BIG FEATURES AT OPERA HOUSE

Today Your Last Opportunity to See Clever Trick Dogs—New Bill Tuesday One of the Best.

There is still an opportunity to see the week-end bill at the Opera House. Seymour's Happy Family of clever trick dogs have been the talk of the town, and those who have not already seen this offering should do so today. There are four other classy offerings on the bill, including George Wilson, in "Songs and Talk You've Never Heard," Helen Miller, clever xylophone player, Ed and Eva Redding in a class sketch entitled "Dreamville."

The mid-week programme which opens Tuesday has as its feature offering one of America's foremost story-tellers, "That Irishman" Tom Kelly in Irish songs and stories.

Countess Verona is a gypsy, and like most of her race she is a musician at heart. She extracts pleasing music from a strange stringed instrument called the cimbalom.

O'Connor and McCormack are remarkable dancers. Pardo and Archer work in a sketch entitled "Personality," while Bell and Eva appear in a comedy transposition offering.

NOTICE

2,000 Pairs of Old Boots are Wanted—Read Carefully.

A fair proposition to the Public who will go through their shoe closet and help us carry out our plans.

We have five (5) first-class shoemakers in our repair department. We are anxious to give them employment during the winter months. Therefore we offer to every purchaser of a pair of ladies' or men's boots, costing $7 or upwards, $1 cash or a credit note if charged, for the old pair they have on when making the purchase, if worth repairing.

These old shoes we will repair and sell for the cost of repairs to those who need a bargain, or to the purchaser if they so desire, with delivery during winter. This will enable us to retain our workmen and give needy ones an opportunity to buy good boots cheap and give you a chance to help them through a hard winter. This offer is good during October and November. Take advantage of this at once at any of our stores.

A PERSONAL AFFAIR (Orphanage Fair Daily Newsletter)

St. John, N. B., Oct. 9, 1921.

To the Protestants of N. B.,
Greetings—
This letter today may not bear your name, but it is intended for you. For three weeks past we have been writing you daily and have so far failed to get satisfactory results. This is to be a big affair and we need your co-operation. If you have not been answering them, we trust you will from now on, not for their literary value, but for the sake of the helpless orphan children in whose interest alone they are written.

Many people turn aside and fail to see the appeal of this kind of just as worthy of their consideration and support as if given by word of mouth. Al- though every Protestant of reasoning age must realize how utterly inadequate our Protestant orphanages are to take care of the children needing institutional care, and that others have been and are still being called on to feed and clothe our homeless children. This is a shameful state of affairs, but nevertheless true. Worse still, one of our local institutions is about to close its doors through lack of support, and the remaining ones are all going behind financially.

The fraternal societies of St. John (ladies and gentlemen) have organized a committee to run a ten day fair from October 17 to 27 in aid of this work. We need all the support that we can secure from all parts of the province. There are few who cannot help a little if they will. Donations of any class or kind acceptable. Perhaps you could get others to join with you in making up a box if too much for you alone. Any river boat will carry it free of charge. Address anything to Jas. E. Arthur, secretary, P. O. Box 12, City.
