought or mind and for reward or sport. It might properly be spelled Huguleik, and there was a Hygelac, sea king of the Geats and a figure in the ancient poem of Beowulf. Huguleik was recorded as an ancient Frankish chronicle. The Danes called it Haullek, and the development of Ulick from that is clear.

The first patent issued to a woman in the United States was in 1809 for a process of weaving straw hats with silk.

marks the invasion of the British Isles by those hardy races in ancient times. Some say also that it bears a relation to the heroic name Ulysses. It has been traced, however, to the Teutonic word for thought or mind, whence comes the name Hugh and its variations. And that name, by the way, is given a classic relation to the Latin name Augustus. Ulick is the combination of the Teutonic words for thought or mind and for reward or sport. It might properly be spelled Huguleik, and there was a Hygelac, sea king of the Geats and a figure in the ancient poem of Beowulf. Huguleik was recorded as an ancient Frankish chronicle. The Danes called it Haullek, and the development of Ulick from that is clear.

Ulick is a strange combination of an old Saxon and Danish name which marks the invasion of the British Isles by those hardy races in ancient times. Some say also that it bears a relation to the heroic name Ulysses. It has been traced, however, to the Teutonic word for thought or mind, whence comes the name Hugh and its variations. And that name, by the way, is given a classic relation to the Latin name Augustus. Ulick is the combination of the Teutonic words for thought or mind and for reward or sport. It might properly be spelled Huguleik, and there was a Hygelac, sea king of the Geats and a figure in the ancient poem of Beowulf. Huguleik was recorded as an ancient Frankish chronicle. The Danes called it Haullek, and the development of Ulick from that is clear.

Ulick is a strange combination of an old Saxon and Danish name which marks the invasion of the British Isles by those hardy races in ancient times. Some say also that it bears a relation to the heroic name Ulysses. It has been traced, however, to the Teutonic word for thought or mind, whence comes the name Hugh and its variations. And that name, by the way, is given a classic relation to the Latin name Augustus. Ulick is the combination of the Teutonic words for thought or mind and for reward or sport. It might properly be spelled Huguleik, and there was a Hygelac, sea king of the Geats and a figure in the ancient poem of Beowulf. Huguleik was recorded as an ancient Frankish chronicle. The Danes called it Haullek, and the development of Ulick from that is clear.

Ulick is a strange combination of an old Saxon and Danish name which marks the invasion of the British Isles by those hardy races in ancient times. Some say also that it bears a relation to the heroic name Ulysses. It has been traced, however, to the Teutonic word for thought or mind, whence comes the name Hugh and its variations. And that name, by the way, is given a classic relation to the Latin name Augustus. Ulick is the combination of the Teutonic words for thought or mind and for reward or sport. It might properly be spelled Huguleik, and there was a Hygelac, sea king of the Geats and a figure in the ancient poem of Beowulf. Huguleik was recorded as an ancient Frankish chronicle. The Danes called it Haullek, and the development of Ulick from that is clear.

Ulick is a strange combination of an old Saxon and Danish name which marks the invasion of the British Isles by those hardy races in ancient times. Some say also that it bears a relation to the heroic name Ulysses. It has been traced, however, to the Teutonic word for thought or mind, whence comes the name Hugh and its variations. And that name, by the way, is given a classic relation to the Latin name Augustus. Ulick is the combination of the Teutonic words for thought or mind and for reward or sport. It might properly be spelled Huguleik, and there was a Hygelac, sea king of the Geats and a figure in the ancient poem of Beowulf. Huguleik was recorded as an ancient Frankish chronicle. The Danes called it Haullek, and the development of Ulick from that is clear.

Ulick is a strange combination of an old Saxon and Danish name which marks the invasion of the British Isles by those hardy races in ancient times. Some say also that it bears a relation to the heroic name Ulysses. It has been traced, however, to the Teutonic word for thought or mind, whence comes the name Hugh and its variations. And that name, by the way, is given a classic relation to the Latin name Augustus. Ulick is the combination of the Teutonic words for thought or mind and for reward or sport. It might properly be spelled Huguleik, and there was a Hygelac, sea king of the Geats and a figure in the ancient poem of Beowulf. Huguleik was recorded as an ancient Frankish chronicle. The Danes called it Haullek, and the development of Ulick from that is clear.

Ulick is a strange combination of an old Saxon and Danish name which marks the invasion of the British Isles by those hardy races in ancient times. Some say also that it bears a relation to the heroic name Ulysses. It has been traced, however, to the Teutonic word for thought or mind, whence comes the name Hugh and its variations. And that name, by the way, is given a classic relation to the Latin name Augustus. Ulick is the combination of the Teutonic words for thought or mind and for reward or sport. It might properly be spelled Huguleik, and there was a Hygelac, sea king of the Geats and a figure in the ancient poem of Beowulf. Huguleik was recorded as an ancient Frankish chronicle. The Danes called it Haullek, and the development of Ulick from that is clear.

Ulick is a strange combination of an old Saxon and Danish name which marks the invasion of the British Isles by those hardy races in ancient times. Some say also that it bears a relation to the heroic name Ulysses. It has been traced, however, to the Teutonic word for thought or mind, whence comes the name Hugh and its variations. And that name, by the way, is given a classic relation to the Latin name Augustus. Ulick is the combination of the Teutonic words for thought or mind and for reward or sport. It might properly be spelled Huguleik, and there was a Hygelac, sea king of the Geats and a figure in the ancient poem of Beowulf. Huguleik was recorded as an ancient Frankish chronicle. The Danes called it Haullek, and the development of Ulick from that is clear.

Ulick is a strange combination of an old Saxon and Danish name which marks the invasion of the British Isles by those hardy races in ancient times. Some say also that it bears a relation to the heroic name Ulysses. It has been traced, however, to the Teutonic word for thought or mind, whence comes the name Hugh and its variations. And that name, by the way, is given a classic relation to the Latin name Augustus. Ulick is the combination of the Teutonic words for thought or mind and for reward or sport. It might properly be spelled Huguleik, and there was a Hygelac, sea king of the Geats and a figure in the ancient poem of Beowulf. Huguleik was recorded as an ancient Frankish chronicle. The Danes called it Haullek, and the development of Ulick from that is clear.

Ulick is a strange combination of an old Saxon and Danish name which marks the invasion of the British Isles by those hardy races in ancient times. Some say also that it bears a relation to the heroic name Ulysses. It has been traced, however, to the Teutonic word for thought or mind, whence comes the name Hugh and its variations. And that name, by the way, is given a classic relation to the Latin name Augustus. Ulick is the combination of the Teutonic words for thought or mind and for reward or sport. It might properly be spelled Huguleik, and there was a Hygelac, sea king of the Geats and a figure in the ancient poem of Beowulf. Huguleik was recorded as an ancient Frankish chronicle. The Danes called it Haullek, and the development of Ulick from that is clear.

Ulick is a strange combination of an old Saxon and Danish name which marks the invasion of the British Isles by those hardy races in ancient times. Some say also that it bears a relation to the heroic name Ulysses. It has been traced, however, to the Teutonic word for thought or mind, whence comes the name Hugh and its variations. And that name, by the way, is given a classic relation to the Latin name Augustus. Ulick is the combination of the Teutonic words for thought or mind and for reward or sport. It might properly be spelled Huguleik, and there was a Hygelac, sea king of the Geats and a figure in the ancient poem of Beowulf. Huguleik was recorded as an ancient Frankish chronicle. The Danes called it Haullek, and the development of Ulick from that is clear.

Ulick is a strange combination of an old Saxon and Danish name which marks the invasion of the British Isles by those hardy races in ancient times. Some say also that it bears a relation to the heroic name Ulysses. It has been traced, however, to the Teutonic word for thought or mind, whence comes the name Hugh and its variations. And that name, by the way, is given a classic relation to the Latin name Augustus. Ulick is the combination of the Teutonic words for thought or mind and for reward or sport. It might properly be spelled Huguleik, and there was a Hygelac, sea king of the Geats and a figure in the ancient poem of Beowulf. Huguleik was recorded as an ancient Frankish chronicle. The Danes called it Haullek, and the development of Ulick from that is clear.

Ulick is a strange combination of an old Saxon and Danish name which marks the invasion of the British Isles by those hardy races in ancient times. Some say also that it bears a relation to the heroic name Ulysses. It has been traced, however, to the Teutonic word for thought or mind, whence comes the name Hugh and its variations. And that name, by the way, is given a classic relation to the Latin name Augustus. Ulick is the combination of the Teutonic words for thought or mind and for reward or sport. It might properly be spelled Huguleik, and there was a Hygelac, sea king of the Geats and a figure in the ancient poem of Beowulf. Huguleik was recorded as an ancient Frankish chronicle. The Danes called it Haullek, and the development of Ulick from that is clear.

Ulick is a strange combination of an old Saxon and Danish name which marks the invasion of the British Isles by those hardy races in ancient times. Some say also that it bears a relation to the heroic name Ulysses. It has been traced, however, to the Teutonic word for thought or mind, whence comes the name Hugh and its variations. And that name, by the way, is given a classic relation to the Latin name Augustus. Ulick is the combination of the Teutonic words for thought or mind and for reward or sport. It might properly be spelled Huguleik, and there was a Hygelac, sea king of the Geats and a figure in the ancient poem of Beowulf. Huguleik was recorded as an ancient Frankish chronicle. The Danes called it Haullek, and the development of Ulick from that is clear.

Ulick is a strange combination of an old Saxon and Danish name which marks the invasion of the British Isles by those hardy races in ancient times. Some say also that it bears a relation to the heroic name Ulysses. It has been traced, however, to the Teutonic word for thought or mind, whence comes the name Hugh and its variations. And that name, by the way, is given a classic relation to the Latin name Augustus. Ulick is the combination of the Teutonic words for thought or mind and for reward or sport. It might properly be spelled Huguleik, and there was a Hygelac, sea king of the Geats and a figure in the ancient poem of Beowulf. Huguleik was recorded as an ancient Frankish chronicle. The Danes called it Haullek, and the development of Ulick from that is clear.

Ulick is a strange combination of an old Saxon and Danish name which marks the invasion of the British Isles by those hardy races in ancient times. Some say also that it bears a relation to the heroic name Ulysses. It has been traced, however, to the Teutonic word for thought or mind, whence comes the name Hugh and its variations. And that name, by the way, is given a classic relation to the Latin name Augustus. Ulick is the combination of the Teutonic words for thought or mind and for reward or sport. It might properly be spelled Huguleik, and there was a Hygelac, sea king of the Geats and a figure in the ancient poem of Beowulf. Huguleik was recorded as an ancient Frankish chronicle. The Danes called it Haullek, and the development of Ulick from that is clear.

Ulick is a strange combination of an old Saxon and Danish name which marks the invasion of the British Isles by those hardy races in ancient times. Some say also that it bears a relation to the heroic name Ulysses. It has been traced, however, to the Teutonic word for thought or mind, whence comes the name Hugh and its variations. And that name, by the way, is given a classic relation to the Latin name Augustus. Ulick is the combination of the Teutonic words for thought or mind and for reward or sport. It might properly be spelled Huguleik, and there was a Hygelac, sea king of the Geats and a figure in the ancient poem of Beowulf. Huguleik was recorded as an ancient Frankish chronicle. The Danes called it Haullek, and the development of Ulick from that is clear.

Ulick is a strange combination of an old Saxon and Danish name which marks the invasion of the British Isles by those hardy races in ancient times. Some say also that it bears a relation to the heroic name Ulysses. It has been traced, however, to the Teutonic word for thought or mind, whence comes the name Hugh and its variations. And that name, by the way, is given a classic relation to the Latin name Augustus. Ulick is the combination of the Teutonic words for thought or mind and for reward or sport. It might properly be spelled Huguleik, and there was a Hygelac, sea king of the Geats and a figure in the ancient poem of Beowulf. Huguleik was recorded as an ancient Frankish chronicle. The Danes called it Haullek, and the development of Ulick from that is clear.

Ulick is a strange combination of an old Saxon and Danish name which marks the invasion of the British Isles by those hardy races in ancient times. Some say also that it bears a relation to the heroic name Ulysses. It has been traced, however, to the Teutonic word for thought or mind, whence comes the name Hugh and its variations. And that name, by the way, is given a classic relation to the Latin name Augustus. Ulick is the combination of the Teutonic words for thought or mind and for reward or sport. It might properly be spelled Huguleik, and there was a Hygelac, sea king of the Geats and a figure in the ancient poem of Beowulf. Huguleik was recorded as an ancient Frankish chronicle. The Danes called it Haullek, and the development of Ulick from that is clear.

Ulick is a strange combination of an old Saxon and Danish name which marks the invasion of the British Isles by those hardy races in ancient times. Some say also that it bears a relation to the heroic name Ulysses. It has been traced, however, to the Teutonic word for thought or mind, whence comes the name Hugh and its variations. And that name, by the way, is given a classic relation to the Latin name Augustus. Ulick is the combination of the Teutonic words for thought or mind and for reward or sport. It might properly be spelled Huguleik, and there was a Hygelac, sea king of the Geats and a figure in the ancient poem of Beowulf. Huguleik was recorded as an ancient Frankish chronicle. The Danes called it Haullek, and the development of Ulick from that is clear.

Ulick is a strange combination of an old Saxon and Danish name which marks the invasion of the British Isles by those hardy races in ancient times. Some say also that it bears a relation to the heroic name Ulysses. It has been traced, however, to the Teutonic word for thought or mind, whence comes the name Hugh and its variations. And that name, by the way, is given a classic relation to the Latin name Augustus. Ulick is the combination of the Teutonic words for thought or mind and for reward or sport. It might properly be spelled Huguleik, and there was a Hygelac, sea king of the Geats and a figure in the ancient poem of Beowulf. Huguleik was recorded as an ancient Frankish chronicle. The Danes called it Haullek, and the development of Ulick from that is clear.

Ulick is a strange combination of an old Saxon and Danish name which marks the invasion of the British Isles by those hardy races in ancient times. Some say also that it bears a relation to the heroic name Ulysses. It has been traced, however, to the Teutonic word for thought or mind, whence comes the name Hugh and its variations. And that name, by the way, is given a classic relation to the Latin name Augustus. Ulick is the combination of the Teutonic words for thought or mind and for reward or sport. It might properly be spelled Huguleik, and there was a Hygelac, sea king of the Geats and a figure in the ancient poem of Beowulf. Huguleik was recorded as an ancient Frankish chronicle. The Danes called it Haullek, and the development of Ulick from that is clear.

Ulick is a strange combination of an old Saxon and Danish name which marks the invasion of the British Isles by those hardy races in ancient times. Some say also that it bears a relation to the heroic name Ulysses. It has been traced, however, to the Teutonic word for thought or mind, whence comes the name Hugh and its variations. And that name, by the way, is given a classic relation to the Latin name Augustus. Ulick is the combination of the Teutonic words for thought or mind and for reward or sport. It might properly be spelled Huguleik, and there was a Hygelac, sea king of the Geats and a figure in the ancient poem of Beowulf. Huguleik was recorded as an ancient Frankish chronicle. The Danes called it Haullek, and the development of Ulick from that is clear.

Ulick is a strange combination of an old Saxon and Danish name which marks the invasion of the British Isles by those hardy races in ancient times. Some say also that it bears a relation to the heroic name Ulysses. It has been traced, however, to the Teutonic word for thought or mind, whence comes the name Hugh and its variations. And that name, by the way, is given a classic relation to the Latin name Augustus. Ulick is the combination of the Teutonic words for thought or mind and for reward or sport. It might properly be spelled Huguleik, and there was a Hygelac, sea king of the Geats and a figure in the ancient poem of Beowulf. Huguleik was recorded as an ancient Frankish chronicle. The Danes called it Haullek, and the development of Ulick from that is clear.

Century Salt

The zestful flavor, sparkling whiteness and matchless purity of Century Salt result from the superior vacuum process used. You'll find Century Salt excellent for cooking or table use.

THE DOMINION SALT CO. LIMITED
SARNIA, ONTARIO

KRAFT CHEESE

If you've never eaten Kraft Cheese you have a treat in store! No other food so combines delicious flavor with satisfying nourishment. It tempts and gratifies the most jaded appetite of child or grown up—for Kraft is the supreme in cheese. The secret of its quality and flavor is in the blending of properly matured cheese. Your guarantee that you get this aristocrat of all cheese is the Kraft label. Be sure it's on the cheese you buy.

"CHEESE—AND WAYS TO SERVE IT"

Write your name and address on this ad, clip and mail it to us and we will send you this beautiful illustrated recipe book. Address: Kraft-MacLaren Cheese Co. Limited, MONTREAL.

No rind—no waste

KRAFT CHEESE

"CHEESE—AND WAYS TO SERVE IT"

Write your name and address on this ad, clip and mail it to us and we will send you this beautiful illustrated recipe book. Address: Kraft-MacLaren Cheese Co. Limited, MONTREAL.

Rinso

FOR THE FAMILY WASHING

No rubbing—no boiling

Soaking takes the place of rubbing—

JUST by soaking the clothes in the suds of this new soap, dirt is gently loosened and dissolved.

Even the dirt that is ground in at neckbands and cuff-edges yields to a light rubbing with dry Rinso. Not a thread is weakened. The mild Rinso suds work thoroughly through and through the clothes without injury to a single fabric.

Rinso is made by the makers of Lux. For the family wash it is as wonderful as Lux is for fine things.

All grocers and department stores sell Rinso.

LEVER BROTHERS LIMITED, TORONTO

A vigour breakfast in 3 to 5 minutes

QUICK

QUAKER OATS

Quaker